Transition Set As 1976 Theme; Village, School History Commemorated

As an introduction to the theme and content of the 1976 TOWER, and in recognition of the Bicentennial spirit of pride in our past, the following pages will trace the development of the Village of Whitefish Bay, and its high school.

Our theme is "transition," and all that is Whitefish Bay fits this theme well. It is a village in many ways unlike the villages that surround it. As students and residents in the Bay, we share certain bonds; one of these is our village's history.

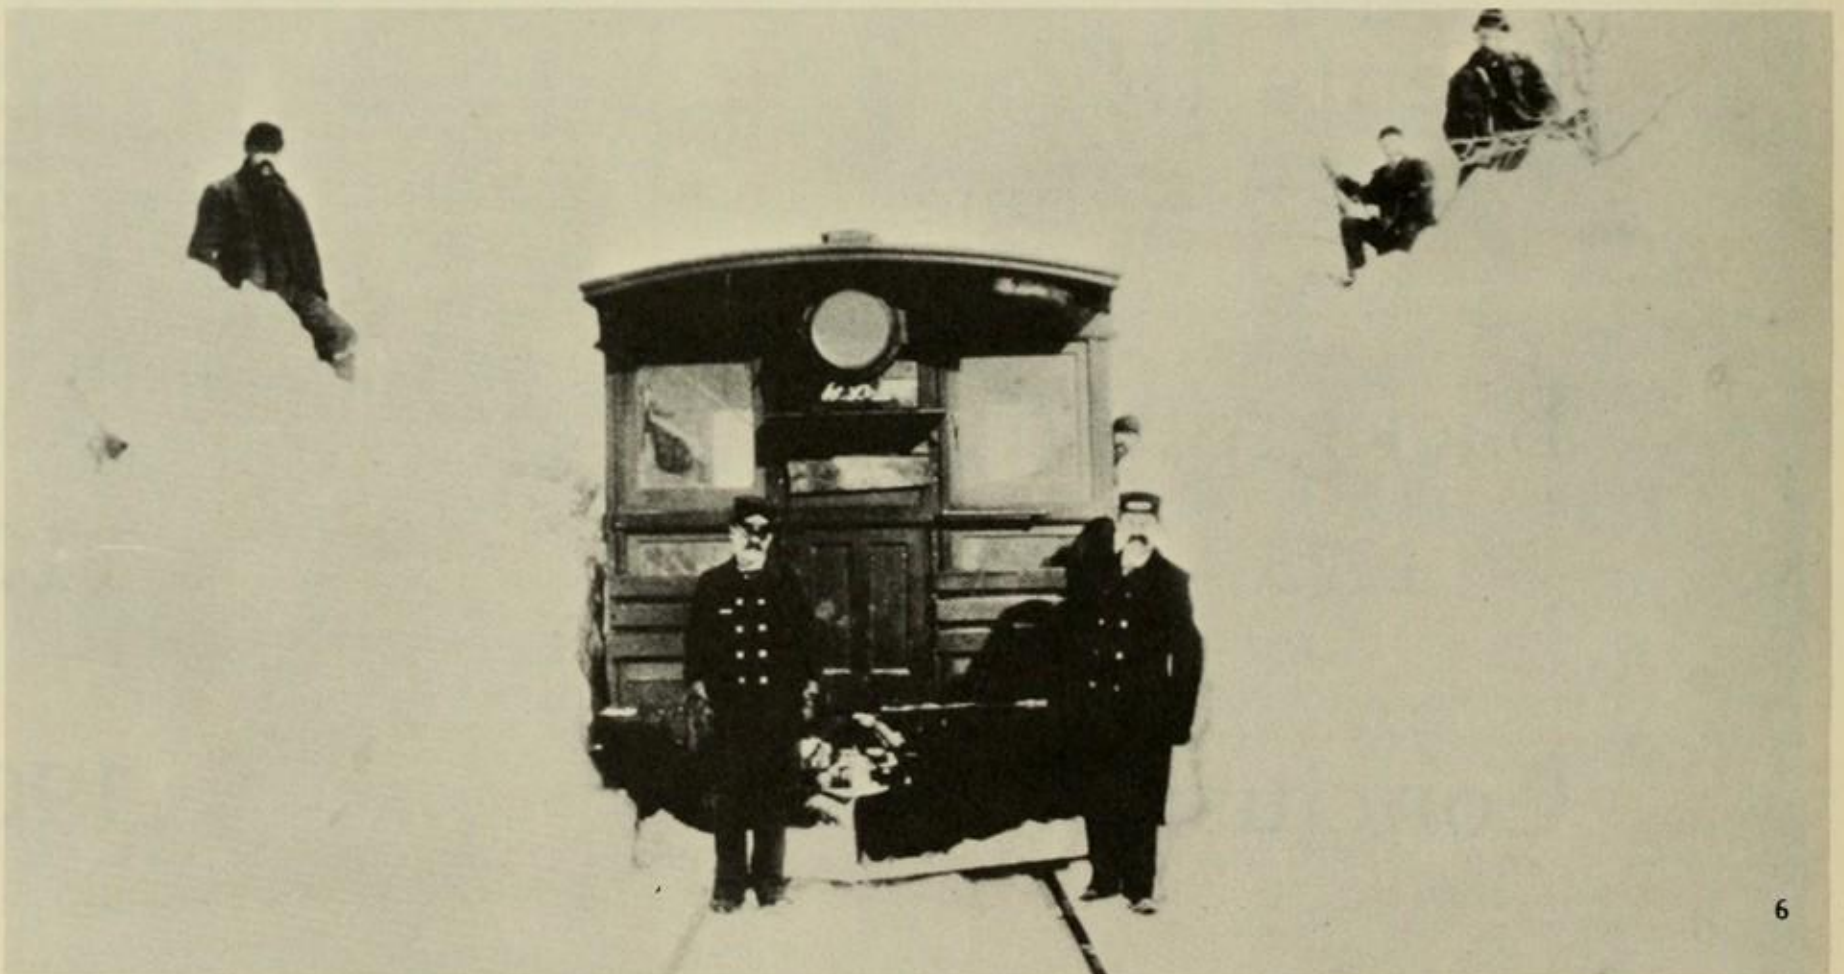

For uncounted centuries, Indians roamed this area. The Sauk trail which began at Wisconsin Ave. and terminated in Green Bay, ran along Cumberland Blvd. and Lake Drive.

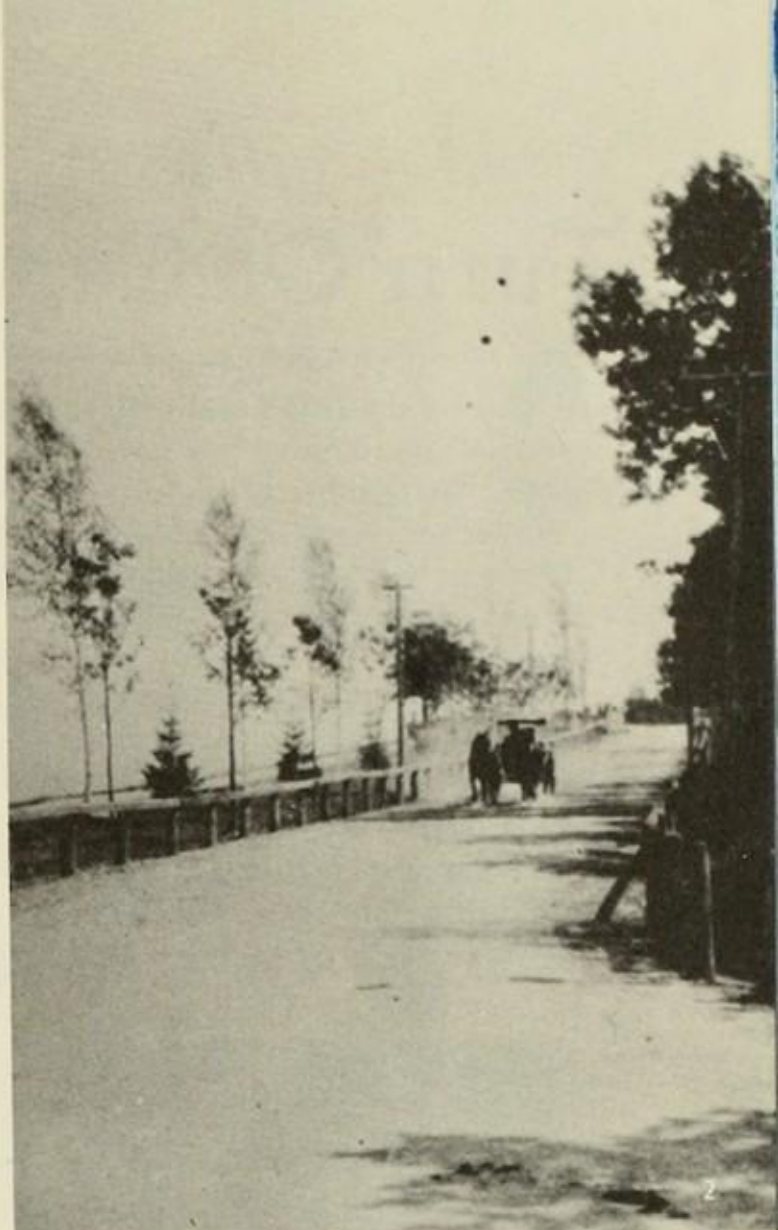

In 1674, The first recorded white man visited: Father Jacques Marquette camped for several days on the shore of Whitefish Bay. About one hundred years later, the Northwest Ordinance assigned this area to the Michigan Territory. Government surveys were completed in 1835, and, in 1842, the first white settler purchased 37 acres in the southwest corner of the village.

For thirty or forty years, Whitefish Bay was a farming and fishing community, with summer homes interspersed.

It was a toll road, and is pictured here circa 1875. 3. & 4. Today, and yesterday — the Rabe farm, now the corner of Hampton and Woodruff. 5. Consaul Place, looking north from Silver Spring. 6. A "dummy line" railroad served the Bay and Milwaukee. It is seen here north of Hampton on Ardmore.

Turn Of Century Brings Resorts, School

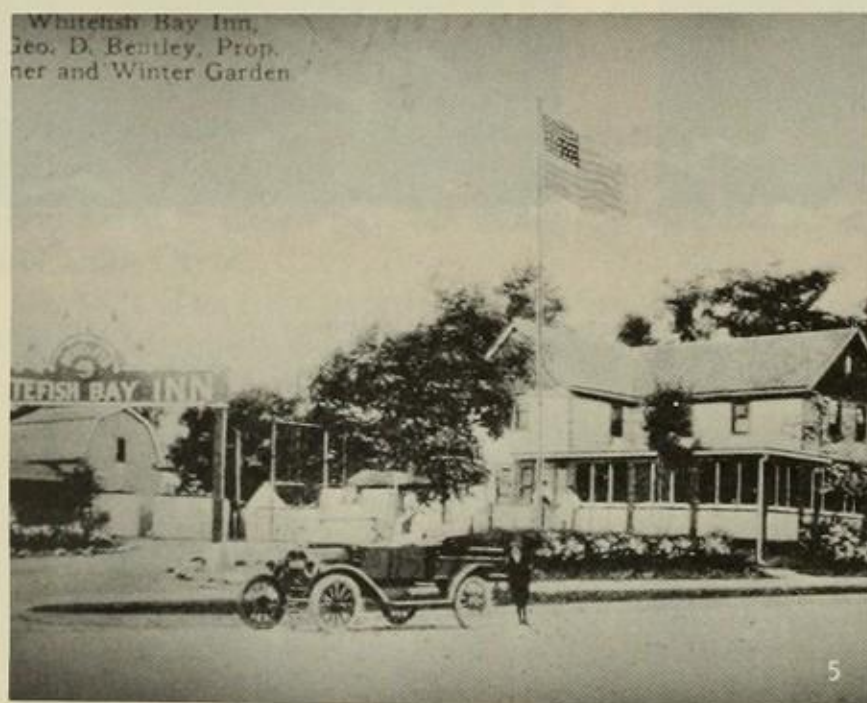

During the 1870's and 1880's, Whitefish Bay changed from a predominately rural community into a resort center. A number of these establishments existed; the Whitefish Bay Pabst Resort was by far the largest. Opened in 1889, the Pabst Resort successfully combined spacious grounds, the state's first Ferris Wheel, and excellent food — their specialty being whitefish — into a very famous and popular spot. Visitors came by private carriage, train, or via the steamship which ran from Milwaukee to Whitefish Bay. With the onset of prohibition, the resort era ended, and the Pabst Resort was demolished in 1917.

During this era, Whitefish Bay was incorporated. After an 1892 census revealed that the Bay had a sufficient population (314 people), the populus voted on whether to form their own village and school district. With a vote of 74 to 14 in favor, the village was officially formed on June 7, 1892, thus becoming the first Milwaukee suburb to incorporate.

The first school was completed that same year. Built at a cost of $12,000, the two story frame structure stood across from the present library. It had four classrooms, which originally served fifty children. By 1918, this number had tripled.

As this population growth reflects, the character of the Bay had changed again. This was the beginning of the residential age.

Last Fifty Years Reflect Refinement

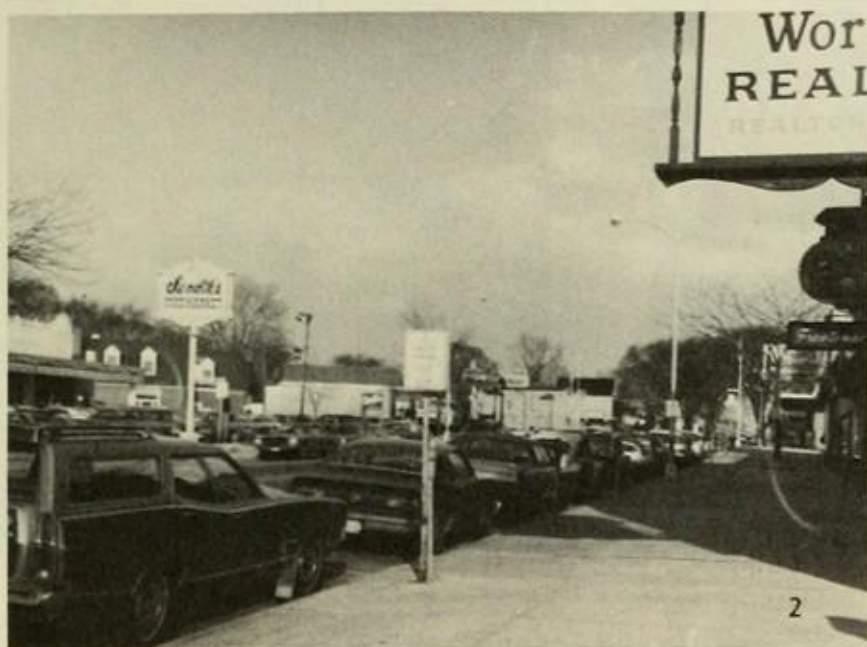

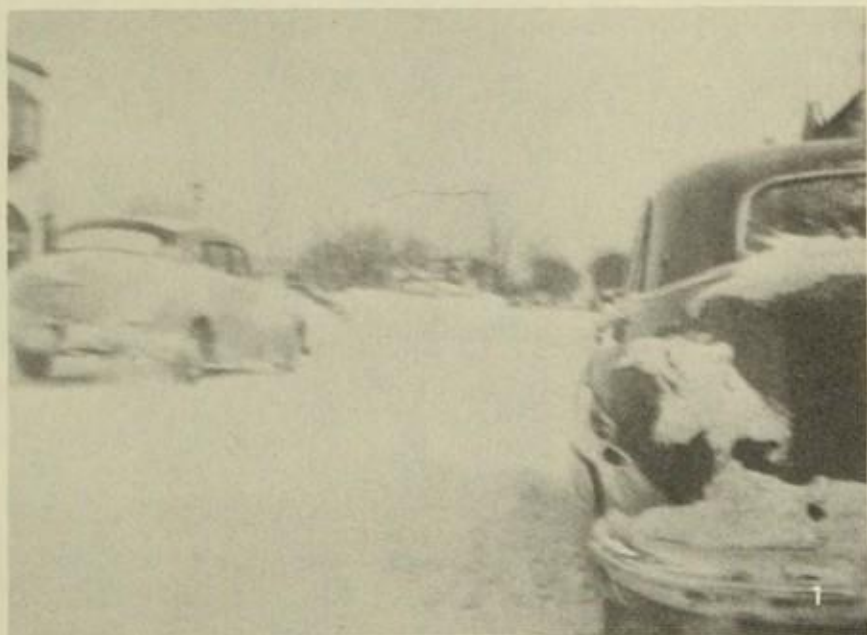

The period from 1920 to the present brought the refinements that made Whitefish Bay what it is today.

The Fleetwood School burned to the ground in 1918, and was replaced within a year by Henry Clay School. The community continued to grow, and by 1927, as another school was needed, Cumberland School was built. Richards School was built one year later, using the same building plans. In 1955, Lydell School was completed.

The village completed work on its second village hall in 1923, replacing the original frame structure which stood at the corner of Lexington and Marlborough. The present hall was dedicated in 1970.

By 1915, water mains carried City of Milwaukee water into Whitefish Bay. In 1963, the Bay joined with Fox Point and Glendale to place into operation their own water supply and treatment plant, which is located in Klode Park. The WFB water tower at the end of Lydell Ave. was completed in 1949.

Almost all public buildings in the Bay are located in a straight line which is approximated by Marlborough Drive. This land was purchased by the village from the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, whose tracks bisected the Bay until 1929.

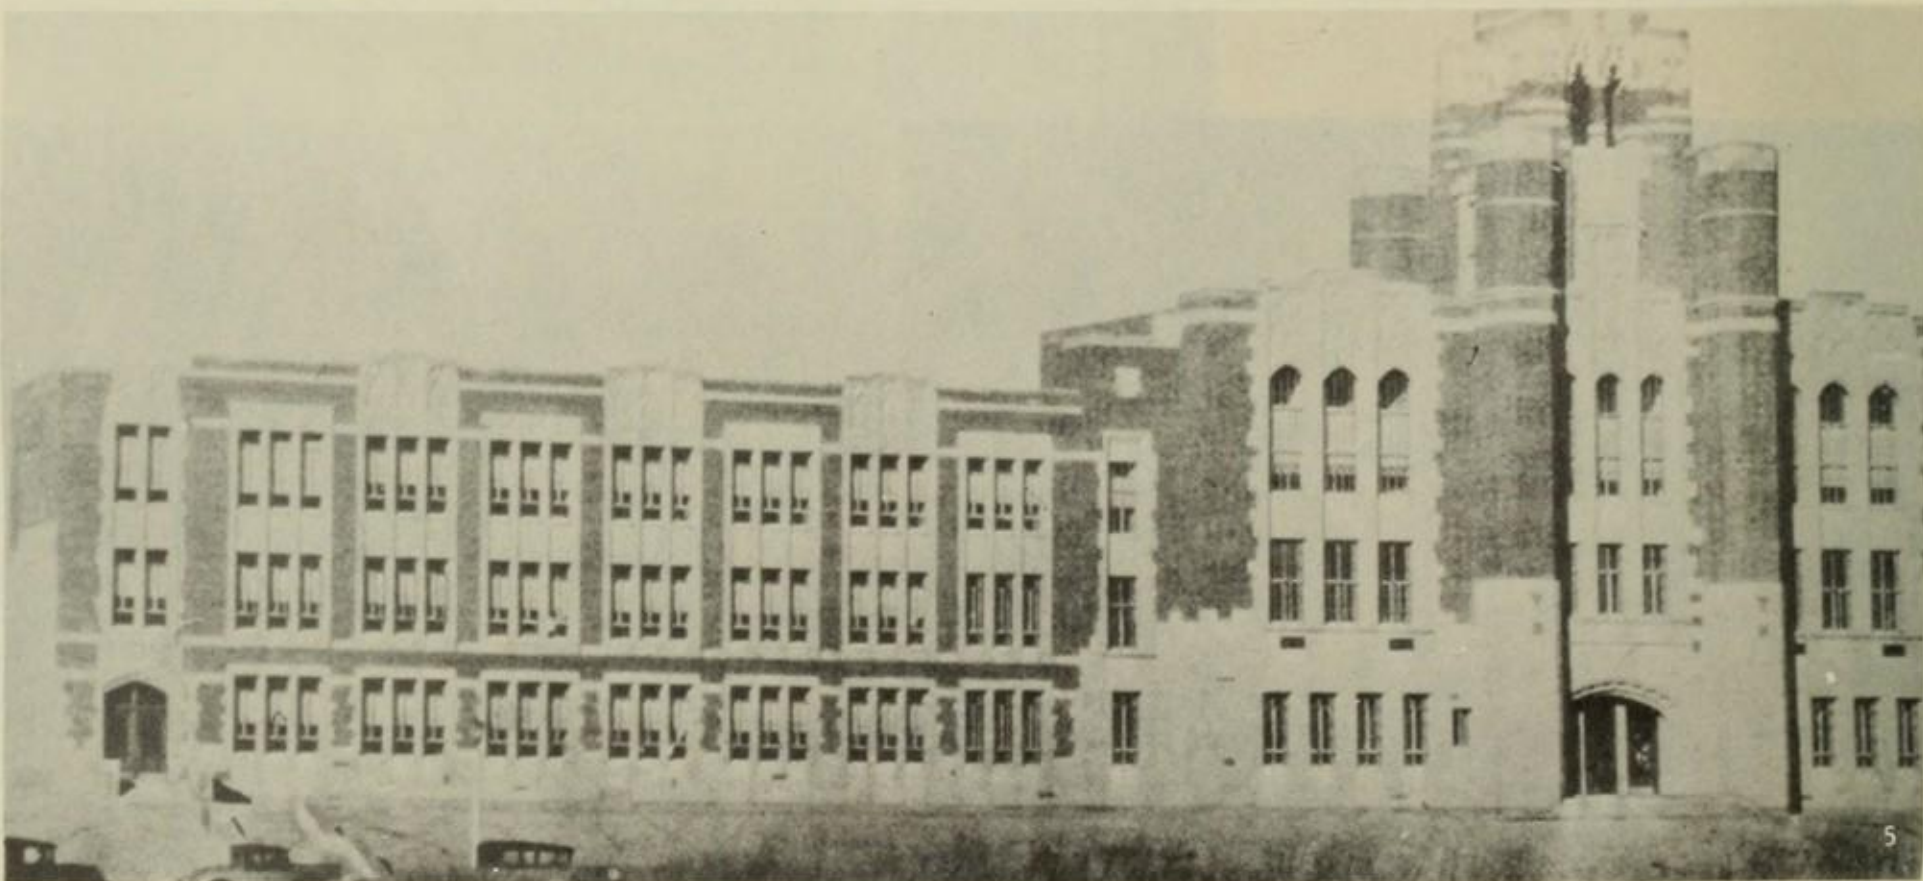

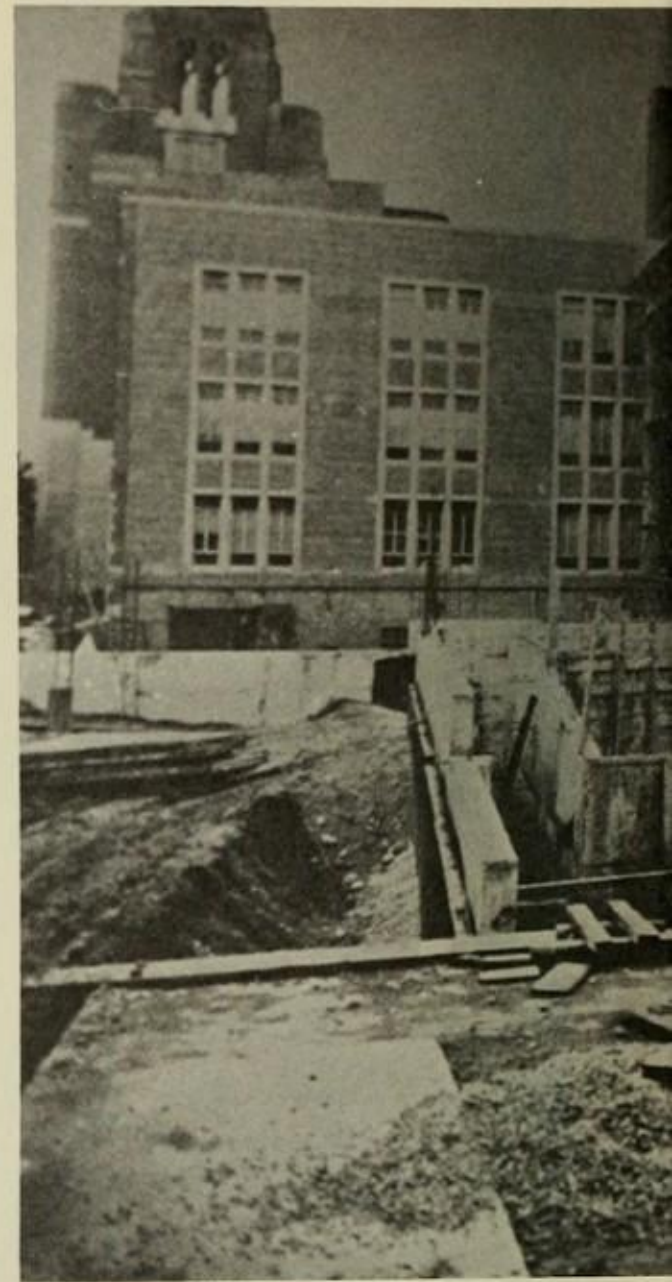

WFBHS Shows Transition Through

Prior to 1927, Bay children wishing high school education attended Milwaukee schools, and from 1927 to 1930, they attended Shorewood High. For the next two years classes were held in Richards School. Whitefish Bay High School was completed in 1932. Since then, three major additions have been made.

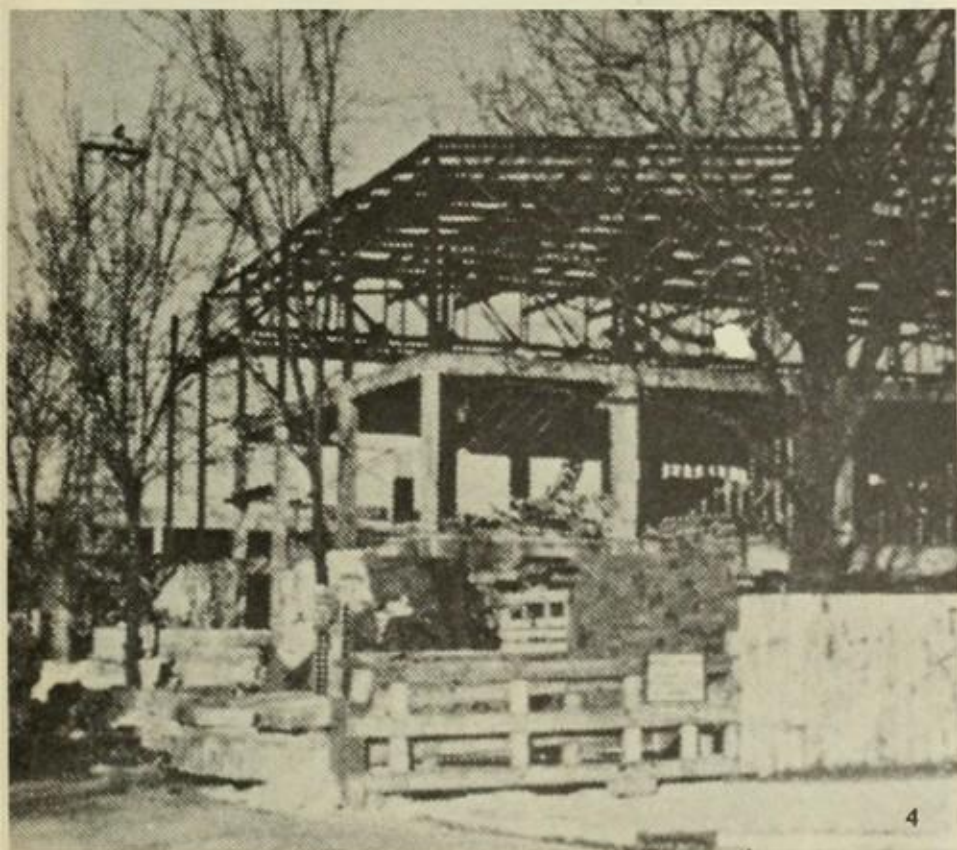

the school and village a much-needed auditorium, but added all the present science and social studies rooms as well as several offices and language, math, and arts rooms. 2. The final addition, providing a complete English wing and fieldhouse-pool-locker room complex, was completed in 1969. 3. Groundbreaking, 1968. 4. The very first addition came in 1949. This structure houses a music wing, two gymnasiums, locker rooms, and the suburban room. 5. A brand-new Whitefish Bay High awaits its first students. 6. "There is no death! What seems so is transition..." — Longfellow

In the preceding pages, the transition from the distant past to the present was examined. It is this retrospection that sets the theme for the 1976 TOWER.

A yearbook's function is two-fold: to record events, and to record historical facts. In recognition of this, the TOWER is divided into two main parts. The Events section will chronologically show the transitions involved with the 1975-1976 school year. The Background section will present the historical facts of the year — who belonged to what, etc.

It is hoped that this new arrangement will help you more comfortably to recall this year. Twenty years hence, look back to 1975-1976, and realize that those days are not dead — there has simply been transition since the 1976 TOWER.

Practice Makes Perfect

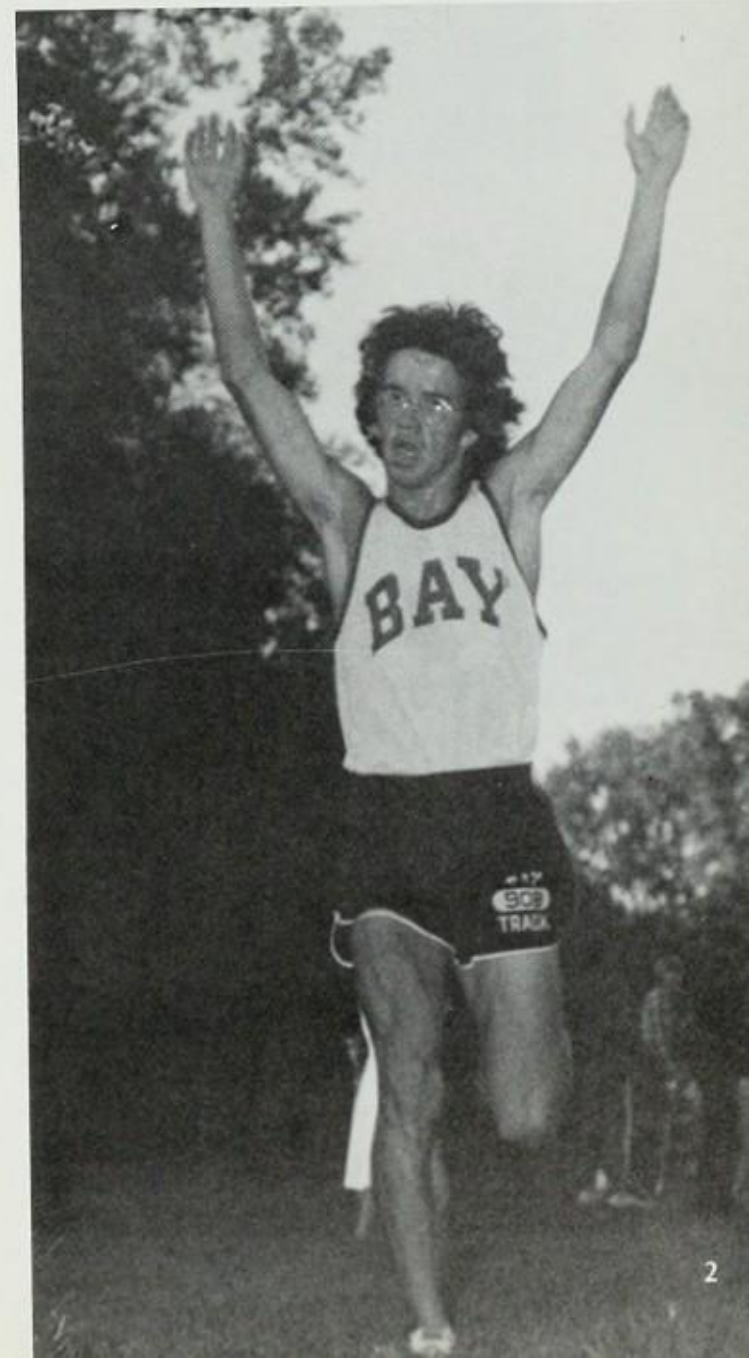

Harriers Run Smoothly On All Three Levels

Nineteen seventy-five proved to be an excellent season for the Cross Country team as they finished with a record of 55-15. As a result of the loss of only one senior member from the previous year, the highly experienced Harriers were able to place second in both the Suburban Conference and regional meets, and ended the season by finishing fifth in the sectional meet.

The J.V. team had an almost identical record, winning 54 and losing 16.

The Frosh also had an excellent season, taking first in four invitations.

1. D. Frazier shows J. Smallins the way. 2. D. Feldman raises his arms in relief upon finishing. 3. C. Leedom leads 'em. 4. "They'll never catch me." 5. Bay runners survey the course.

Dukes Face Injuries As Well As Opponents

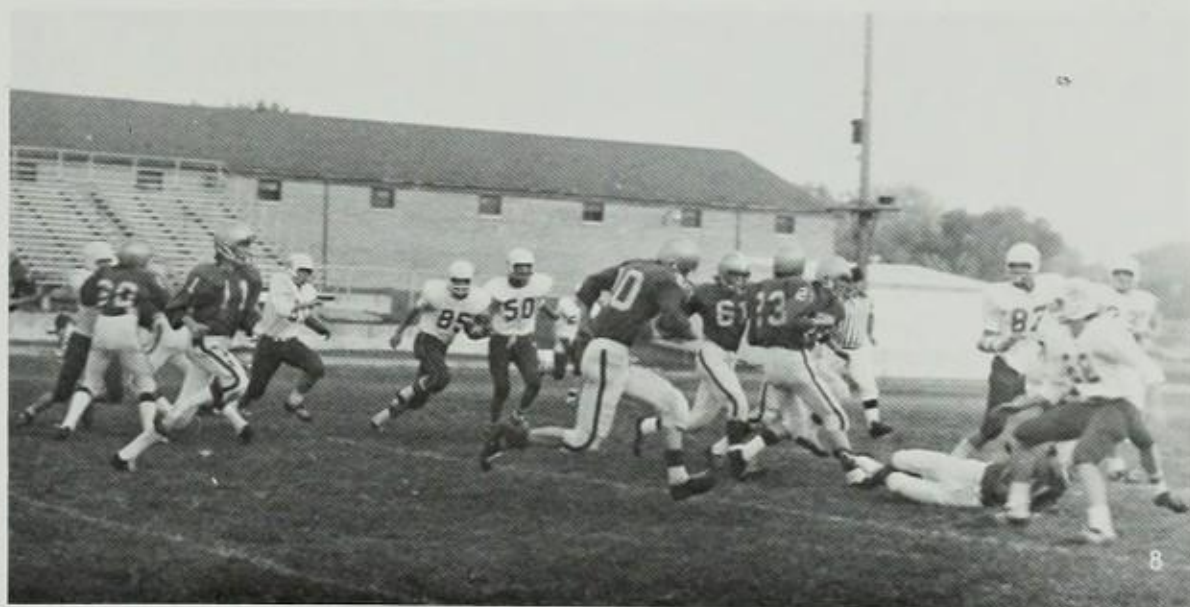

The Suburban Conference football coaches had no idea that the Dukes would be severely handicapped by injuries when they predicted that the Bay Varsity would finish first. The highlight of the year came as Bay shocked league-leading Wauwatosa East, 28-10. Also plagued with "injuries", the lighting system failed midway through the home season. The remaining games were played in the afternoon. In compiling their 4-5 record, Bay went through four quarterbacks, one of whom, Bob Linneman, was named the team's most valuable player. He also earned all-conference, and second team all-state honors as linebacker.

More successful, the Junior Varsity finished with a 6-3 record.

After opening the season with three straight victories, the Frosh suffered an equal number of defeats.

The Freshman and J.V.'s made significant progress on their way to becoming varsity players.

1. Supersub D. Farley quarterback's the team in the Homecoming game. 2. Bay defense stops a Marquette runner cold. 3. Coach Albrightson shouts instructions from the sidelines. 4. J. Moser reacts from the bench. 5. T. Goss grabs a pass from a receiver. 6. S. Hirst holds as J. Moser attempts a field goal. 7. Junior Varsity defense stacks up the line. 8. Freshman B. Jacobson rushes in the open field against South Milwaukee. 9. T. Tietjen, L. Jones, and R. Rinehart clear a path for T. Stuiber's sweep.

Bay Spikers Find Mixed Success

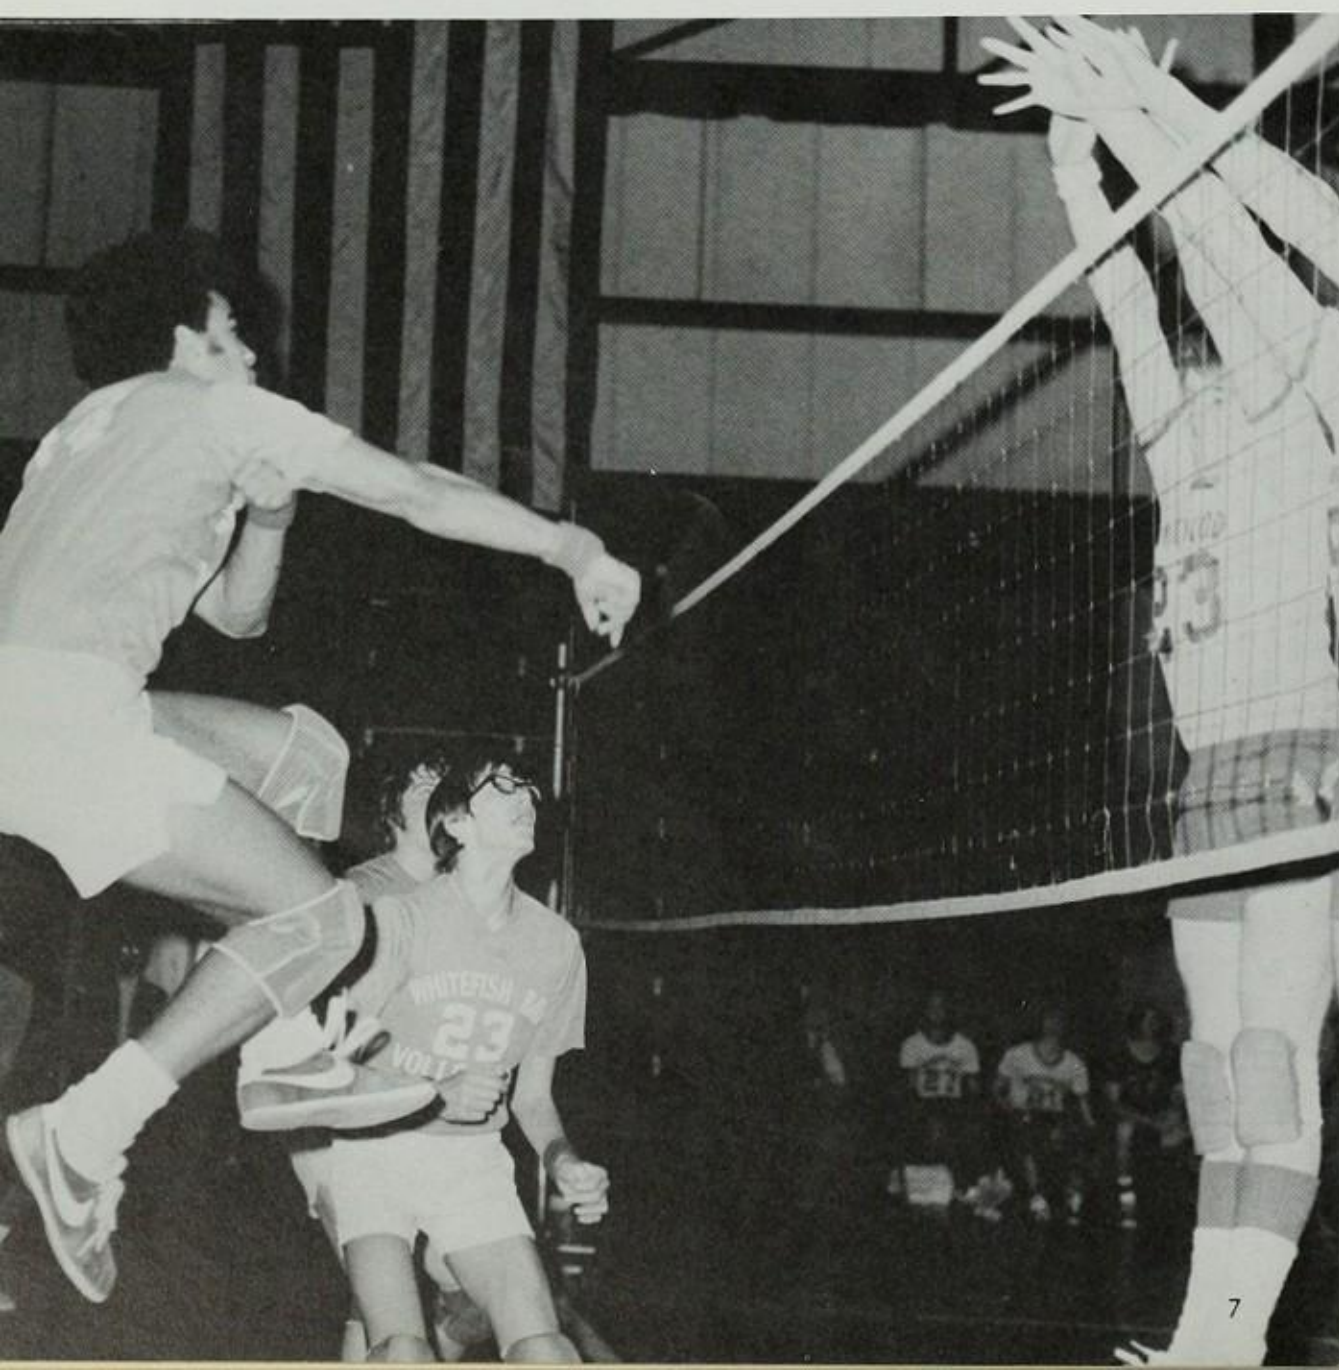

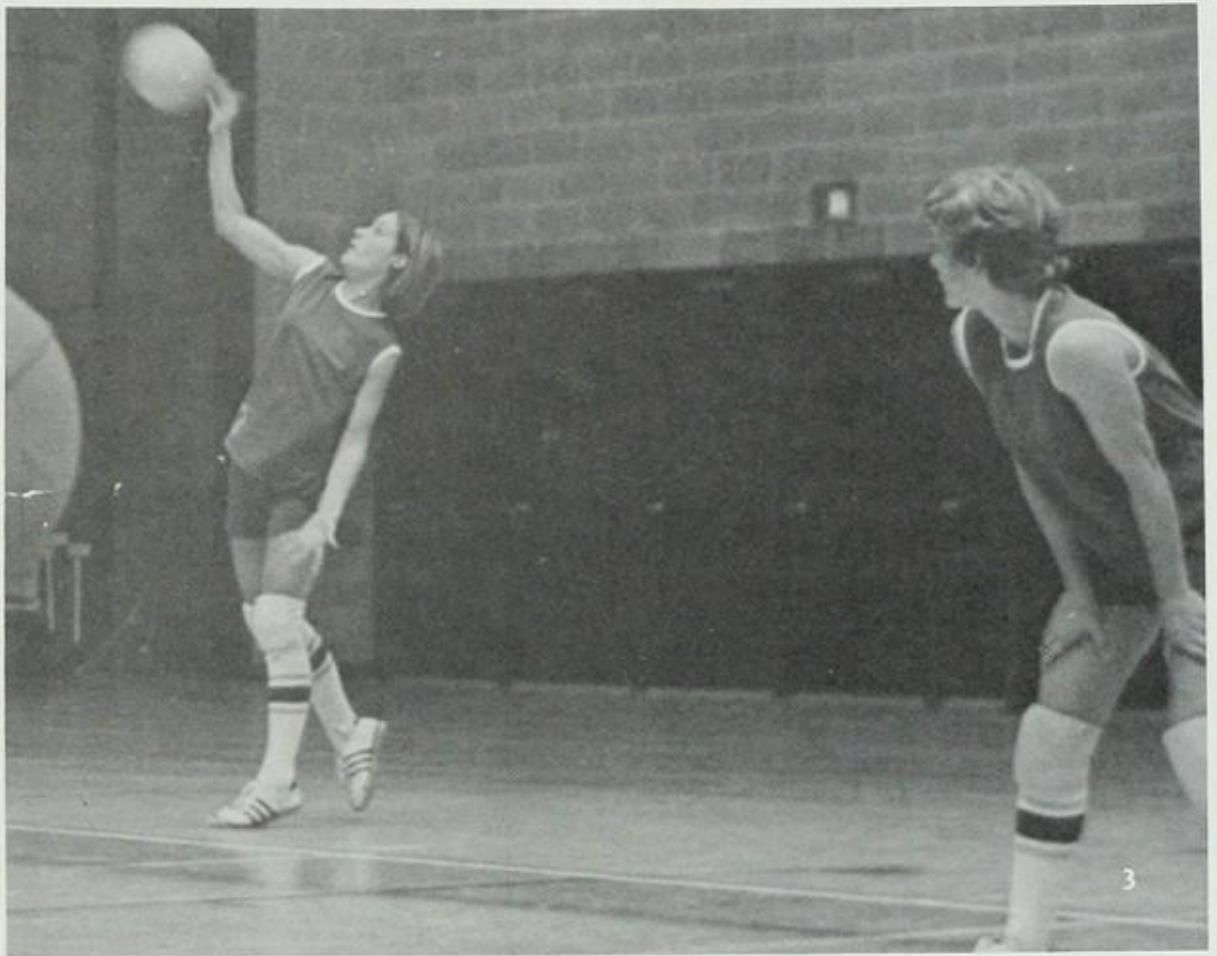

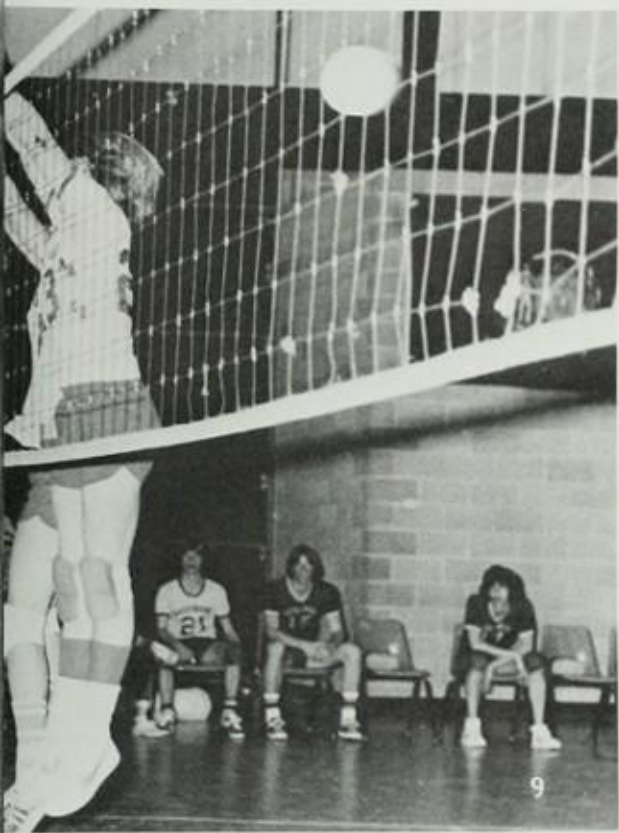

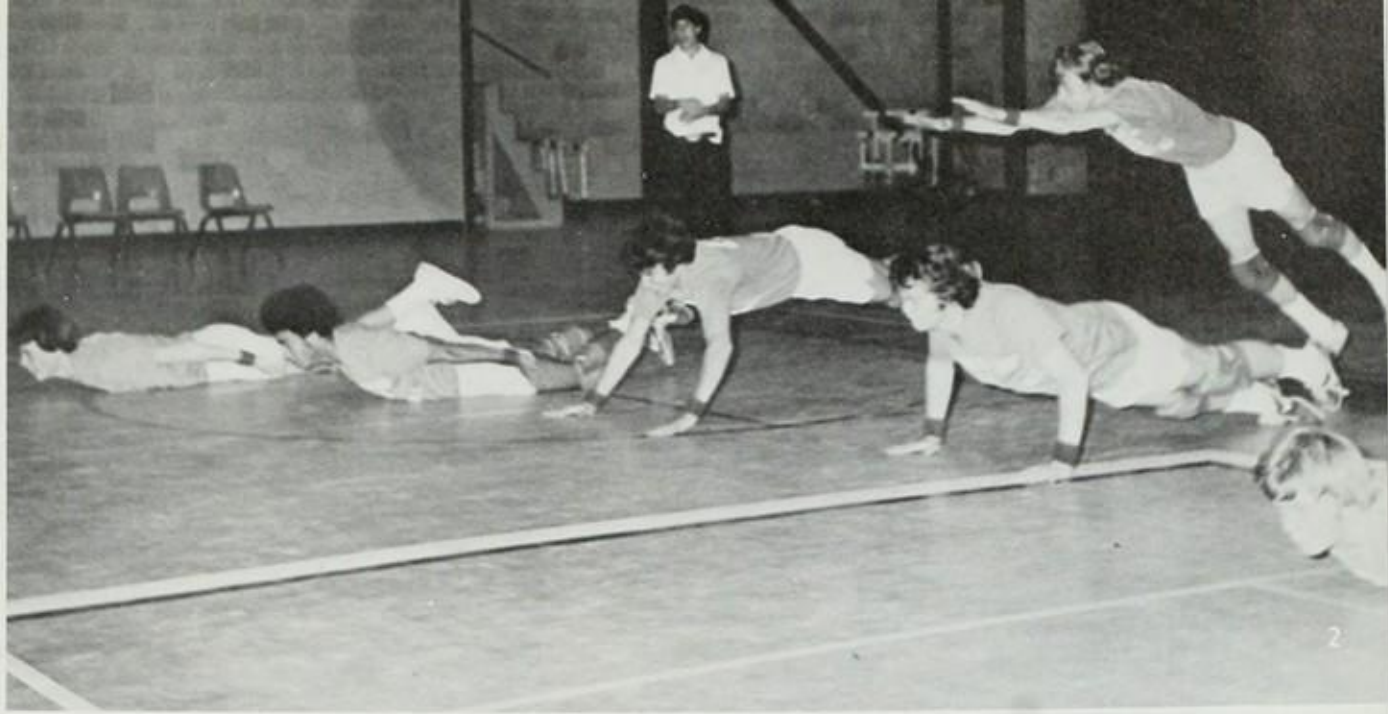

Although the spikers fell short of their pre-season state expectations, the Varsity volleyball team took the Suburban title, winning twenty-six and losing only four, won their regional, and finally placed third in sectionals. Coach De La Pasqua commented: "I was looking forward to the '75-'76 season with optimism. As it progressed, I felt even stronger about the team. Even though we didn't win the state title, I feel we had the best team, beating every team in the state in various tournaments. We finished with 75 wins, only 14 losses. My best record at Bay."

The girls' varsity team ended the year with a 12-18 record, 22-22 overall. The team, comprised of juniors and one senior, tied for second place in the regionals. The JV team finished the season with a 19-16 slate.

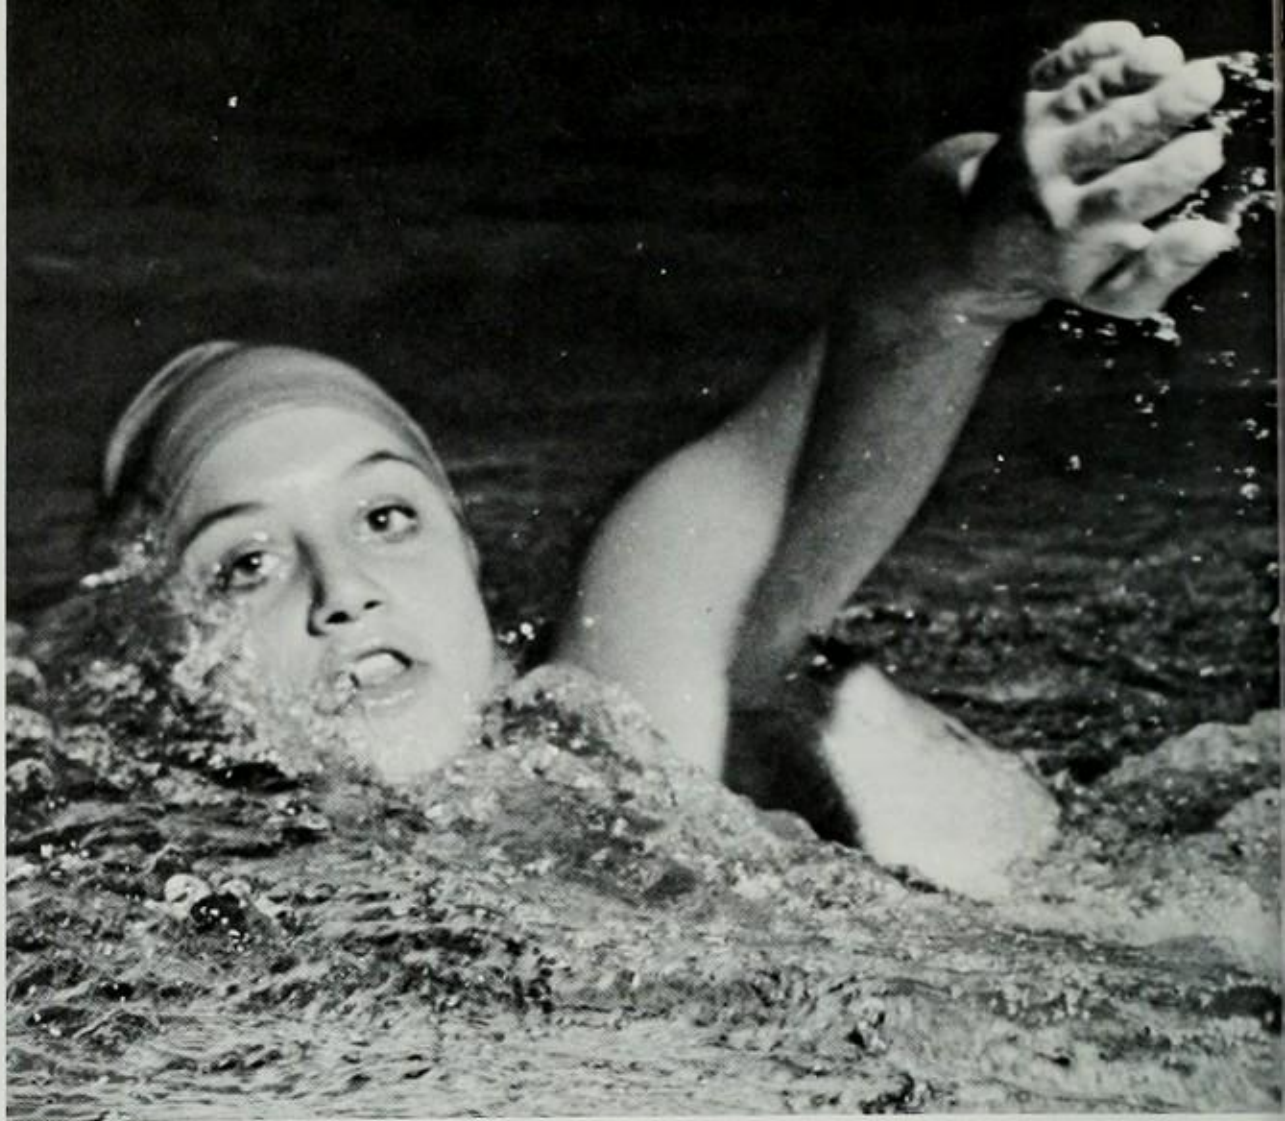

1. S. Shenkenberg watches his teammates acrobatics. 2. Bay Spikers hit the deck before a match. 3. N. Hilrich observes as R. Eschweiler concentrates on meeting the ball. 4. J. Pederson displays her bumping ability as R. Eschweiler looks on. 5. Avoiding the net, P. Heinen watches her shot fall. 6. N. Morken appears to be putting a slight spin on the ball. 7. R. Strawn skies as he spikes one against Shorewood. 8. D. Taylor attempts to place a spike between two opposing players. 9. A successful shot.

Girls Prosper At State

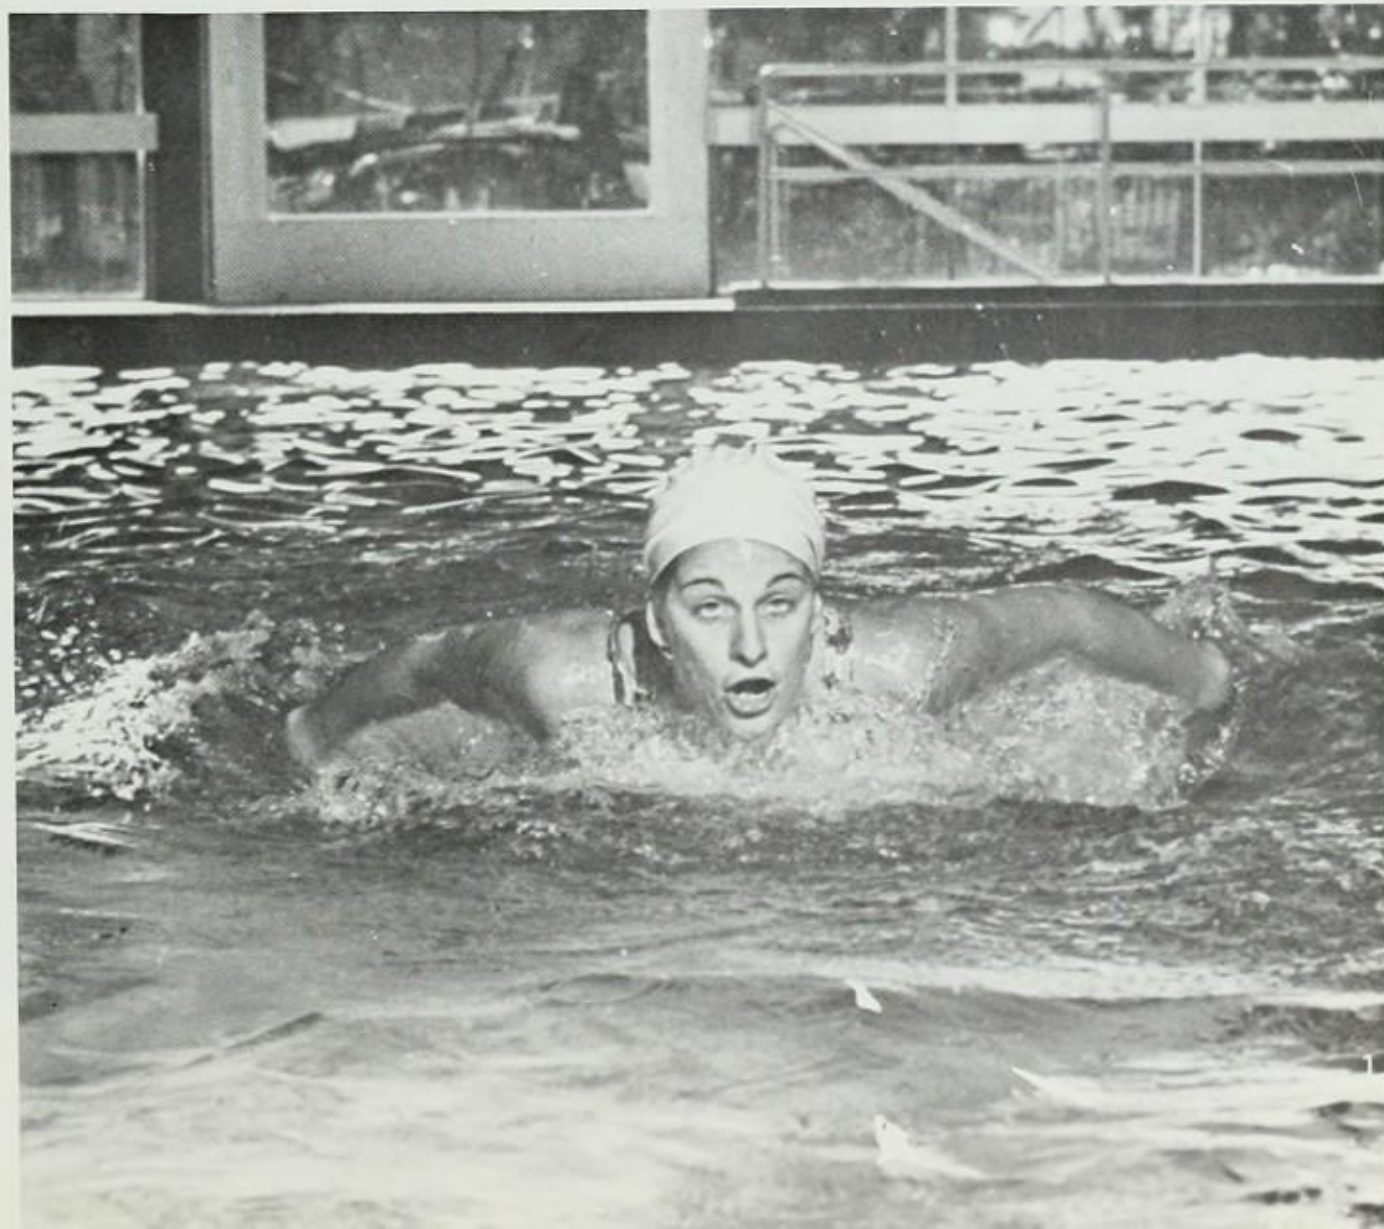

The girls' tennis team and the girls' swimming team both enjoyed successful seasons as they placed highly in their respective state meets.

After winning the Suburban Conference title, the tennis team went on to sweep the regionals and sectionals, launching itself into the state tournament. Finishing there in second place, they ended the season with a record of forty-one wins and four losses.

The swimming season also was fruitful. After completing the regular season as Suburban Conference runnerups, the team went on to take third place in the sectional tournament, thereby qualifying for the state finals. A fourth place finish in Madison climaxed a fine season.

1. M. Banhozer comes up for air. 2. D. Dougherty shows concern as her shot slithers over the net. 3. K. Mann stretches for a shot. 4. M. Olsen looks quite comfortable in the water. 5. K. Moser displays her excellent form. 6. J. Cobb churns up the water, spraying it in all directions.

New Faculty Help in Familiar Places

Every new school year brings new and interesting personnel to Whitefish Bay High School. 1975 was no exception as six new faculty members joined the staff.

Mr. Douglas Gruehn and Miss Mary Paul Kuchsdorf became part of the library in the fall. Mr. Douglas Gruehn, the new head librarian introduced a new policy whereby the library was transformed from a study hall to a research area.

Mrs. Pat Paeschke now serves in the dual role of IMC secretary and para-professional, while at the other end of the building the vacant position in the Clinic was filled by Mrs. Fran Douglas.

The Physical Education Department welcomed the addition of Miss Vicki Ness as part of their staff, and Mr. Jerre Allen became a member of the Math Department.

Perhaps the biggest change of all this year came in the administrative department, when Dr. Kenneth Niemeyer was appointed the new Superintendent of Schools.

1. Mrs. Paeschke works diligently in spite of the photographer. 2. Whitefish Bay faculty meets Dr. Niemeyer at an after school coffee. 3. Miss Kuchsdorf contemplates "Tempting New Tones" while Mr. Gruehn surveys his domain muttering "This is the pits!" 4. Father and son demonstrate a dominant Allen trait — eating. 5. Miss Ness and J. Agner try to save a non-swimmer. 6. Mrs. Douglas comforts a sick patient. 7. Inmates of 334 grin as Mrs. Collignon grants them parole.

Teachers Enjoy All Aspects Of Education

Although teaching requires a lot of time and energy, there are moments when teachers can take time out and relax. This ability has not gone unnoticed by students attending WFB, and is reflected, not only in free hours, but also in the classroom.

This slight but important change in the high school can be observed by the more relaxed approach the teachers have toward subject matter.

1. "Santa Maria!", exclaims Mr. Busalacchi.
 2. Mr. Ahrens takes the cake. 3. Mr. Angelos and his bionic eyes. 4. A breakfast without orange juice is like a day without sunshne.
 5. Mrs. Chalmers and her actors indulge in a bit of comic relief. 6. Whitefish Bay's Johnny Carson waits for a laugh. 7. Long Distance is the next best thing to being there. 8.
 Hey, watch where you're going.

From Whitefish Bay To Anatevka "Fiddler"

With this year's musical production, "Fiddler on the Roof", a long tradition of full attendance was continued. Andrea Pomerance, who played Yente, felt the play was "a great show to work with", and said that "many people worked long hours to produce a good effect."

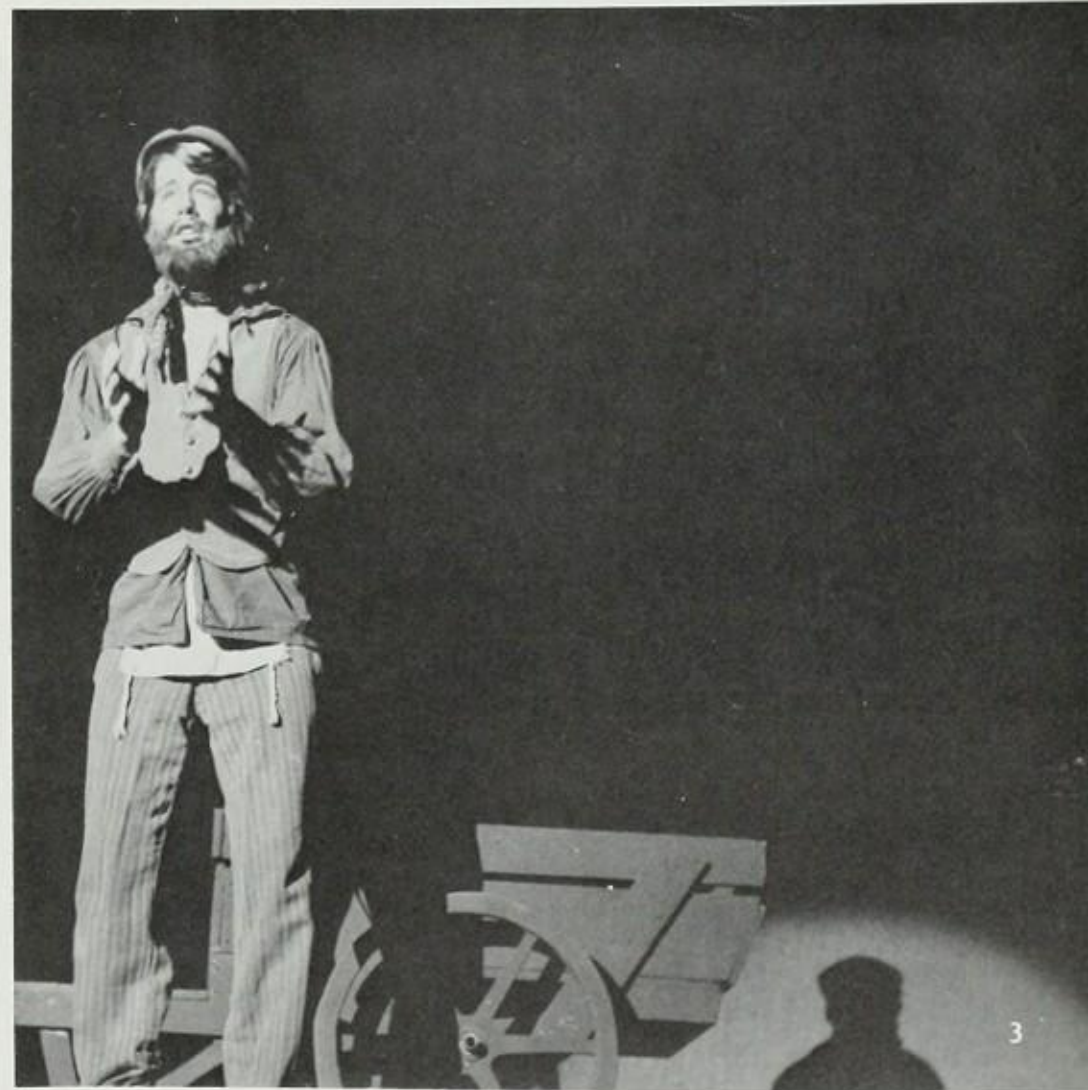

Directed by Mr. Laycock, "Fiddler" made the transition from written word to spoken artistry, from the Whitefish Bay stage to a small town in Russia. As one cast member said, "All the singing, dancing and acting came together."

1. Tevye, C. Carson, greets his daughters. 2. J. Cavan makes up T. Duecker. 3. "On the one hand, ... but on the other hand ..." 4. The entire cast opens up with "Tradition". 5. Yente, M. Holperin, and Golde, A. Pomerance, scheme for a new match. 6. E. Bueno questions his father, the 'bbi.

Cast: C. Carson, A. Pomerance, D. Bisquerra, K. Kessenich, J. Wise, T. Lee, J. Shikora, M. Holperin, K. Hayden, A. Howell, S. Peck, C. Abbott, G. Lewis, T. Duecker, E. Bueno, J. Cavan, J. Faller, E. Weiss, R. Hymen, M. Salomon, F. Bandettini, S. Besag, S. Wallace, E. Stern; Villagers: A. Anderson, B. Bains, M. Borchert, B. Bresee, J. Cobb, A. Daehling, G. Davis, H. Eschweiler, M. Gad, J. Grossman, E. Hahn, N. Hilrich, C. Hinkes, M. Hinkes, M. Kelley, G. Kelm, W. Kestin, B. Kipfmüller, K. Kluge, S. Kurensky, M. Lewis, K. McDonough, L. Miller, S. Paeschke, J. Paull, J. Queener, J. Redford, R. Rellin, A. Ryan, I. Saad, D. Schneider, K. Snider, K. Soldatos, R. Steer, A. Stillman, A. Tall, T. Taxman, A. Thomas, R. Thomas, K. Thomson, J. Van Groll, L. Weber, M. Wilson.

"Some Like It Hot" . . .

"A pair of hard-boiled male musicians disguised as femme-fatales . . . A gang of speakeasy killers hot on their trail . . . And an all-girl band, famous for their hot lips and cool jazz . . ."

"Some Like it Hot", this year's forensic play entry, received ratings high enough to travel to the state competition, where the company earned 3 A's, something that has been accomplished each of the last four years. Directed by Mrs. Chalmers, and student directed by Mary Moder, the play performed at several invitatinals as well. The story was adapted by Mrs. Chalmers from the original screenplay.

The company also was invited to perform at the Wisconsin Theater Association Convention. In order to raise money for expenses, drama club sponsored a "Roaring '20's" week.

... How Hot It Was

Cast: M. Mishlove, T. Dittrich, M. Laing, S. Kurensky, J. Shikora, M. Salomon, C. Kochifos, K. Hayden, G. Lewis, L. Spiro, M. Hoffmann, P. McComas, W. Kestin, L. Hasbrook, T. Kiehm, P. Mixter, R. Dolnick, M. Killy, L. Corcoran, V. Sebanz, J. Huntington, A. Becker, S. Glicksman, M. Holm, T. Lee, A. Sheyer, S. Taxman, J. Usow, M. Kortebain, J. Kryshak, N. Old, M. Wilson. 1. The society syncopators in the summer sun. 2. and 6. Femme-fatales T. Dittrich and M. Mishlove bat their false eyelashes. 3. "Like jello on springs" is Sugar, played by L. Hasbrook. 4. The cast. 5. "Hey, look at me, Mom!" 7. "Zowie!" says T. Kiehm as Osgood Fielding III.

Homecoming Involves Variety of People

Transition was reflected in Homecoming this year in two ways. First, the week of homecoming was declared Bicentennial Week. Featured were a contest for the best bicentennial costume and Martha (Miss Mitchell) and George (Mr. Busalacchi) Washington. The other change was in the times that the Snake Dance, parade, and football game took place. As a consequence of lighting problems it was necessary that these events take place in the afternoon, allowing both students and teachers to get out of school early. If it had not been for these two deviations, homecoming would have been traditional.

1. As the sun sets, M. Mishlove and T. Dittich entertain crowds at the snake dance. 2. "I think I'm attached." 3. "What are you doing after the dance?" 4. What have K. Schendel and E. Thomas been up to? 5. A youth council clown jests with the onlookers. 6. Homecoming Court 1975: Heidi Frensz, Kris Moser, Queen Beverly Boswell, Maggie Noonan, Karen Elsesser. 7. L. Netzow and E. Stern enjoy the parade from a different point of view. 8. Aren't they cute?

Bay's First Folk Fair Proves To Be A Success

In addition to the meetings, parties, and banquets that the language clubs hold each year, a new event made its debut: Whitefish Bay's first Folk Fair. Through careful planning, the language clubs arranged to hold the fair in the Memorial Gym during the noon hour and after school. They also invited A.F.S. Club to participate in the fair. Latin Club, French Club, A.F.S. Club, and German Club each had a booth during the noon hour from which they sold food native to the country they represented. After school a program was held in which each club performed a skit or ethnic dances and songs.

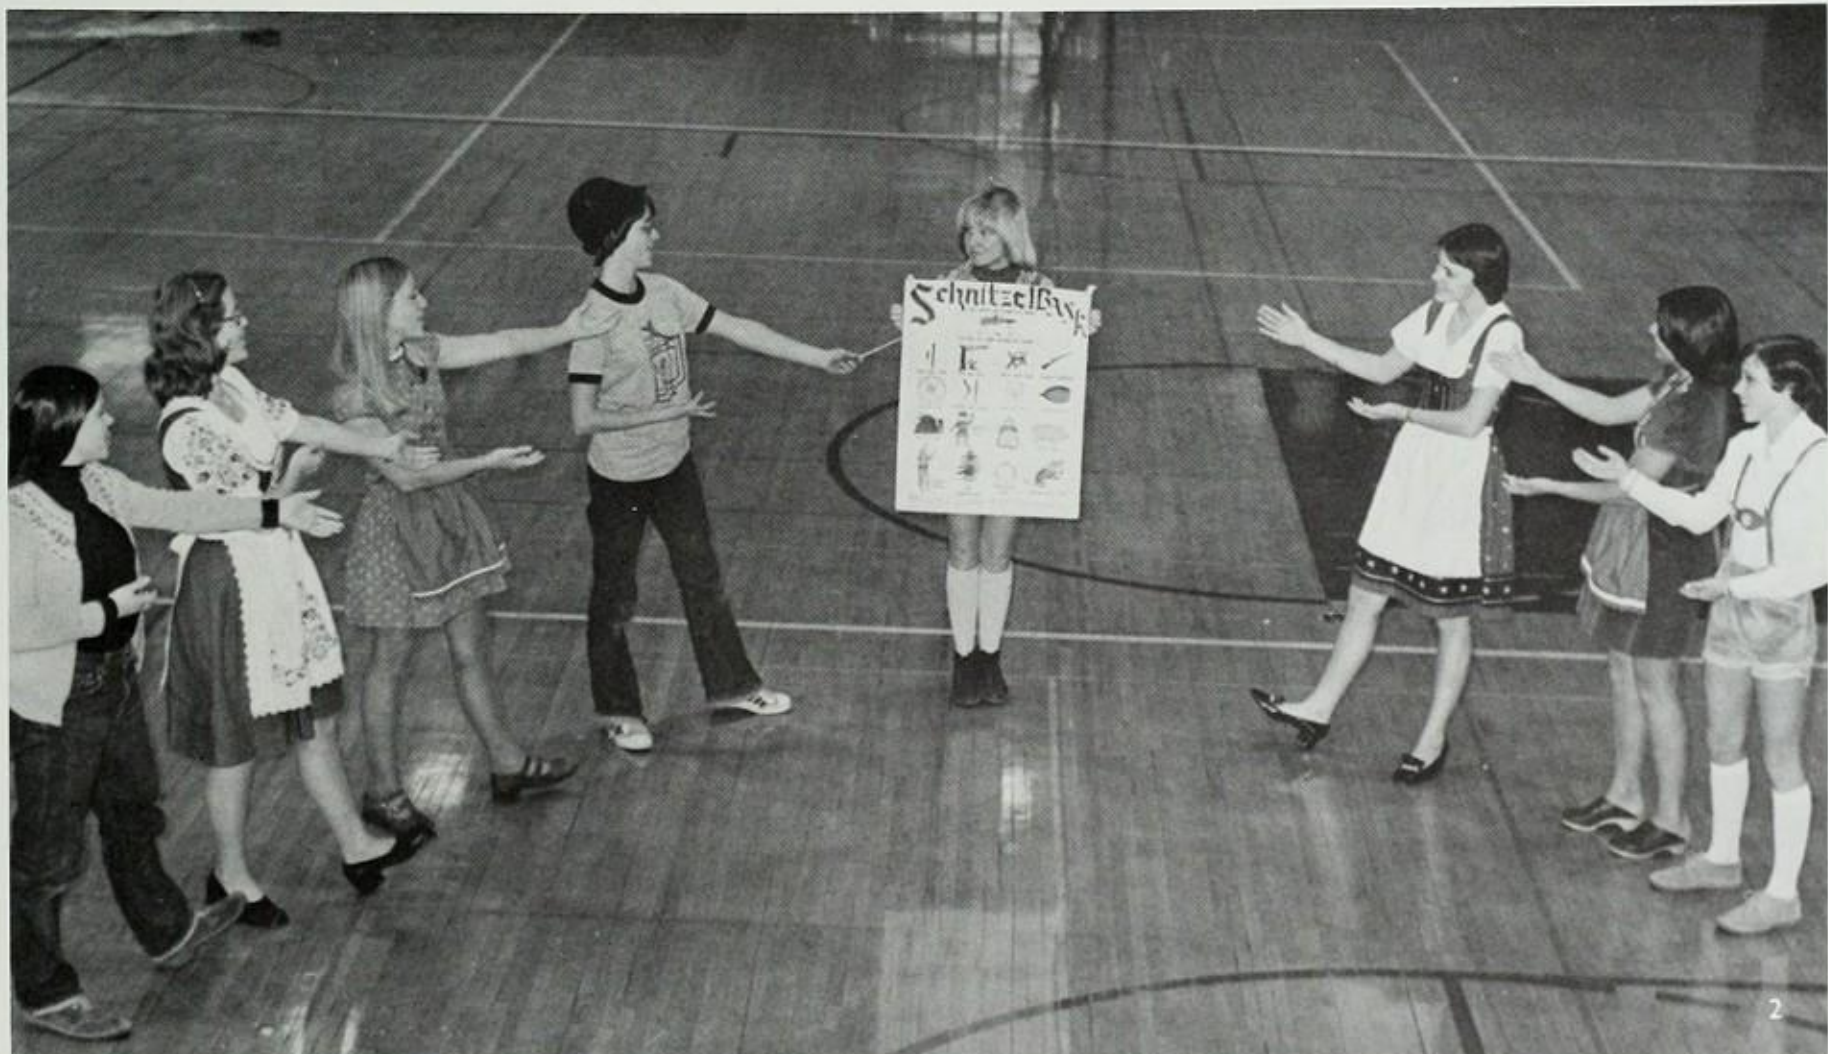

Using the success of this year's fair as a backing, the language clubs hope to make the Folk Fair an annual event.

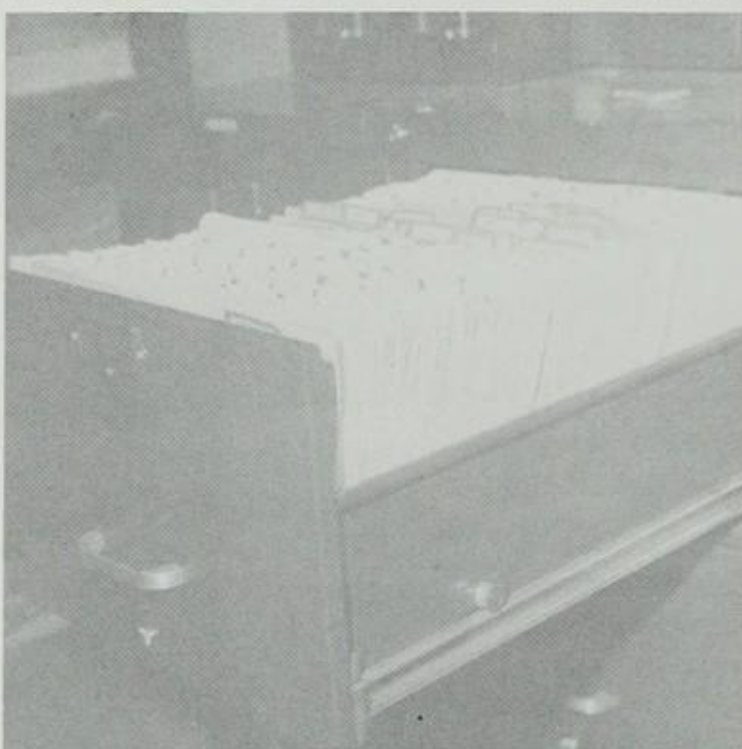

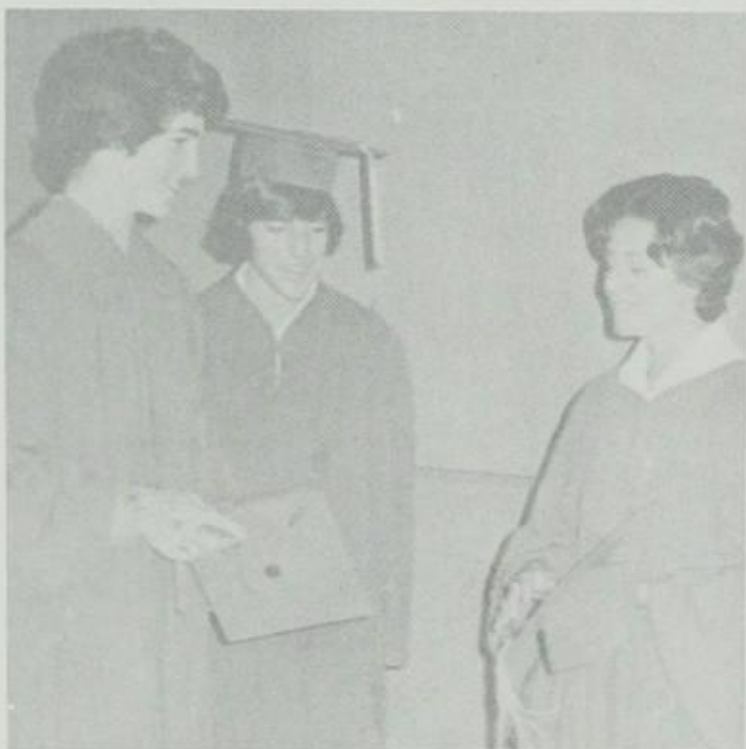

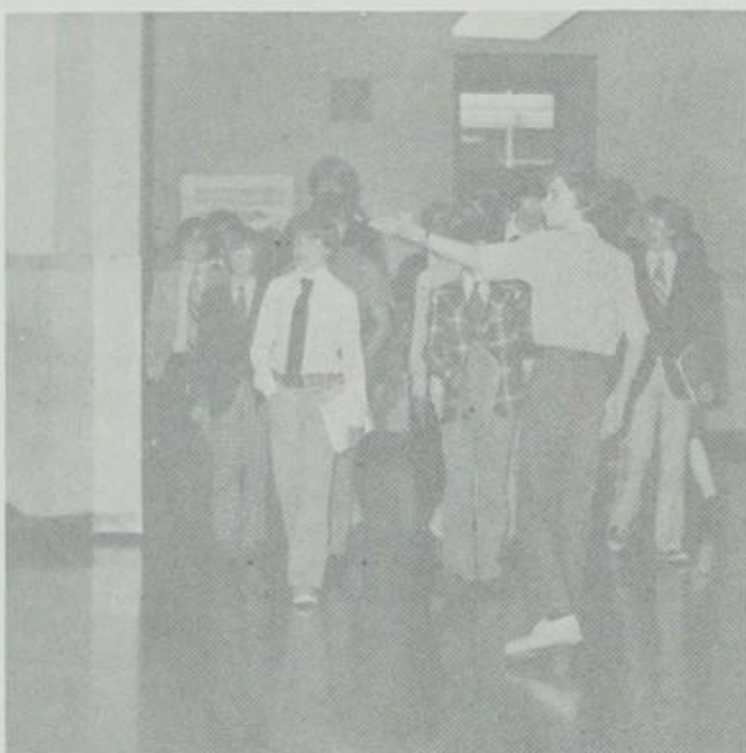

1. "And how many pizzas would you like?" asks A. Redford. 2. German Club members explain the workings of the Schnitzel Bank. 3. Mrs. Knaak helps P. Mixer, who appears to be falling apart at the seams. 4. K. Burns takes a break as the business subsides. 5. French Club members dance during the Folk Fair. 6. Members of the Latin Club perform a skit at the fair.

Sports Season Include State Finalists

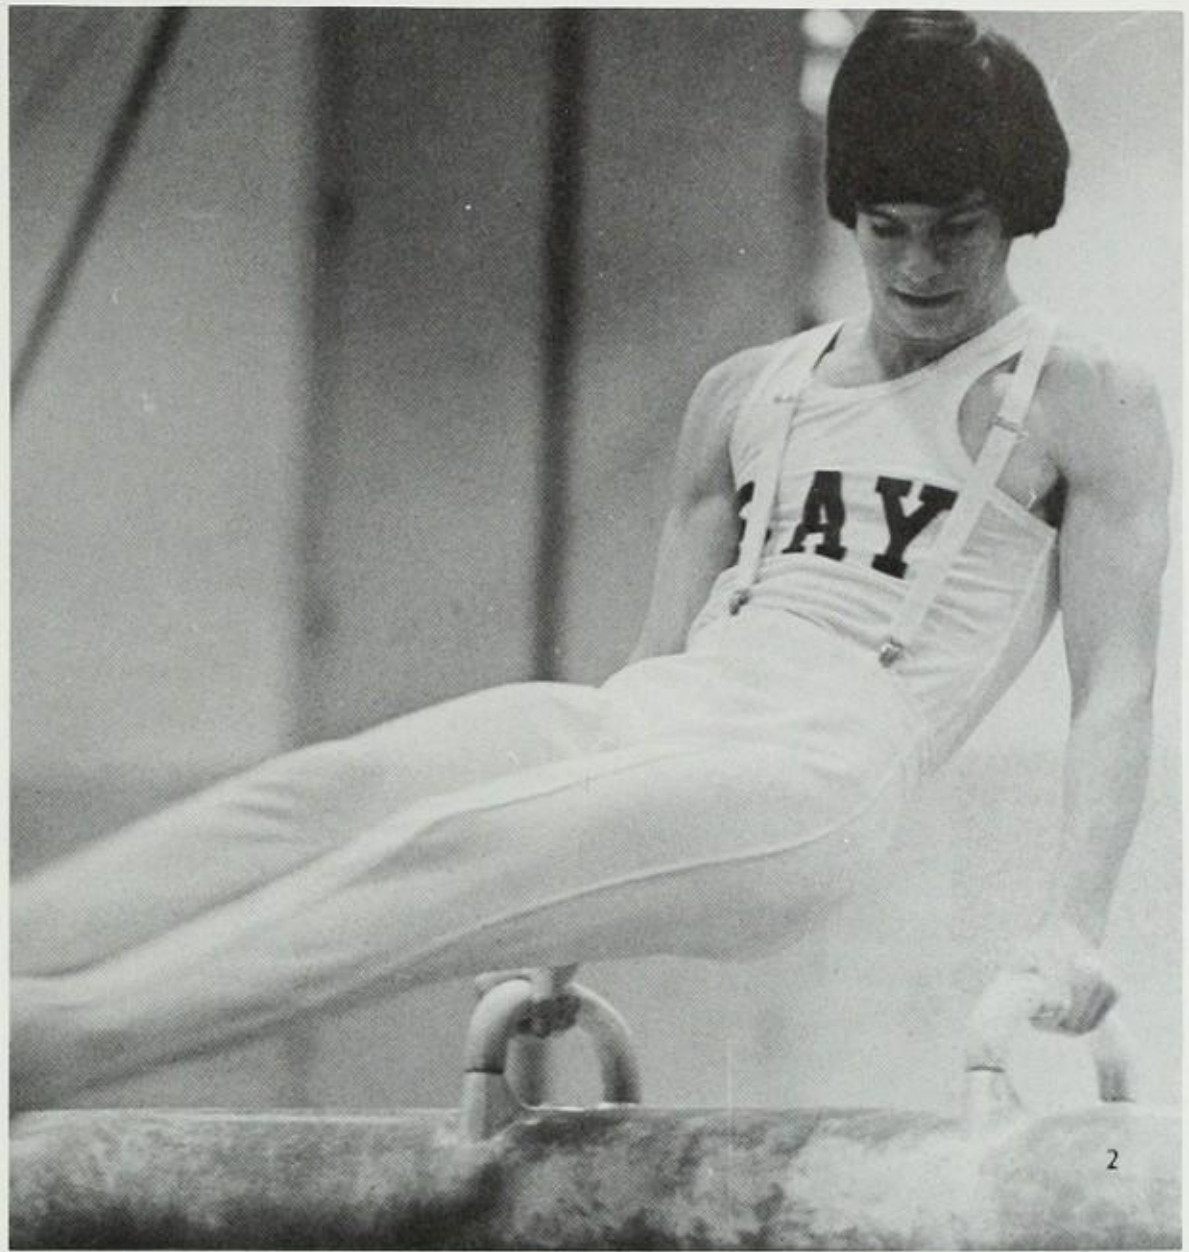

Coach Dewing and his swimmers again produced a winning record, finishing the season with a 9-2-2 dual meet record, a second place finish in the Suburban Conference, a second place finish in the sectional phase of the state tourney, and ninth place position at the state finals. Seasonal highlights included a victory at the North Shore Invitational, the performance of all state selection Curt Frueh, and the second place finish in the butterfly by Kevin Head at the state meet.

Rick Mandel's eighth place state finish in the side horse highlighted the gymnastics teams' season. The girls took fifth at the suburban finals.

1. S. Berry takes a dive. 2. R. Mandel performs on the side horse. 3. E. McCabe springs for a vault. 4. Bay men swim toward state. 5,6. Gymnastics demands skill and concentration.

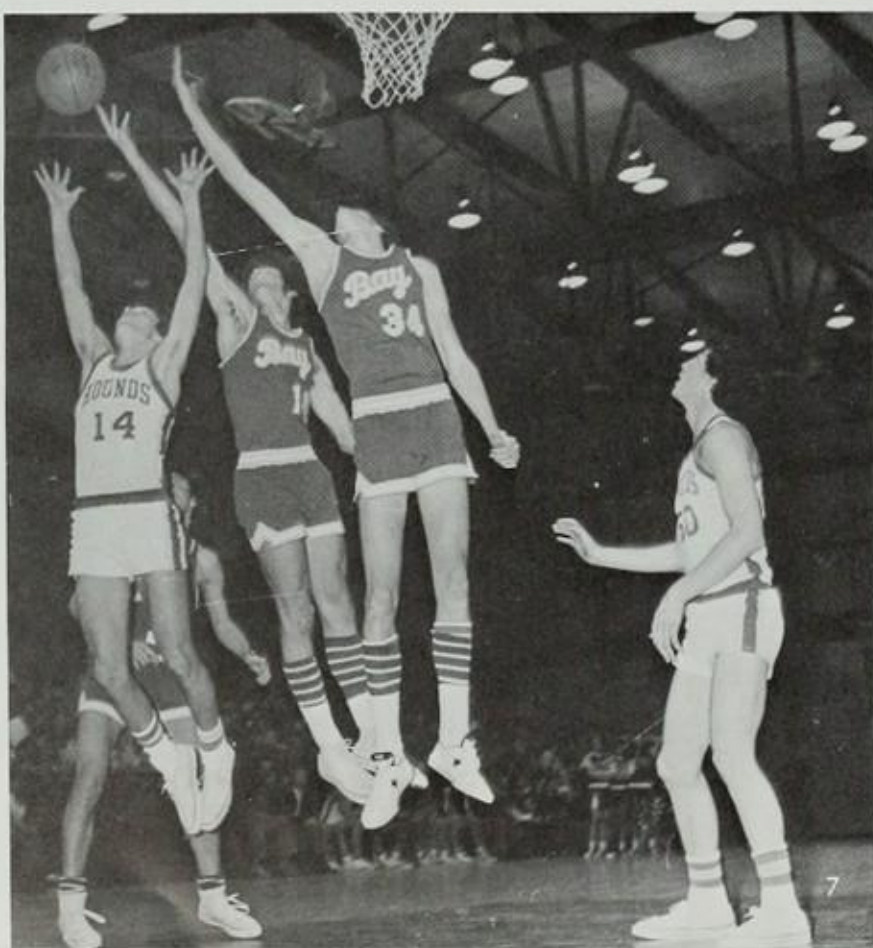

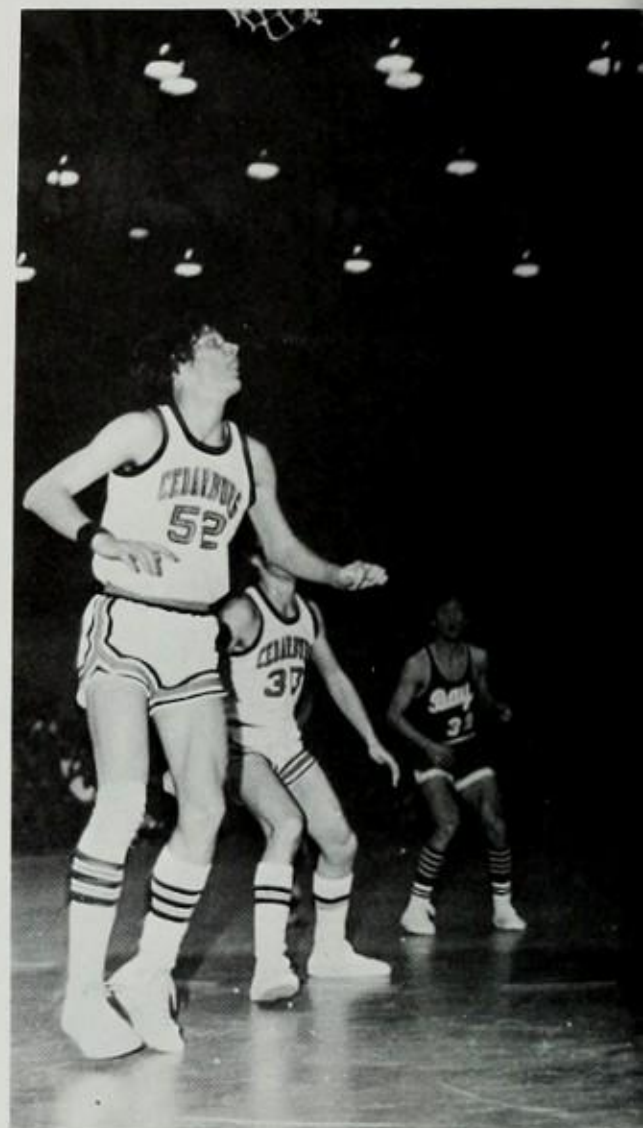

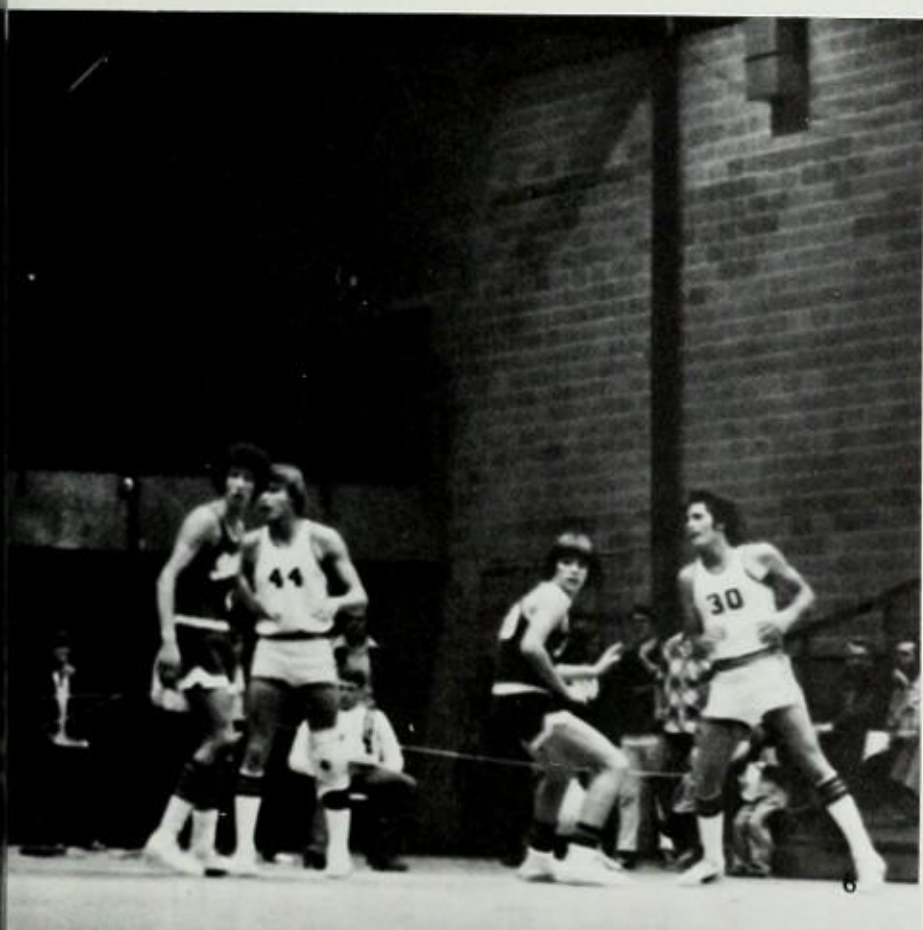

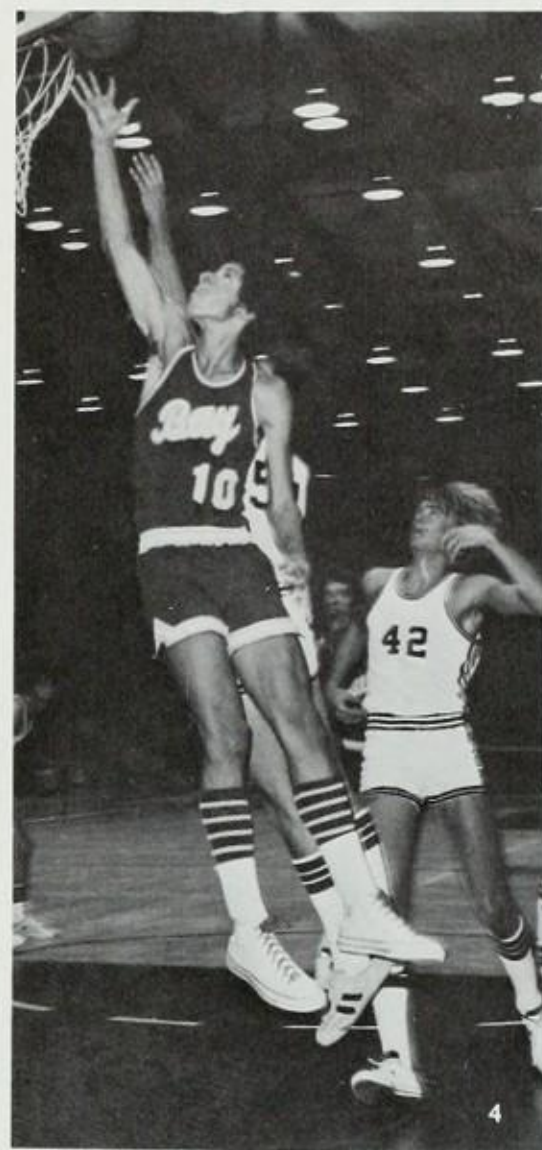

Dukes Complete Basketball Turnaround

The Varsity basketball team, under the leadership of Coach Morken, had a fulfilling season, completing the transition from a losing ball club to a Suburban Conference power. After finishing the conference schedule tied for second place behind eventual state champion South Milwaukee, the Dukes defeated Riverside in the regional semifinal, setting up a showdown with co-runnerup Shorewood, soundly defeating the Greyhounds, thereby earning the right to meet Sussex Hamilton in the sectional opener.

Despite the loss of this game, the season can be termed successful. The Freshman and J.V. teams also had good years on their way to becoming future Varsity members.

1. T. Goss drives for a layup. 2. R. Strawn dazzles 'em. 3. S. Hirst gets a little "help". 4. Going up for a tip, J. Smallins shows why he carried all-suburban honors. 5. J. Larson hears footsteps. 6. Bay men await the in-bound. 7. J. Smallins and C. Brown hit the boards.

Girls Compete In First State Tournament

For the first time in eight years a WFB basketball team qualified for a state tournament and the team was again coached by Jack Nagle, but this year it was the girl's varsity team that traveled to the first WIAA girls' tournament in Madison.

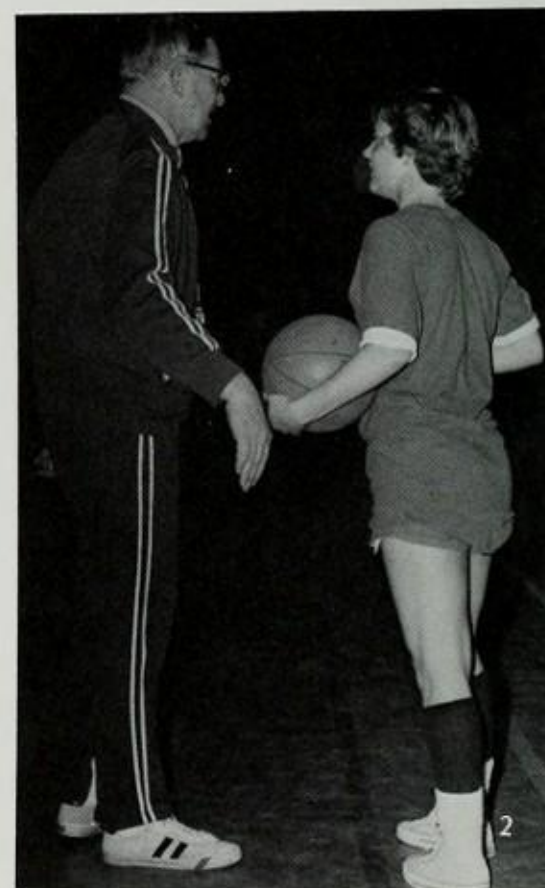

The girls compiled an 18-3 season as they marched on to the Suburban co-championship, winning their regionals and sectionals, before losing to Neenah, 27-24.

Evaluating the 1975-1976 squad, coach Nagle said, "It was a memorable season. I can't single out any individual because it was a team effort. The players and the subs alike shared in our success."

The J.V. girls tied for second place with 10-6 record. The frosh team won 6 games and lost five.

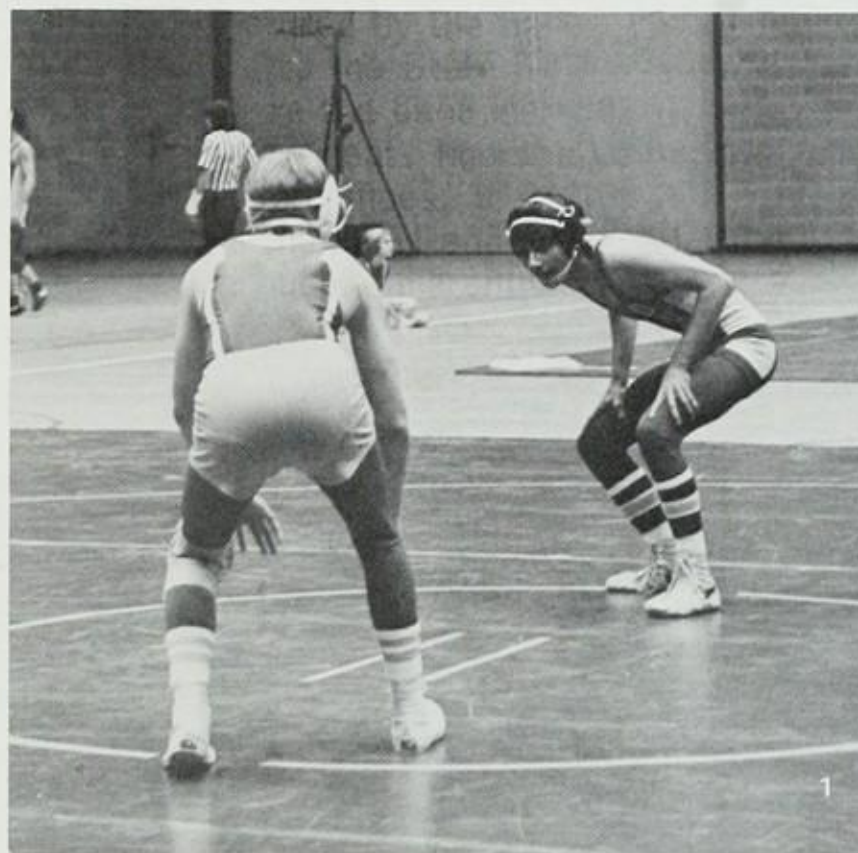

1. Play ball. 2. Coach Nagle offers bit of basketball expertise. 3. N. Hilrich goes up for a shot at the state meet. 4. Displaying excellent form, C. Nichols pops a jump shot.

Good Individual Efforts Redeem Season

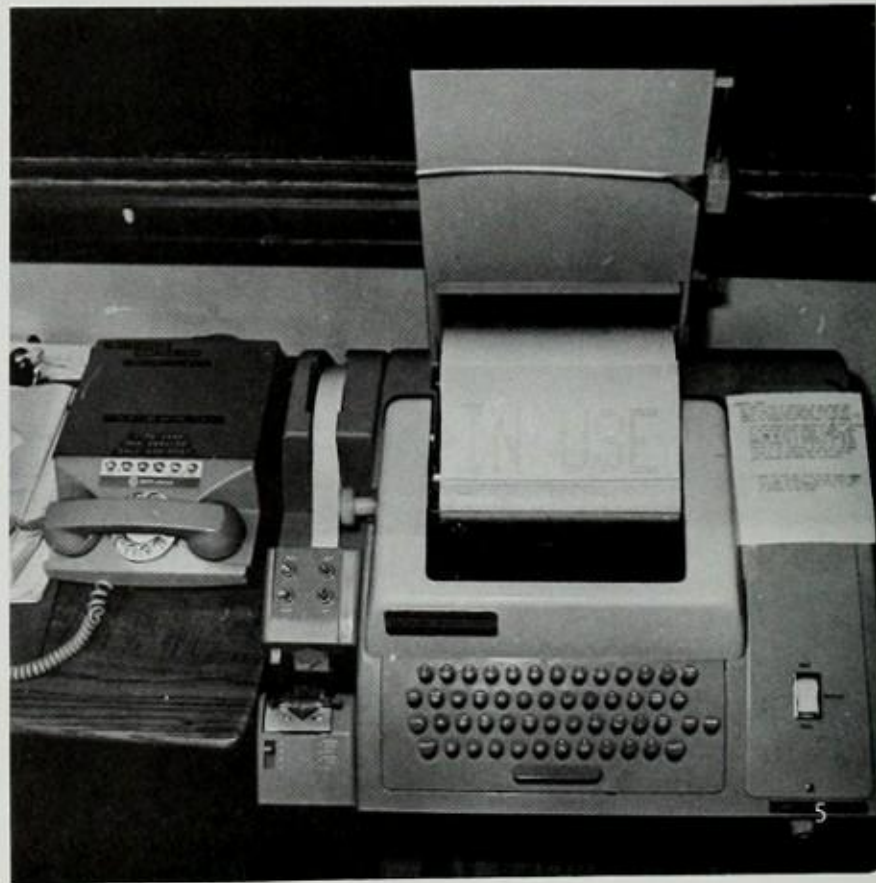

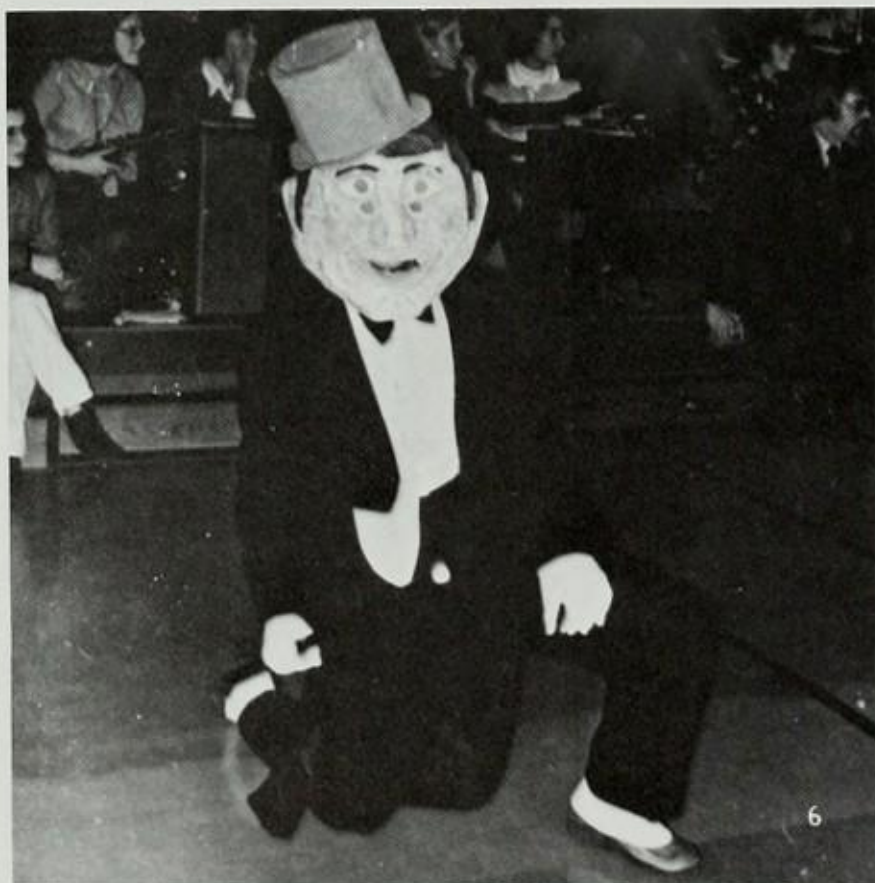

Although the Bay Varsity wrestling team had a record of only two wins, seven losses, and one tie, good for an 8th place tie in the conference dual meet schedule, the grapplers did have some outstanding individual efforts. The team was led by co-captains Brian Katz and Gary Plaster, who had records of 10-2 and 12-4-1 respectively.

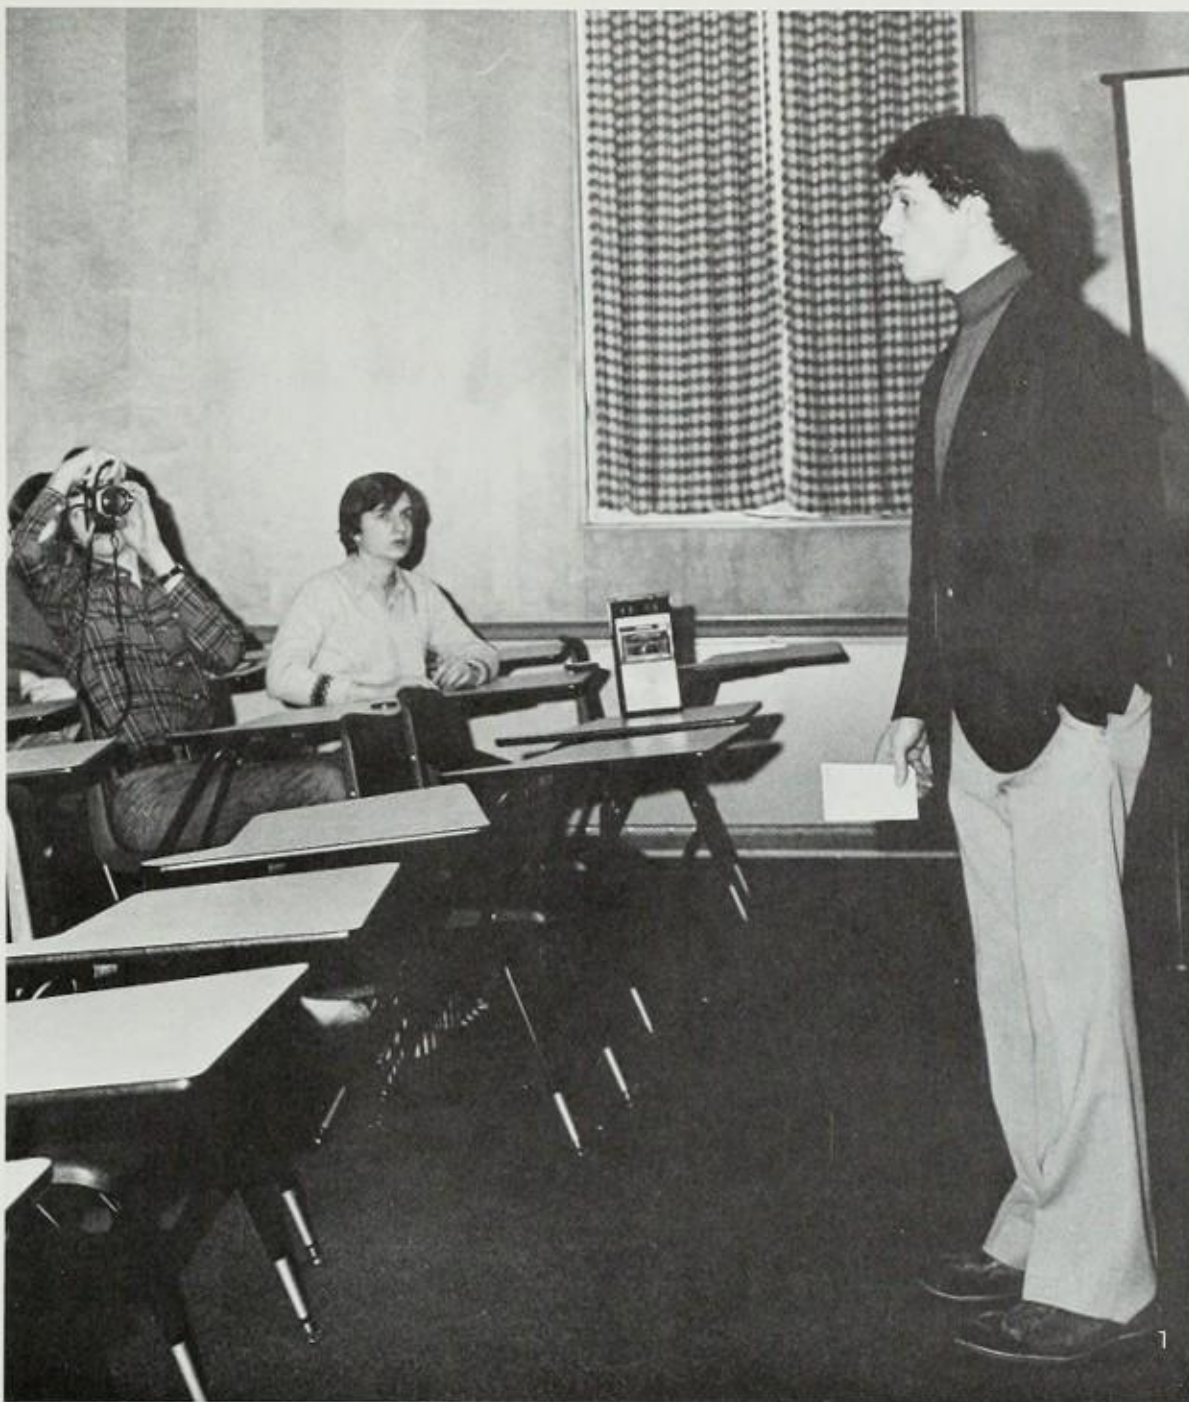

1. G. Plaster crouches at the start of a match. 2. Katz's eyes reflect fatigue after a grueling bout. 3. P. Krejci grapples for a take down. 4. Coach Bernstein really stands behind his team. 5. "Get off my back!"

And Then Something Else Happened...

No matter how a yearbook is organized, some events always seem to be excluded. This spread remedies that.

1. Ross Plaetzer addresses interested parties at Student Council's school board forums. He was subsequently elected, becoming the youngest person to serve on the board. 2. Mr. Wolfe speaks at the January Conta proposal meeting, which was televised. The integration bill was passed. 3. The annual "Breakfast Club" breakfast is a needed break for linear algebra students. 4. In October, a group of Japanese educators visited WFBHS. 5. The computer is now "in use", with terminals in the Activities and Math offices. 6. Mr. Blue Duke was introduced at this year's basketball games. 7. M. Ward participates in the annual cap and gown measuring. 8. Several times per year, national tests are administered at WFB.

School Day Characterized By

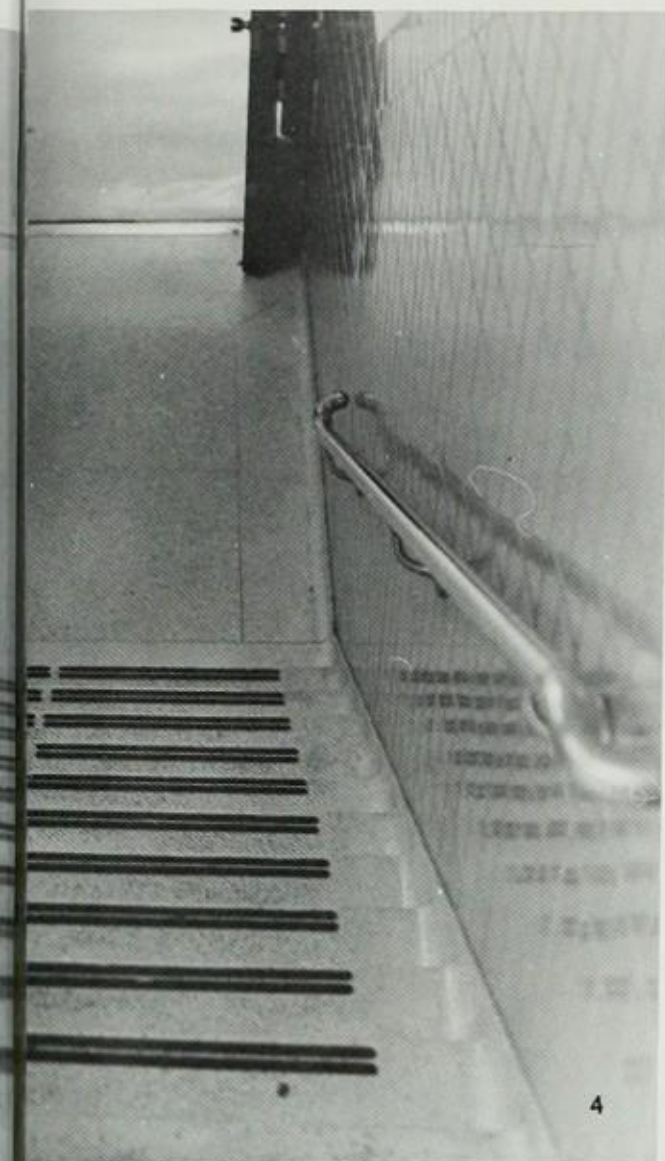

After school's extra-curricular activities are what most students can look forward to, and almost everyone is involved in something, whether it be sports or dramatics. But during the school day, students must follow some sort of routine, and no matter what the subject is, it can become dreary. However, there are times when teachers and students alike can share ideas within the structure of a class.

The whole day of any student's schedule is filled with change. In between classes there are meetings in the halls and hurried conversations with friends. And in the class there is usually something going on to liven up the day, such as the sense of humor some teachers use to teach. Although everyone falls into some type of routine, there are still some things about school which, although familiar, nevertheless create amusement or possibly exasperation.

Non-Routine.

1. Everyone's dread and, 4. everyone's wish.
2. Although trapped by freshmen, Mr. Tipple doesn't seem to mind. 3. Mr. Rambadt directs a finger and an eye at a student. 5. Ready with grade book, Miss Berna stops anyway to give a smile. 6. A dissection or an instruction in cooking?

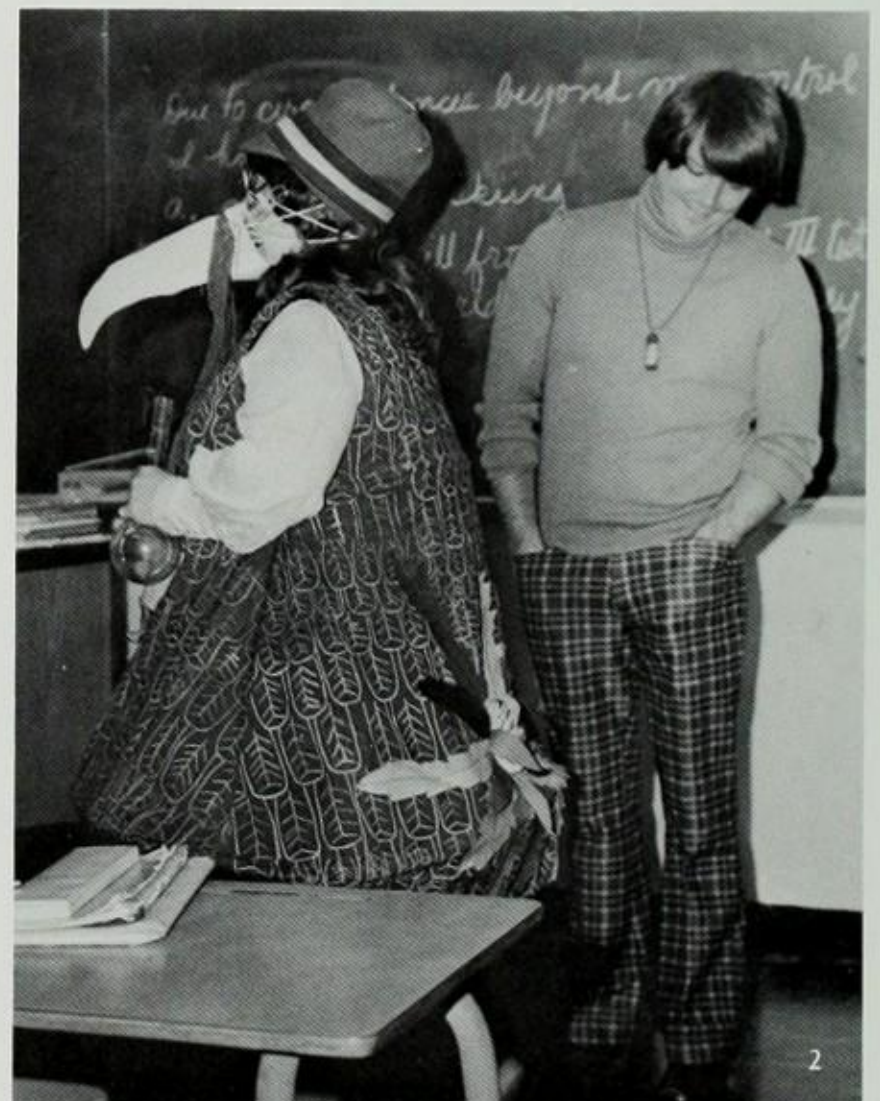

Teachers Display Imagination In Costumes

This year, in addition to the usual variety of teacher attire, there were a few curious habiliments worn by teachers who wished to exhibit their imagination and creativity.

The winners of the George and Martha Washington Look-Alike Contest were Mr. A. Busalacchi and Miss S. Mitchell. "Martha" Mitchell also honored the turkey during Thanksgiving time by dressing up as one. Mr. Erickson mixed right in with his students at the Madrigal dinner by wearing a fur-trimmed Medieval jacket.

1. Mr. Erickson looks chagrined in his jacket. 2,3. Today a turkey, tomorrow Martha Washington. 4. Mr. Busalacchi adds authenticity to history.

Field Trips Link Studies, Applications

Field trips form a basic part of many of the classes at W.F.B. As well as being a relief from the occasional monotony of school, field trips provide a link between study and the application of that study in the outside world.

Biology 3 classes were taken to the lake shore to take chemical tests of the water and soil, and to the zoo to observe animal behavior, while in the social studies department Mr. Zitlow took his Economics classes to Chicago to visit the Board of Trade Office and the Federal Reserve Bank.

Besides these field trips others were held throughout the year, ranging from the language department to the science department.

1. W. Starr gets a reassuring pat from a friend. 2. What is in the lake? 3. Students rest after a hard day in Chicago.

"Matchmaker" Uses Film For Transition

This year's winter play was "The Matchmaker", a farce written by Thornton Wilder to satirize the popular theater of the 1920's, melodrama.

The production was directed by Mr. Hardin and assistant director Kathy Kessenich, and ran for two nights. Employing a new technique, the producers filmed the actors walking through the Museum's streets of old Milwaukee, and used this as a transition between scenes.

The winter play is an opportunity for Technical Theater students to participate in an actual production.

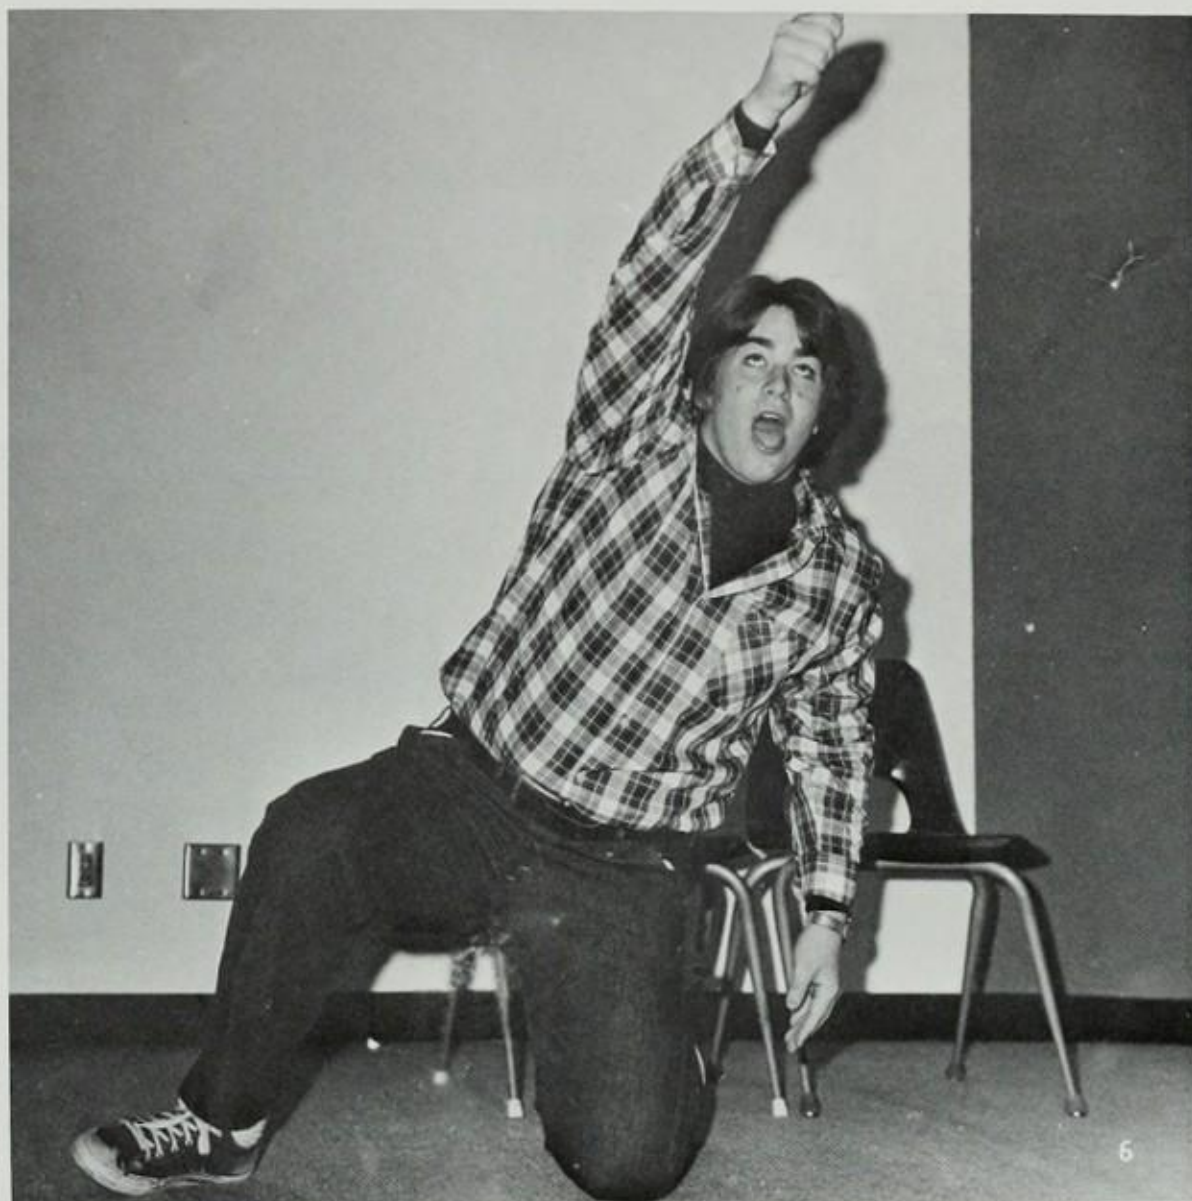

Cast: C. Abbott, F. Bandettini, J. Cavan, S. Ullman, C. Carson, L. Peters, M. Mishlove, A. Ryan, S. Wallace, S. Gineris, E. Weiss, M. Salomon, S. Peck, T. Kiehm, S. Daedalus, M. Rohn, M. Holperin, T. Lewis, A. Stillman, S. Besag.

1. "But I don't wanna elope, Ambrose! 2. "Oh, Horace, I don't dare, I don't dare!" 3. S. Gineris contemplates ladies' hats. 4. Mike and Mike with their employer Chris. 5. The cast. 6. Miss Van Huysen, delighted with her guests. 7. Cornelius and Barnaby discuss the prospect of an adventure.

Debate, Forensics Speak For Themselves

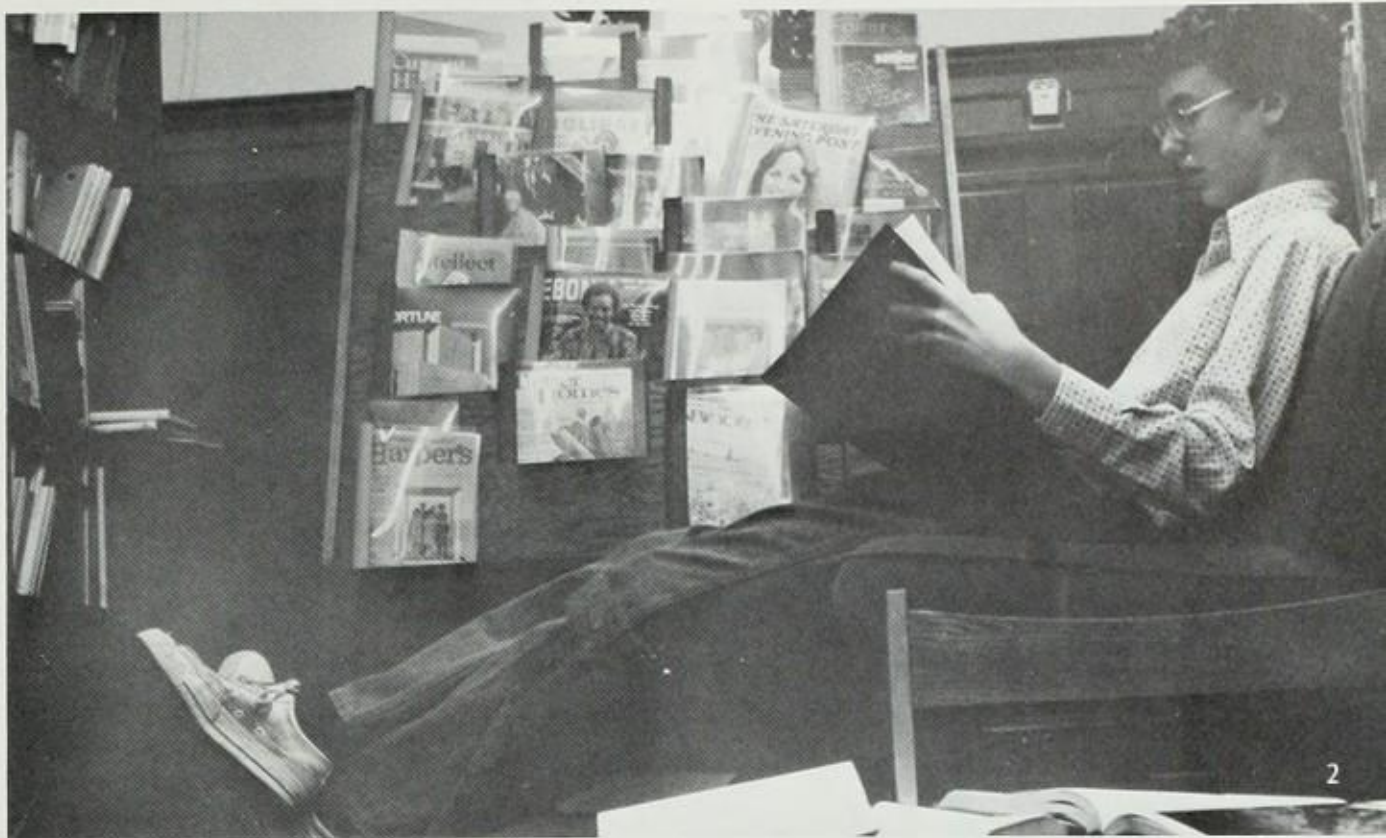

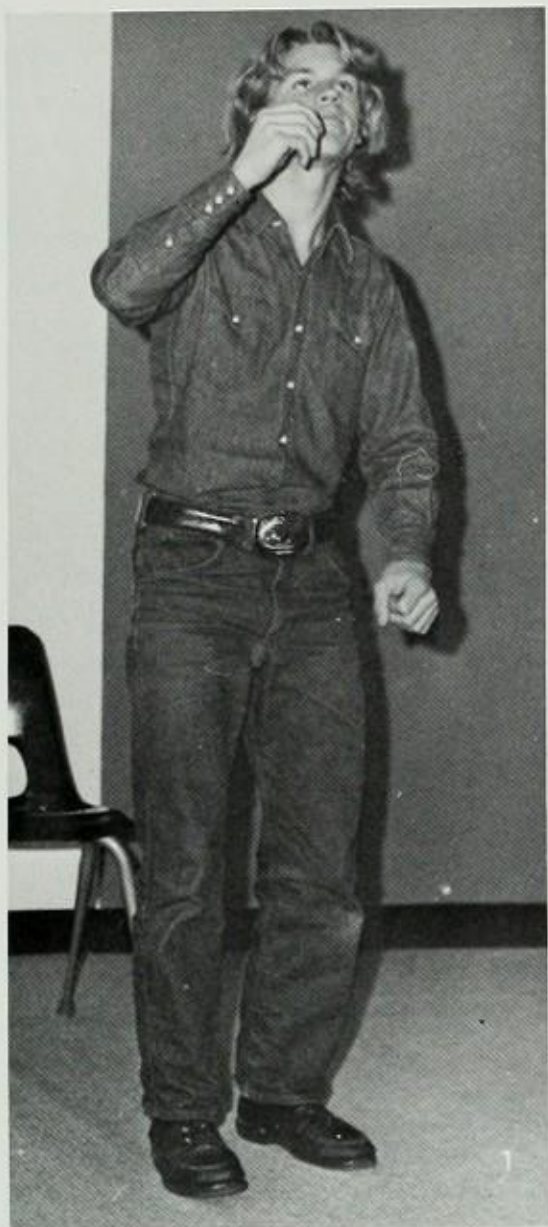

Debate and Forensics continued to follow the tradition of good performance this year, involving many students in the oratorical arts.

"The Last of Mary Lincoln" and "Tom Sawyer" both received A's in the play acting categories at the district competition. Individual speakers also earned A's at the district meet in the categories of eight minute oratory, poetry, prose, extemporaneous speaking, and storytelling. In competitions at Brown Deer and Delavan-Darien, several students took high honors.

There was no varsity debate team this year, because of a lack of experience. The junior varsity team won two tournaments, qualifying them for the j.v. tournament of champions. The novice debaters also won two tournaments.

1, 6. T. Dittrich and G. Lewis, whitewashing fences — a popular pastime in forensics. 2. M. Dudey researches for an upcoming debate. 3. In "The Last of Mary Lincoln", M. Kelly as Mary Lincoln reacts to S. Peck as Robert Lincoln. 4. The cast working without props or costumes in "Mary Lincoln". 5. J. Bratt discusses debate with Coach Cannon.

Orchestra Produces High Ratings, Record

The orchestra performed in three major concerts this year, in November, March, and the Pops concert in May. Dr. Marvin Rabin guest conducted the March concert, after fifteen hours of full orchestra rehearsal in four days, a record of the performance was made. The program included the experimental "Unanswered Question".

At the suburban contest the orchestra received highest ratings in sight reading as well as the required pieces. Many solos and ensembles made it to the state competition after qualifying at the district level.

1. J. Hochman and J. Levine relax during intermission. 2. A view of Director Rabin from the eye of percussionist, P. Quentel. 3. Mr. Chase congratulates concert master, M. Natvig. 4. As E. Rogers awaits his cue, D. Quentel prepares to smash. 5. A profile of the orchestra. 6. Quartet of M. Natvig, violin, guest J. Romer, second violin, D. Haas, viola, and J. Hochman, cello. 7. D. Haas in a moment of concentration. 8. In concert.

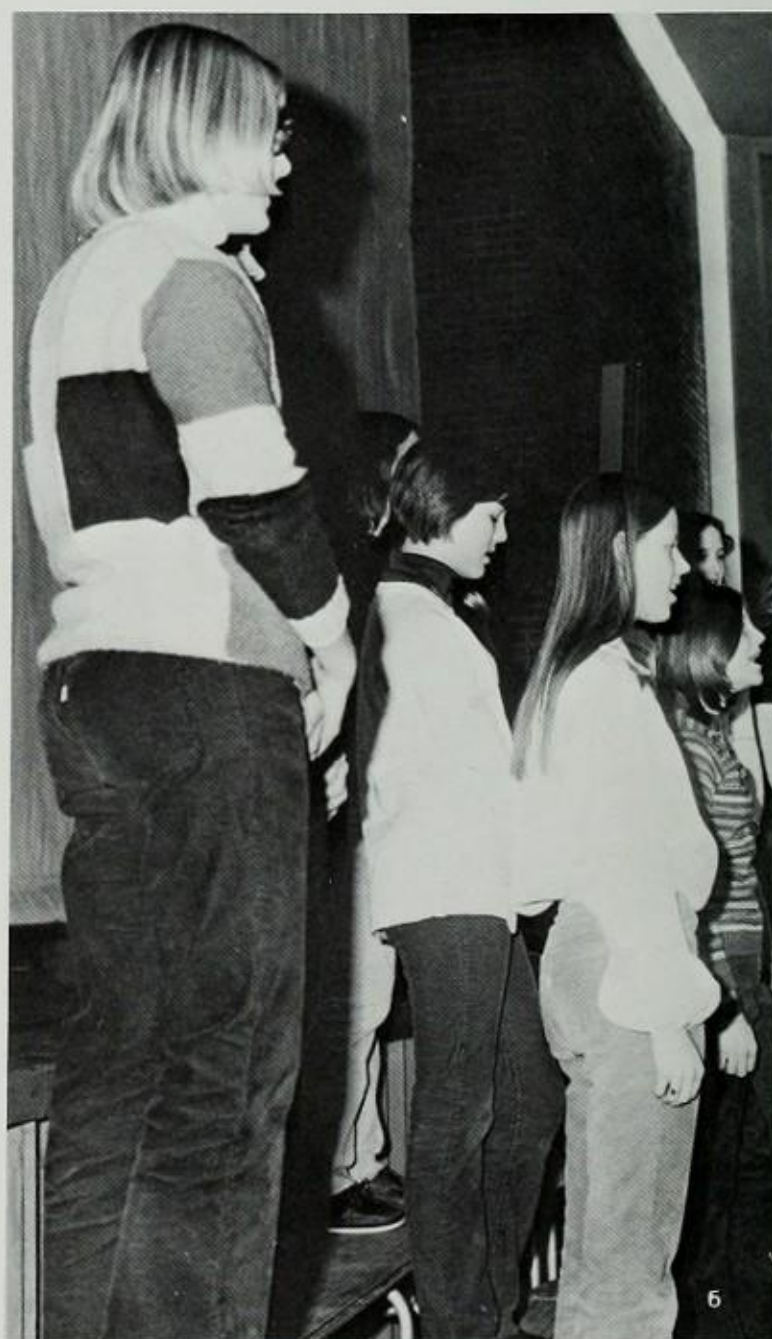

Choir Sings At St. Michael's Hospital

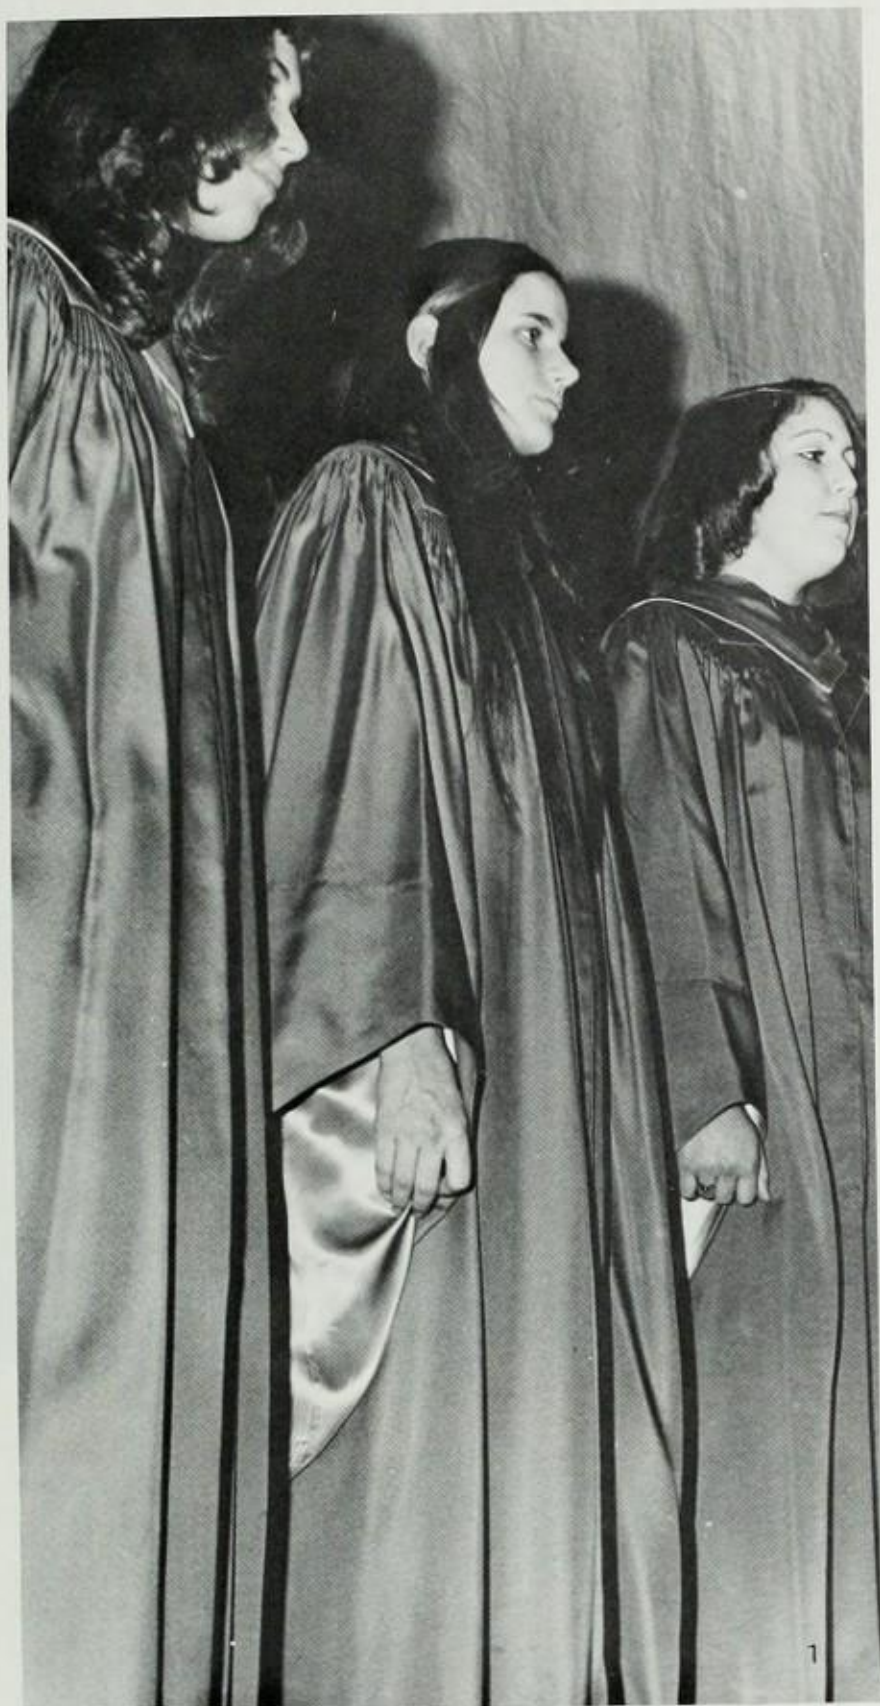

The concert, junior treble, and senior treble choirs performed at three concerts: Christmas, Spring, and Pops. Robert Porter guest conducted at the Spring program.

The concert choir tried something new this year — singing for the patients of St. Michael's hospital. Choir members felt that the program was "extremely worthwhile for people who don't get much of a chance to see these kinds of things".

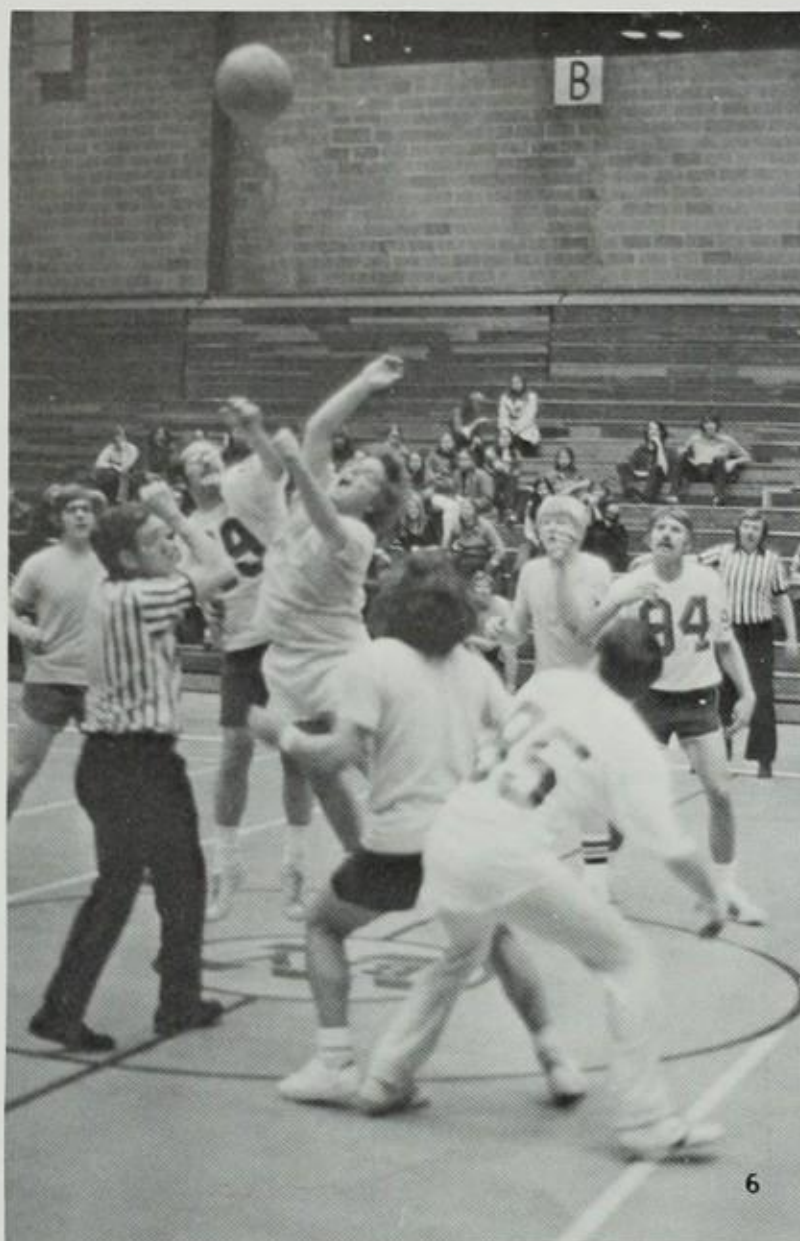

The madrigals had their annual Christmas banquet, and also sang carols at Bay Shore shopping center.

Service Organizations Help

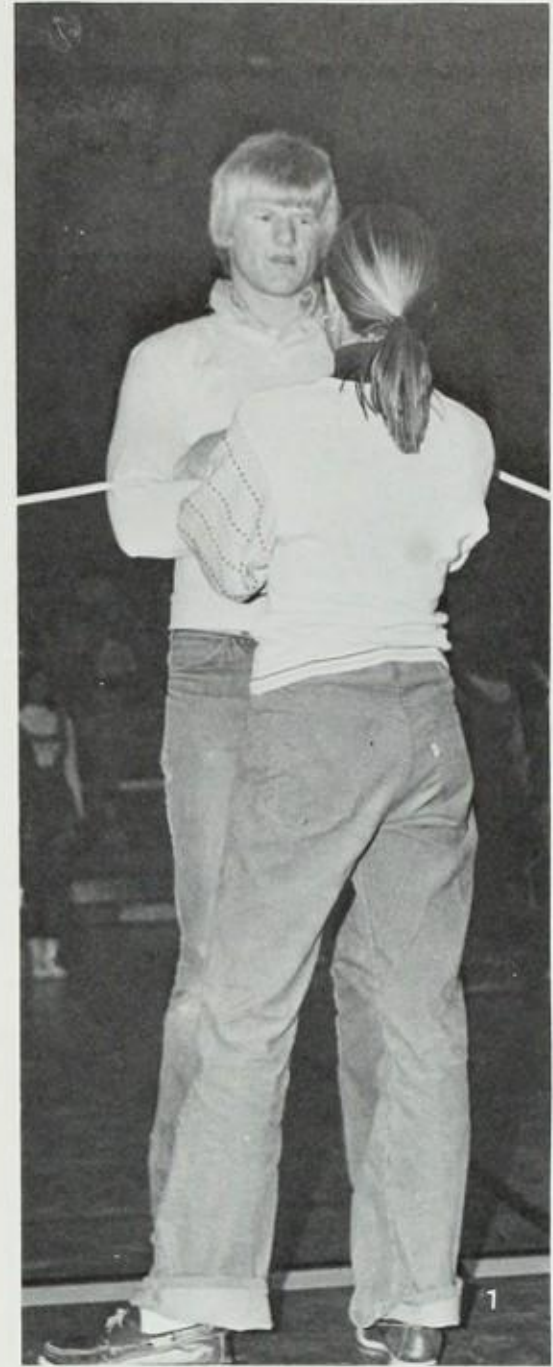

This year the service clubs again aided the school in many ways. I.M.C. Club continued to produce tapes, slides, transparencies, etc. in spite of a tight budget. The Ushers Club checked coats and handed out programs at all the performances that the school put out this year. Recycling was the major thrust of the Ecology Club's year, though they did sell recycled notebooks at the beginning of the first semester. F.T.A. Club tutored students from the grade schools, thus helping the teachers of these students. Lettermen's Club showed that they could do something besides keeping students off of the basketball court by playing basketball against the faculty team. To these perennial service clubs was added Library Aides, a club that helps the librarians by putting books and magazines away, checking out books, and filing cards.

Their purpose is to serve and this all of them have continued to do faithfully.

School In Many Ways

1. Nobody gets past J. Weiland when he's ushering. 2. "Only two more boxes to bundle." 3. K. Kryshak helps F. Bandettini utilize the library's resources. 4. T. Ward tutors at Cumberland. 5. P. Ekman works in the

I.M.C. to fill a student's order. 6. The faculty and the lettermen fight for the ball. 7. Ushers hand out "Matchmaker" programs to the oncoming crowds.

Publications Modify

This year the TOWER TIMES and the TOWER had to endure problems in meeting their deadlines.

Funding was their major problem, but they also had to cope with many personnel turnovers. Despite this, the publications came out on time and they even managed to change their appearances. The T.T. changed its logo several times, giving the paper a new look. The TOWER reorganized its format by departing from the traditional division of sections and dividing the book into two major sections — events and background.

When the year was over, the publications remained, ready to serve another year.

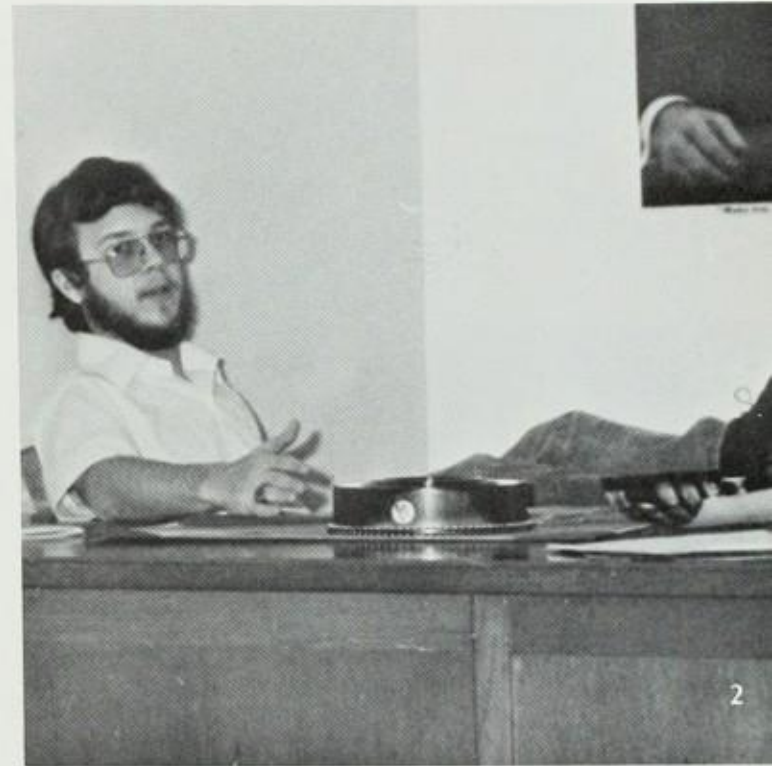

1. Mrs. Gutschow surveys the layouts of P. Quentel and S. Ullman. 2. The pressures of deadlines don't seem too great for S. DeLeers. 3. Deep concentration leads P. Eby to a usable layout. 4. "Be careful!" says A. Dunning. 5. The T.T. with one of its logos by K. Lauffenburger. 6. "We could put this picture here." 7. "Is it all going to fit?"

Looks

"Stone walls do not a TOWER make, nor iron rungs an escape." So seems to be saying adviser Fehlhaber, as he is shown giving physical release to a habitual response of a publications adviser, driven "up the wall" by the daily vicissitudes of customary journalistic endeavor. P.S. He didn't jump THAT day!

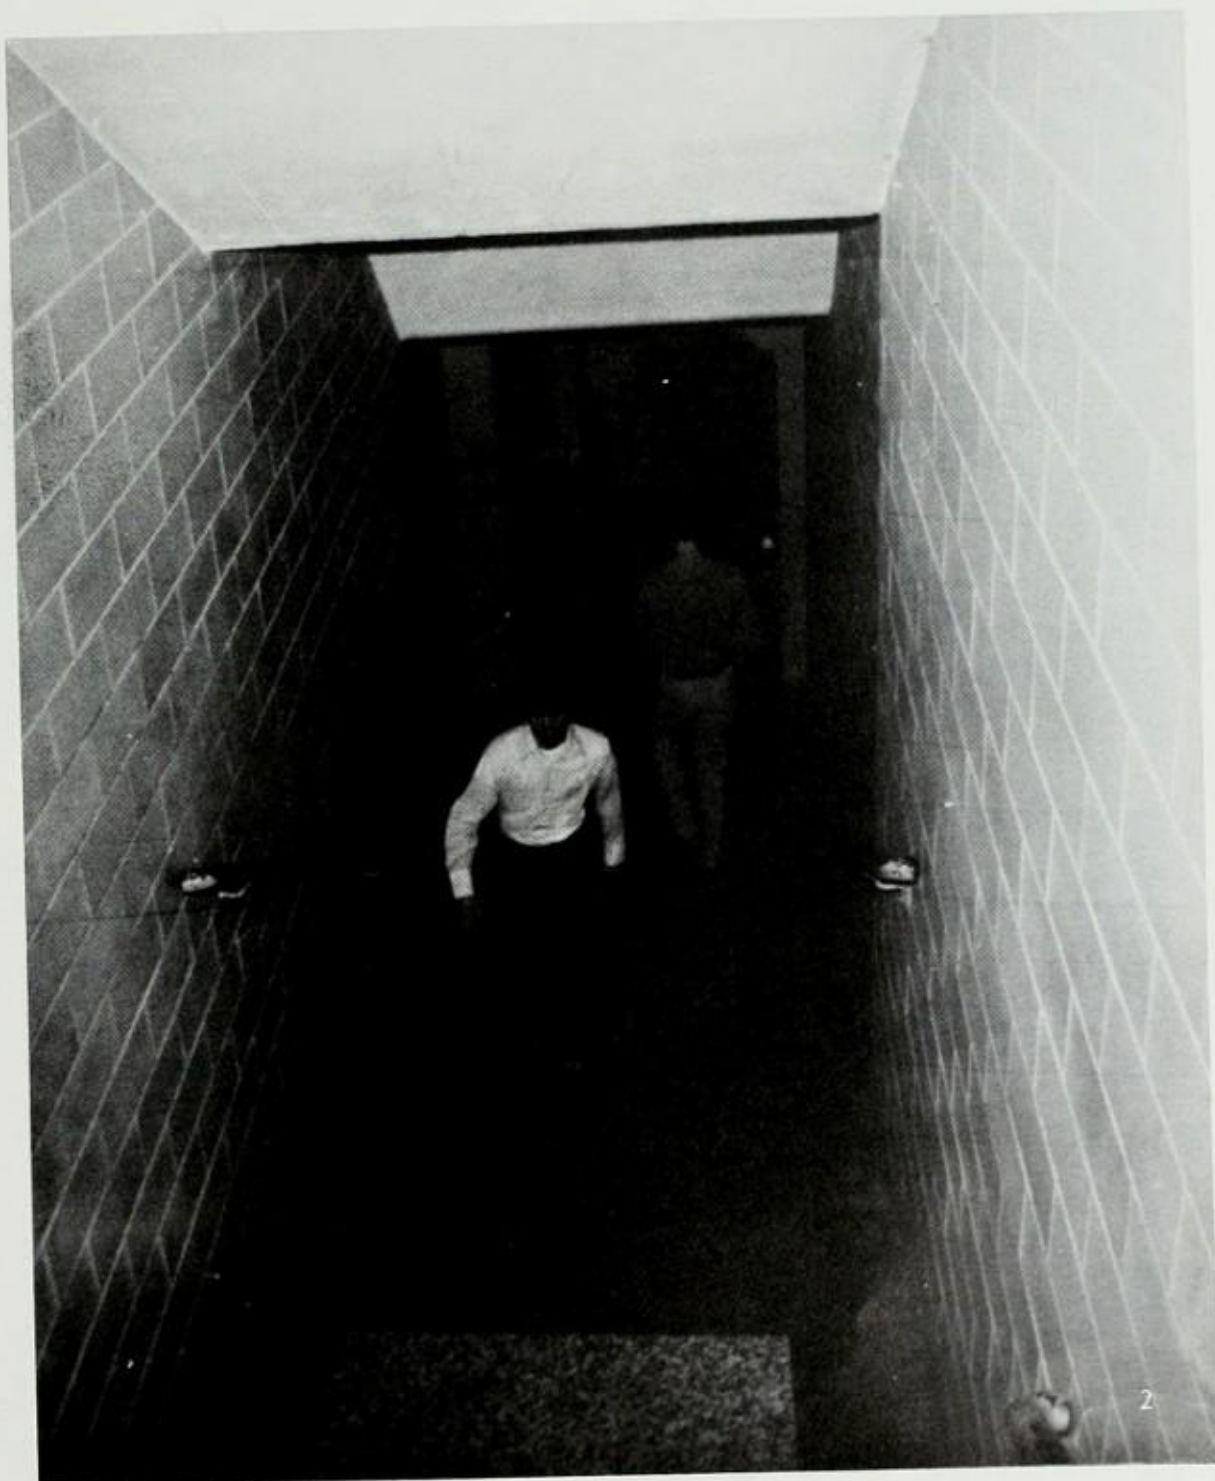

People Attend Dances For Varied Reasons

An always present fixture at Bay is the dance. Various dances attract people for a variety of reasons. Some anticipate the Masquerade dance so that they may change their identity for a few hours. Others wait all year for the 50's dance in order to slip back to a more exciting era. Others look toward the romantic Christmas and Homecoming dances. Many of the females in the school wait for the Sadie Hawkins dance so that they may have their chance to go out with the guy of their choosing. But perhaps the most popular of all the dances is the Friday night dance; there you can go after that all important game and relax with friends while listening to the band. These dances have remained a fixture at Bay for many years and probably will continue to be in the future.

1. S. Ulik and P. Jarvis, "The Odd Couple. 2. Two people have different reactions to the dance. 3. Both the costumed and the uncostumed enjoy the Masquerade Dance. 4. "Next time don't buy me a long stemmed rose." 5. Two Sadie couples enjoy the dance. 6. Freshmen sit in at the Masquerade Dance.

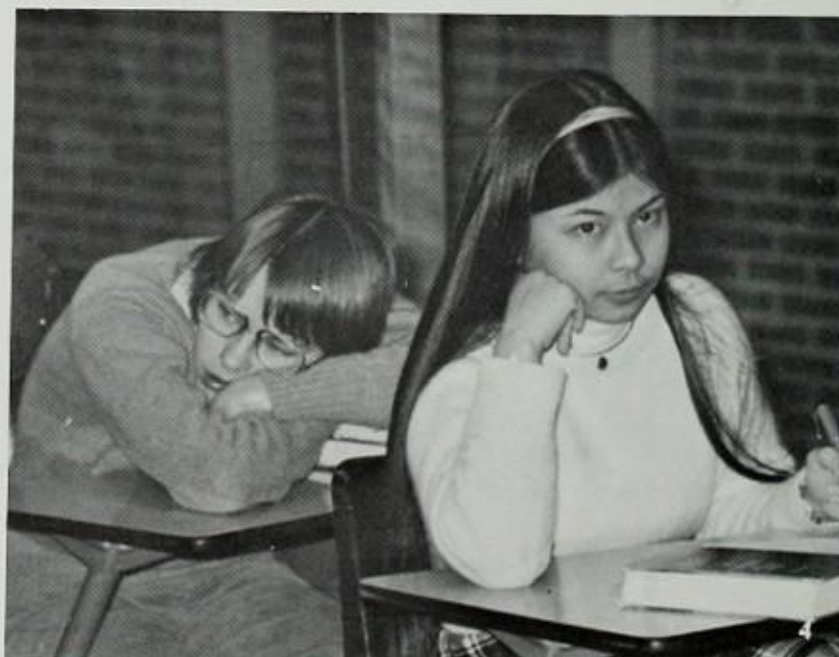

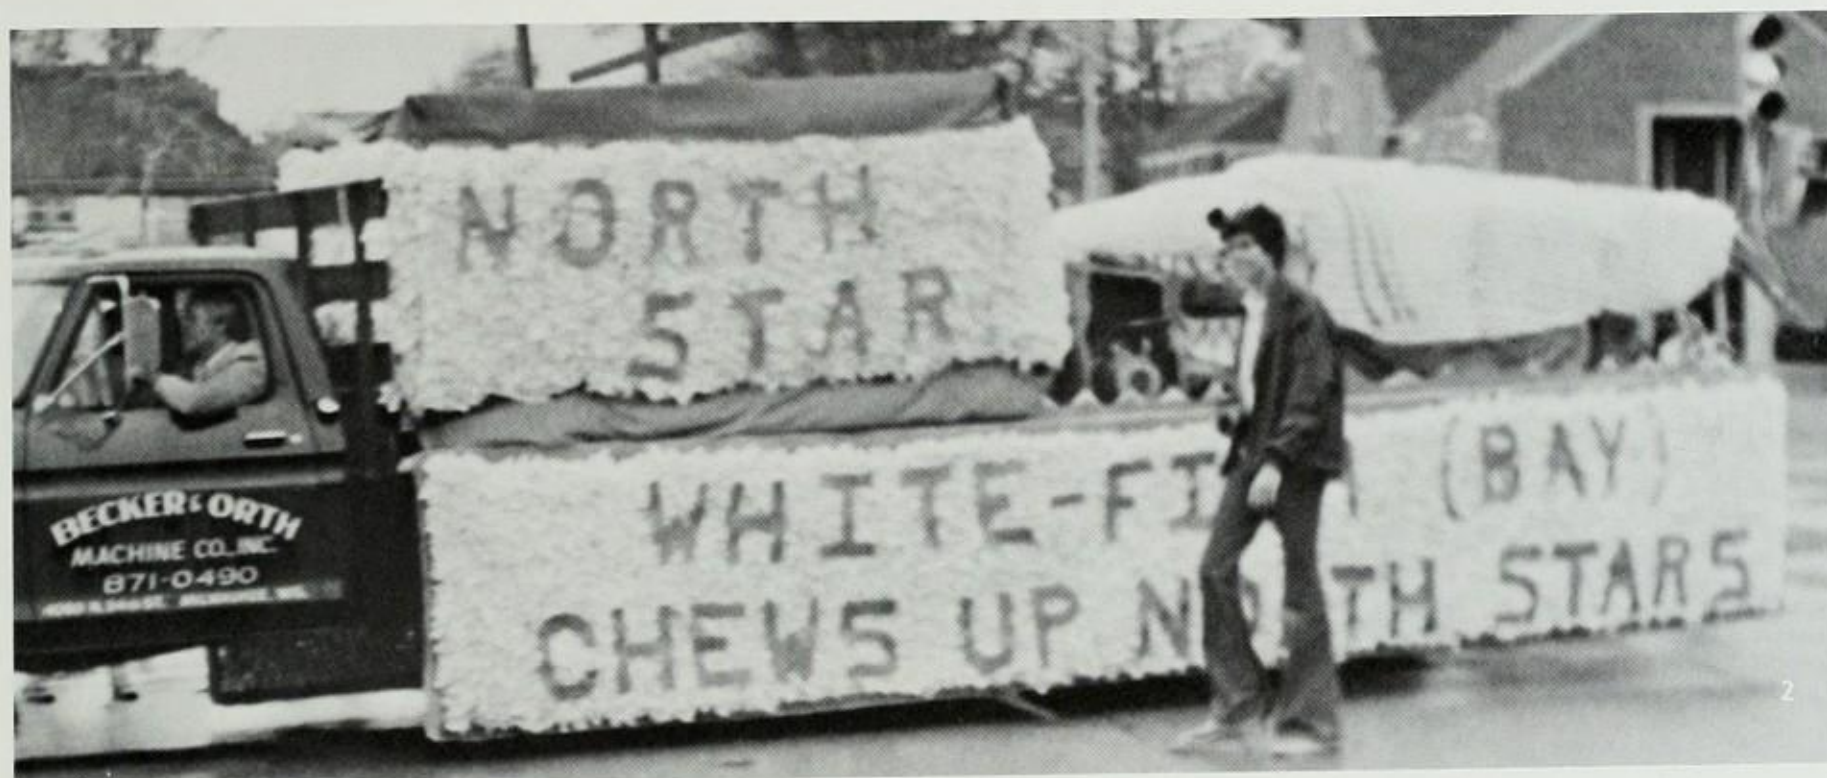

Class Of '79: Frosh Infiltrate Quietly

In the coverage of the three classes this year, the transition from the freshmen year to junior year will be shown. Little was heard from the freshmen this year as they were slowly building themselves into a unified class.

The class of 1979 entered school with the usual determination and enthusiasm of incoming freshmen. Within the school walls, much of a freshmen's activity was preplanned and strictly overseen from the tours of Freshmen Day to the study halls, little deviation was possible. The first extracurricular class activity proved to be successful as they received first prize in the float competition. The construction of the float was one of the few times the class had the chance to get together and work on a joint project. The end of the first semester brought both the trial of their exams and new freedom. The opening of 334 was the first in a slow, unwinding chain of responsibilities to be given to them.

The frosh were led by President B. Fried, Vice-president A. Stillman, Secretary K. Mehigan, and faculty adviser Mr. Hiken.

1. Part of Frosh Day involves taking pictures. Here C. Azcueta poses for her library and yearbook picture. 2. Freshmen display their winning float, "Jaws," at the annual parade. 3. S. Taxman puts her vote in for the freshmen officers. 4. English seems to be of little interest to these two. 5. Mr. Koerner has his freshmen dress up for Western Civ. 6. Adviser Mr. Hiken helps out on a first place float. 7. Senior D. Dornbrook helps show freshmen the way around on Freshmen Day.

Sophomores Work Together With Good Results

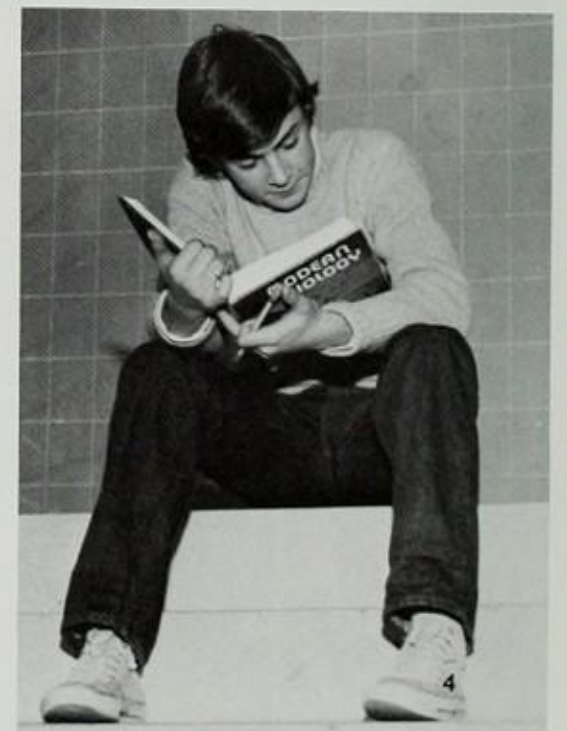

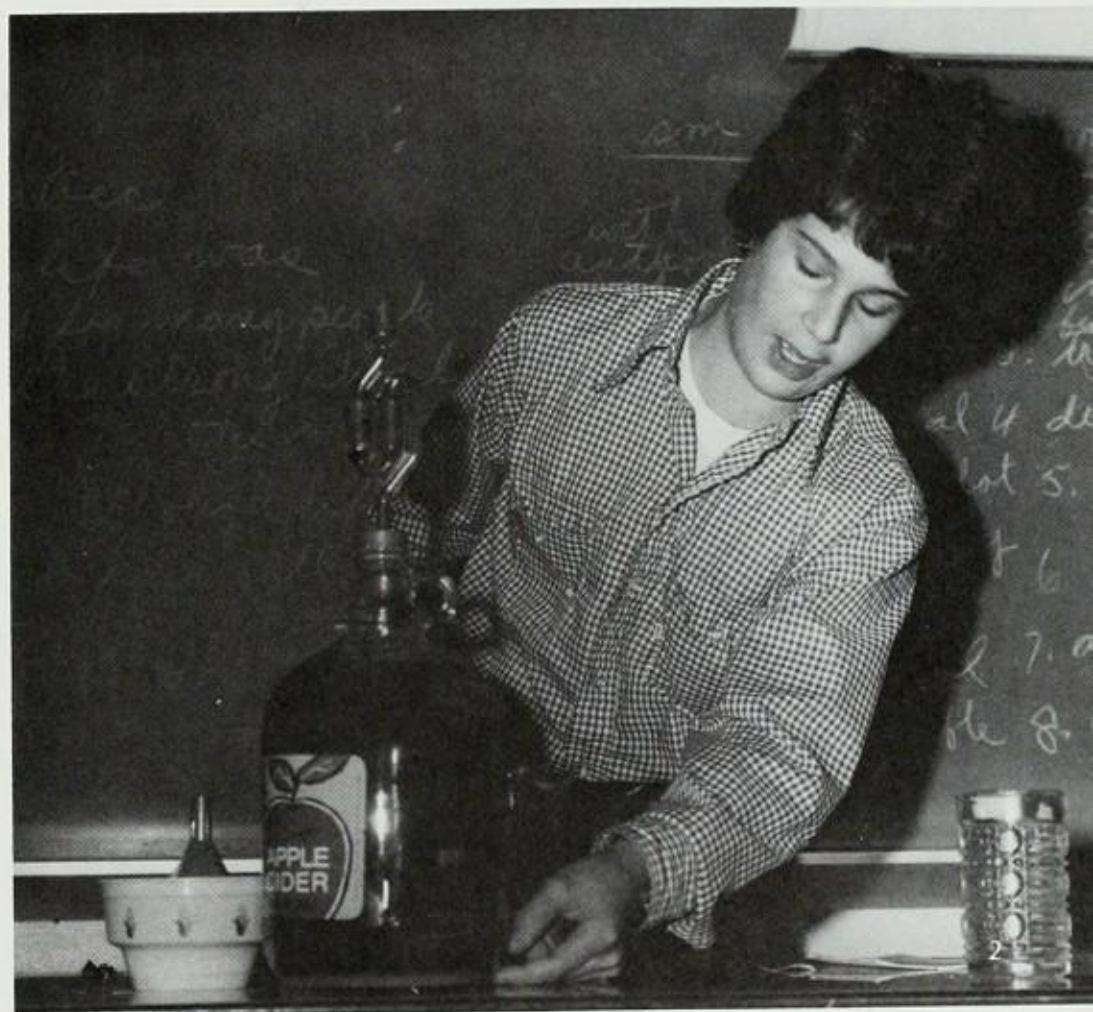

The class of 1978 demonstrated in many ways a strong, unified class. The fact that they were able to work together helped them to raise $104. at a bake sale, setting a new record. A volleyball marathon was fruitful, obtaining money for the Special Olympics.

The sophomores also showed signs of maturity. In their freshmen year Room 334 was closed to them; this year it was open to them; and a less restricted day will be offered to them next year.

In addition to Amer. Lit., speech, and phy. ed., which were required classes, almost all sophomores who met the age requirement took drivers ed. A wide variety of other classes were also taken.

The faculty adviser was Mr. Bromley, President W. Mahler, Vice-president K. Moser, Secretary M. Weiss.

1. L. Goldman works under the careful eye of Mr. Vanden Avond. 2. M. Bernstein demonstrates the fine art of winemaking in speech class. 3. B. Guenther, N. Samter, and K. Eiseman is shown the back half of the car by Mr. Baer.

The Spirit Of '76

In this Bicentennial year when everyone is looking back at the past, the seniors also look back. During the course of the day, they traveled between classes and free time. During their free time, seniors were found studying in the library, sitting in the lounge, or roaming the halls. However, in many cases seniors divided their time between classes and part time jobs. During the course of the year, the seniors firmed up their plans for their future after graduation. These plans ranged from going to college, traveling, or work. Another noticeable change has occurred this year — senioritis. Last fall, the seniors were hard working, concerned students, but along with spring came senior slump. During the last four years, the Class of '76 has experienced some definite changes. One obvious change is appearance. As they entered Bay way back in '72, they were "frosh babies", but as they left they were "senior giants". Another change is how they moved from a structured program to the somewhat unstructured one. From freshmen in a rigid study hall situation, they have gradually progressed to accepting the responsibilities of open campus. Perhaps the most remarkable change occurred in their attitudes and ideas. From naive freshmen, they have matured considerably and become aware and concerned. Seniors, in a year of looking back, can also look forward to their future with optimism.

Team, Individual Efforts Characterize

Team efforts were an important factor in the making of a successful 1976 girls and boys track season. Three impressive victories stand out from the girls' schedule, as they won both the Suburban Indoor and Outdoor meets, as well as taking first place at the first annual Suburban Relays. The Greater Milwaukee Relays and the Suburban Relays provided proving grounds for the boys, as they won the GMR and set records in the long jump and the high hurdles at the Suburbans. Jim Smallins was a double winner at the Suburban Indoor and Outdoor meets, winning the high and low hurdles at both, while Tim Paeschke set a new Suburban record of 14-4½ in the pole vault.

1. J. Smallins fights for the lead. 2. Following a successful pass from C. Mattsson, P. Eby is off and running. 3. R. Roseneck and C. O'Neil stretch before a meet. 4. His muscles bulging, P. Smith puts the shot. 5. C. Kraynick glides over the hurdles. 6. N. Sampter attempts to clear the bar. 7. The sequence of a pole vaulter: T. Paeschke reaches a new high.

Tennis, Golf Find Success, Disappoint

Led by Mike Kutchin and Dave Pelisek, the boys' Varsity tennis team had a traditional season, as it coasted to a 69-1 season record. As a result of defaults at the conference tournament, however, the favored Netmen had to settle for a third place. The J.V. ended the season with a 69-4 record.

The Varsity Golf team competed in four big tournaments, including the Waukesha Invitational, in which they placed third out of 27 teams. The Bay golfers tied for second in the conference and closed out their season with a third place at the Hartford Sectional.

Tennis, Track Hopes Upset At State

The boy's Varsity tennis team fell short of their goal of a second consecutive state title by one point this year, finishing second to Nicolet. Mike Kutchin, the defending state singles champ, was upset in the finals by Leif Shiras of Shorewood, after beating Nicolet's Gary Taxman in the semifinals for the first time in his high school career. The number one doubles tandem of John Larsen and Dave Pelisek was defeated by Nicolet in the semifinals, but they were able to gain third place in consolation. Coach Rieboldt, who ended his tennis coaching career after eleven years, commented, "It's been a great experience. I've learned more from the boys that they ever learned from me."

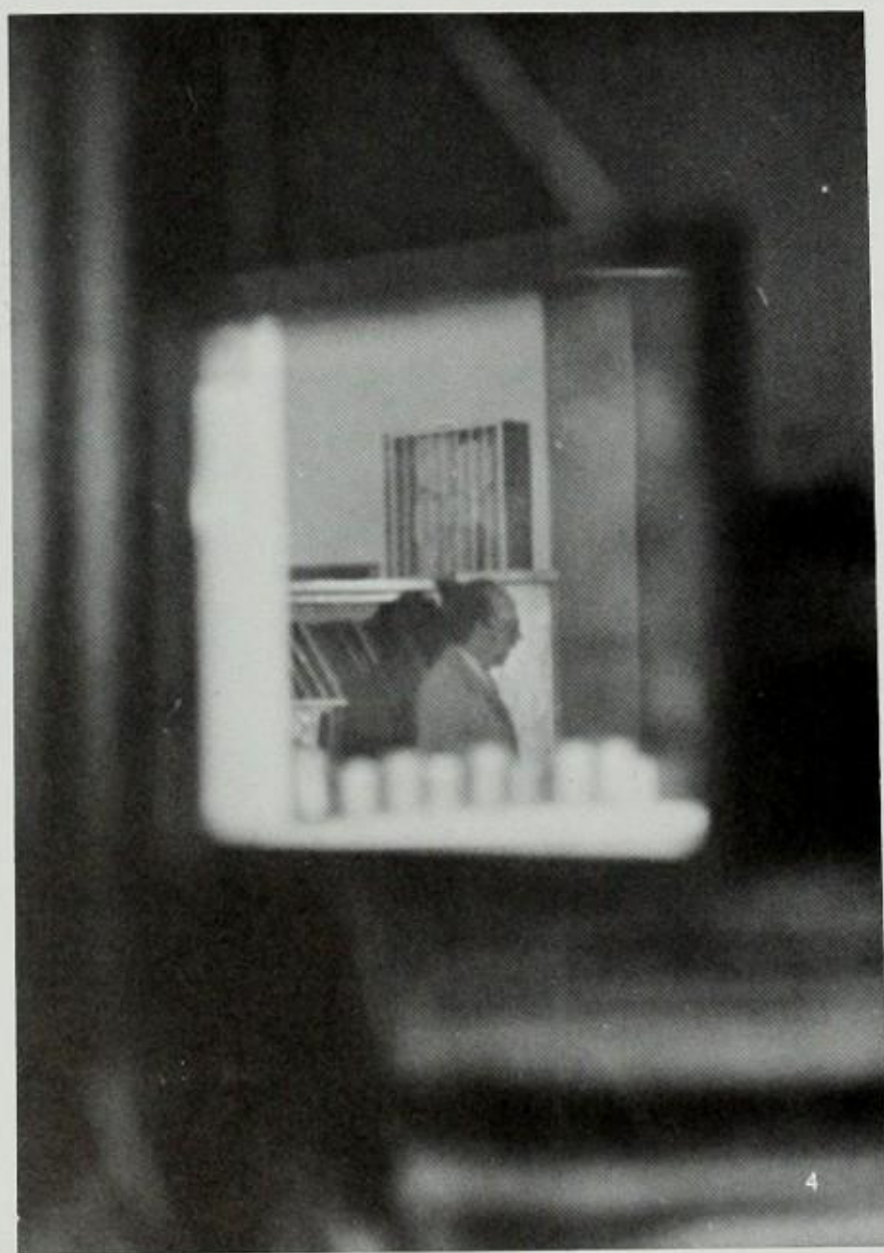

The girl's track team was able to muster up six points at the state meet as it got fifth place finishes from Annette Lathrop in the 440, Sue Lamp in the mile, and its mile relay. The boy's track team's state hopes were vanquished as its three qualifiers were unable to get through the preliminaries.

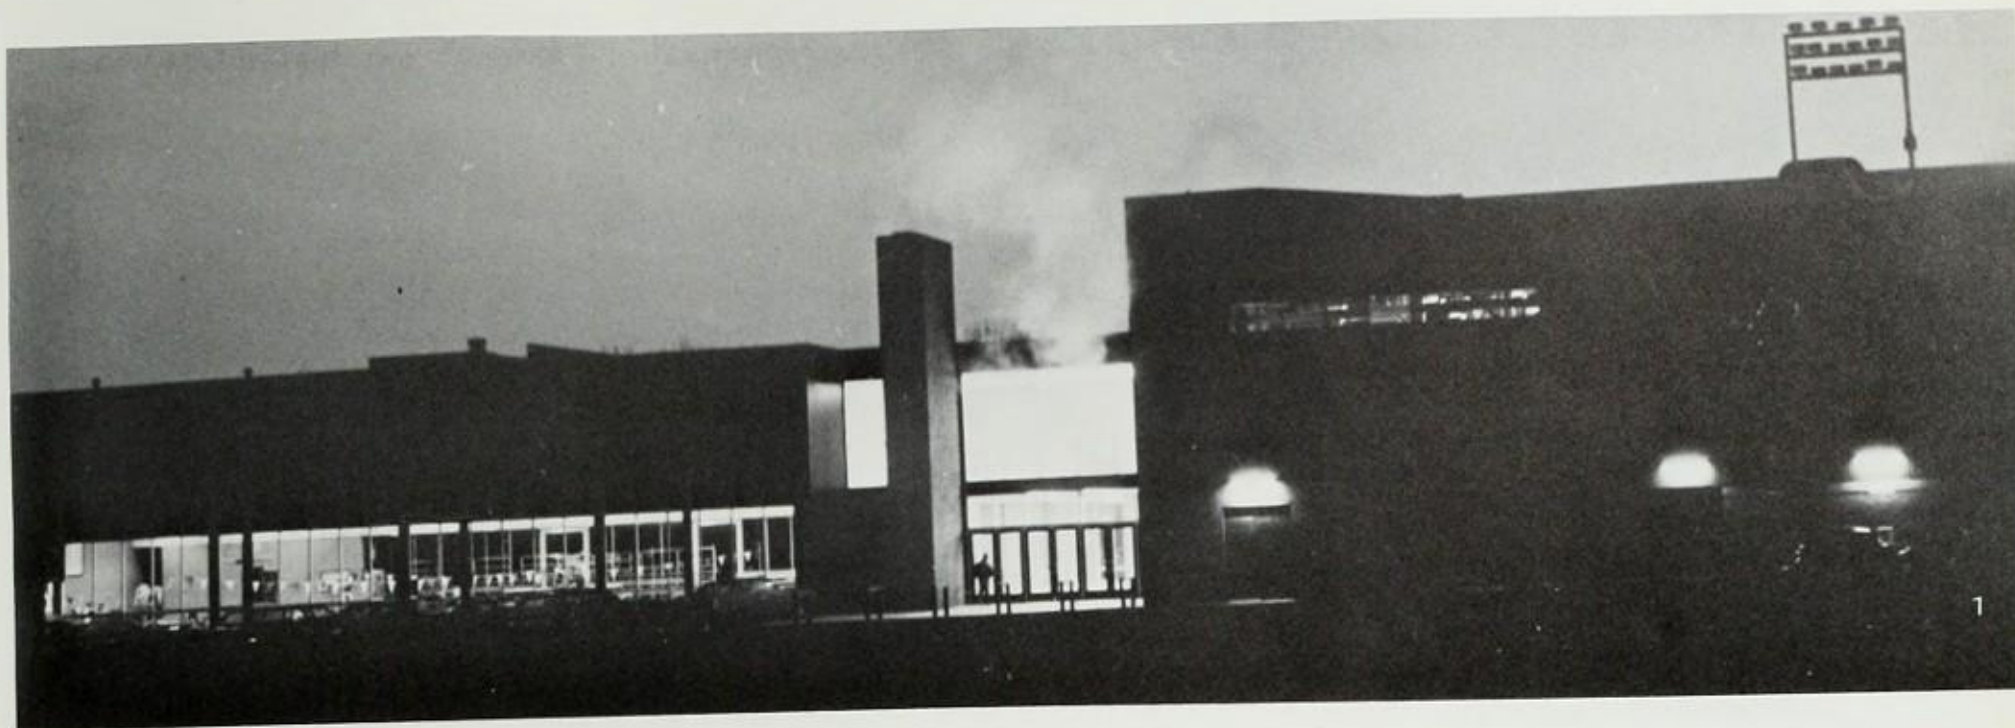

1. A. Lathrop races on to a fifth place finish in the 440. 2. S. Lamp receives the fifth place medal for the mile relay. 3. A half-time show at a track meet? 4. B. Class Advisers Guide Busy Students

Each class is watched over by their own "guardian angel". Through the help and advice of class advisers, the W.F.B. student body sponsors a multitude of fund raising events: bake sales, and marathons to mention a few.

1. Mr. Bromley was the new adviser this year for the class of '78. 2. Mr. Bleier smiles after all — he helped with prom last year! 3. The freshmen are confronted with yet another of Mr. Hiken's original money-making adventures. 4. Mr. Rambadt — the real brain behind the junior class.

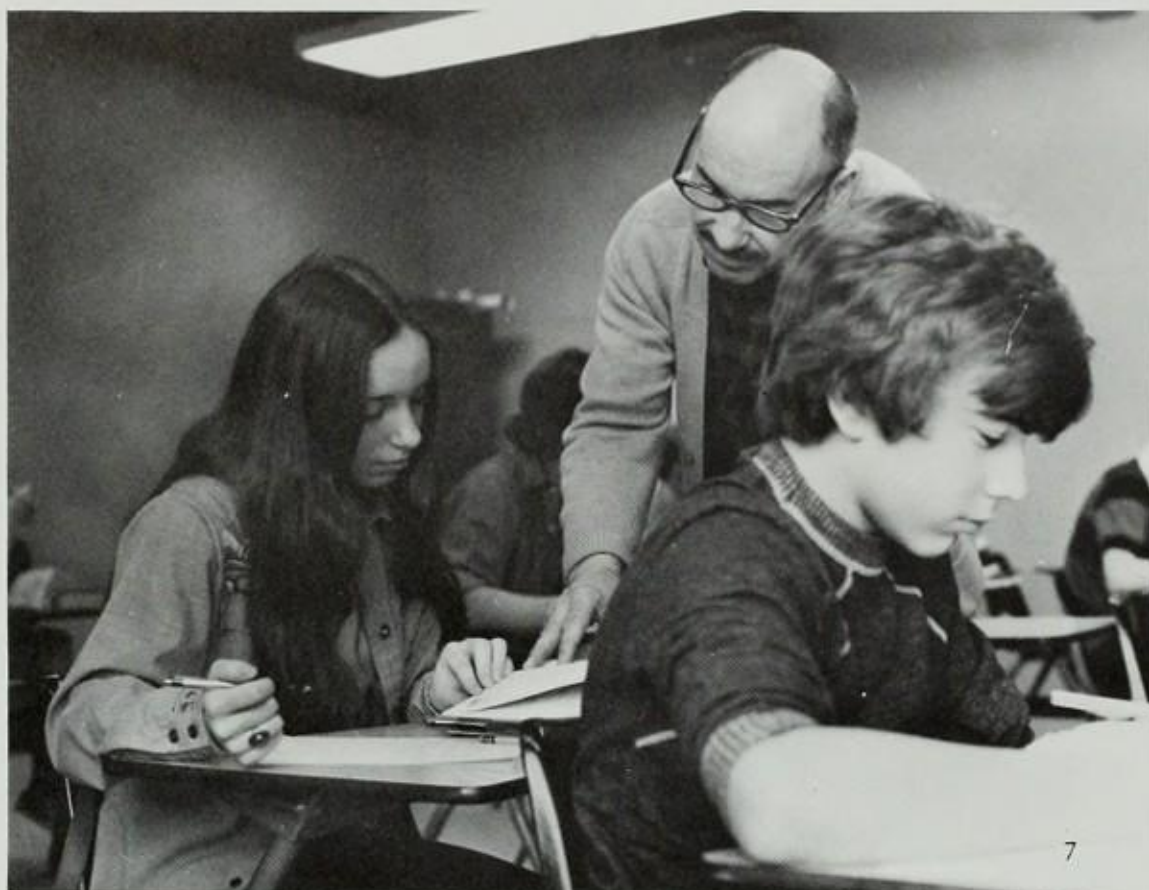

Spring Fever Hits Bay Faculty

The malady of "spring fever" manifested itself in many different ways this year. It was quite obvious that students weren't the only ones waiting for school to end.

1. As the weather mellowed, so did the faculty, and it was not uncommon to find a certain group of pedagogues engaging in a friendly game of chance. 2. Mrs. Kessler found that students seemed to be having some adverse effects on her behavior. 3. Love was in bloom for Mrs. Bernstein. 4. However, Mr. Gruehn just wanted everyone to return their books so that he could be "released."

An essential part of learning and being able to grasp fundamental concepts comes from the individual help teachers are willing to give to their students, in and outside of class.

For the faculty at W.F.B., teaching requires more than just getting the job done during their working hours, taking off during free hours and then leaving as soon as school lets out. For most teachers their job is not only following a text and explaining it to students, but spending many free hours encouraging and helping students in their work, and helping coach sports or advise other extra-curricular activities after school.

1. A little sewing tip. 2. Typing can be so difficult. 3. Math as explained by Mr. Byers. 4. If you want to keep a finger, do it this way. 5. Hi! 6. W.F.B.'s benevolent Mr. Rieboldt. 7. Now this pat is really fun.

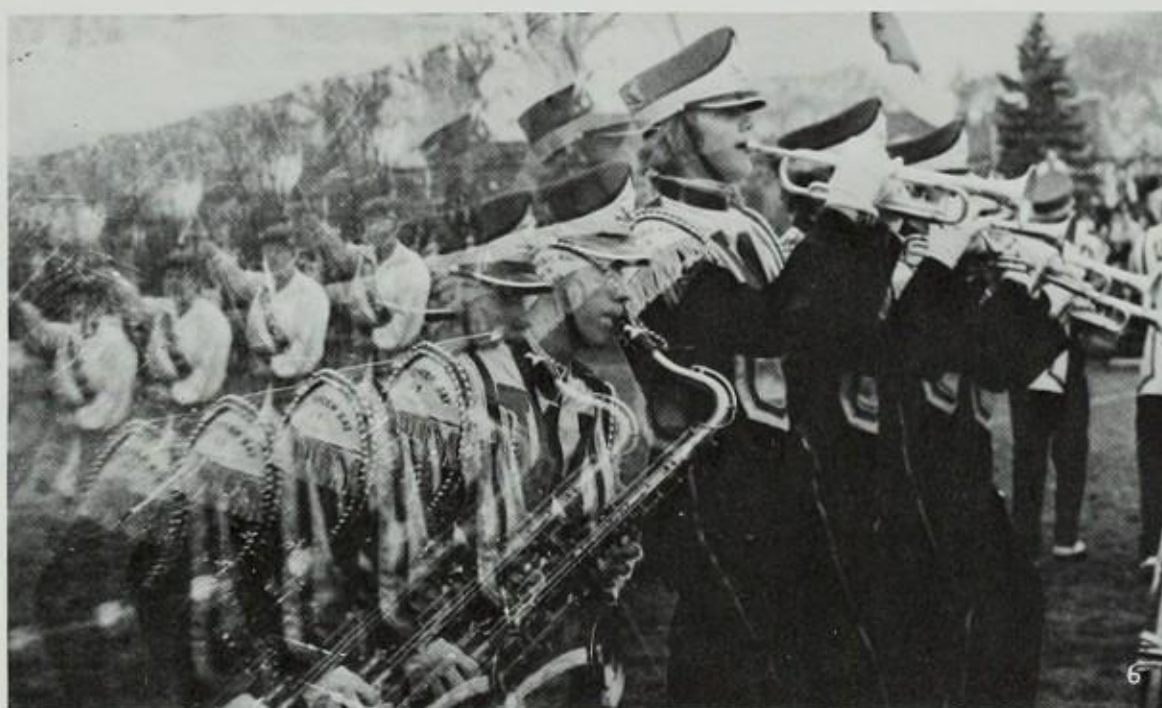

Band Sells Pizza, Candy, To Finance Florida Trip

The marching band continued to provide entertainment at home football games. The pep band supported the basketball team.

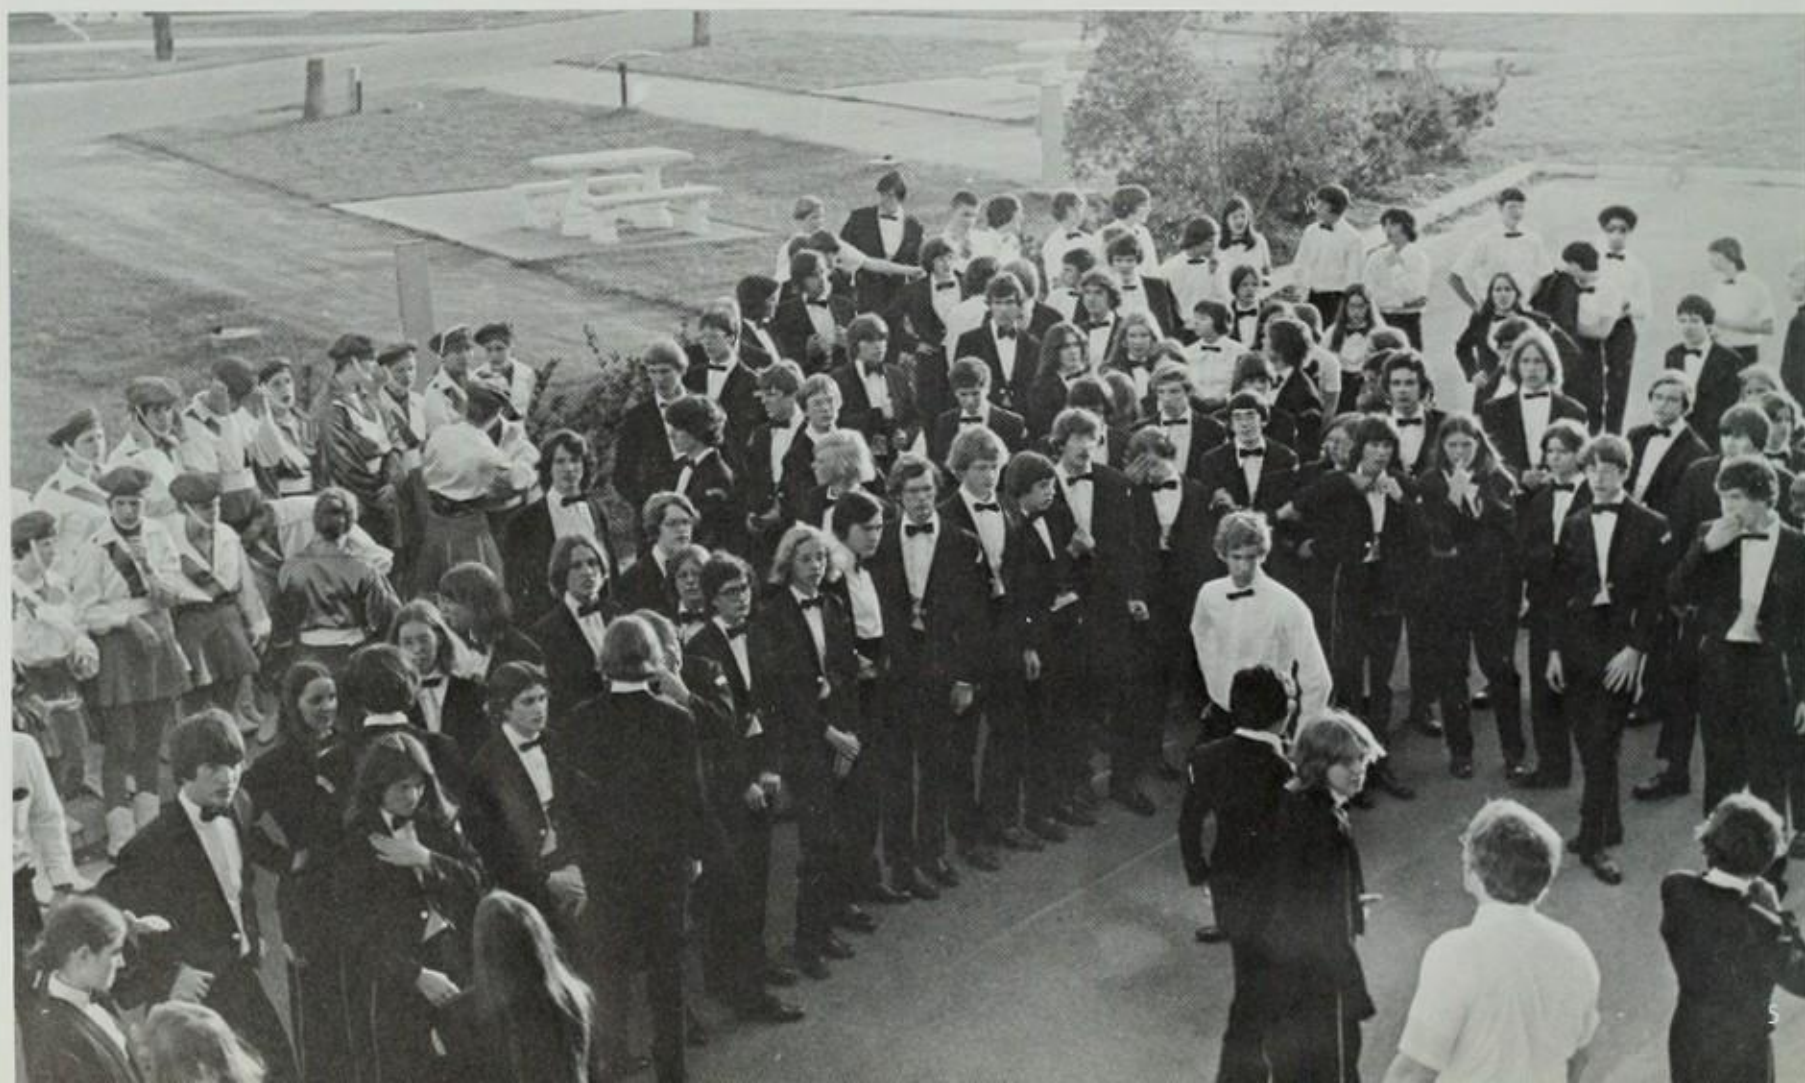

Highlighting the year, the Florida trip, paid in part by pizza and candy sales, was "the culmination of a year of hard work", as one band member said.

Programs included a Christmas concert, a March concert, and the Pops concert. At the state contest the band received highest ratings in both sight reading and concert pieces.

1. Color Guard leads the band during the Homecoming parade. 2. "It's hard to tell the depth of the well by the length of the handle on the pump" says Director Thompson. 3. The band performs at the Christmas concert. 4. Guest conductor Roger Pemberton demonstrates his skill on the sax. 5. In Florida the band marched at Disney World and played a concert in Orlando. 6. The many dimensions of the musician are caught.

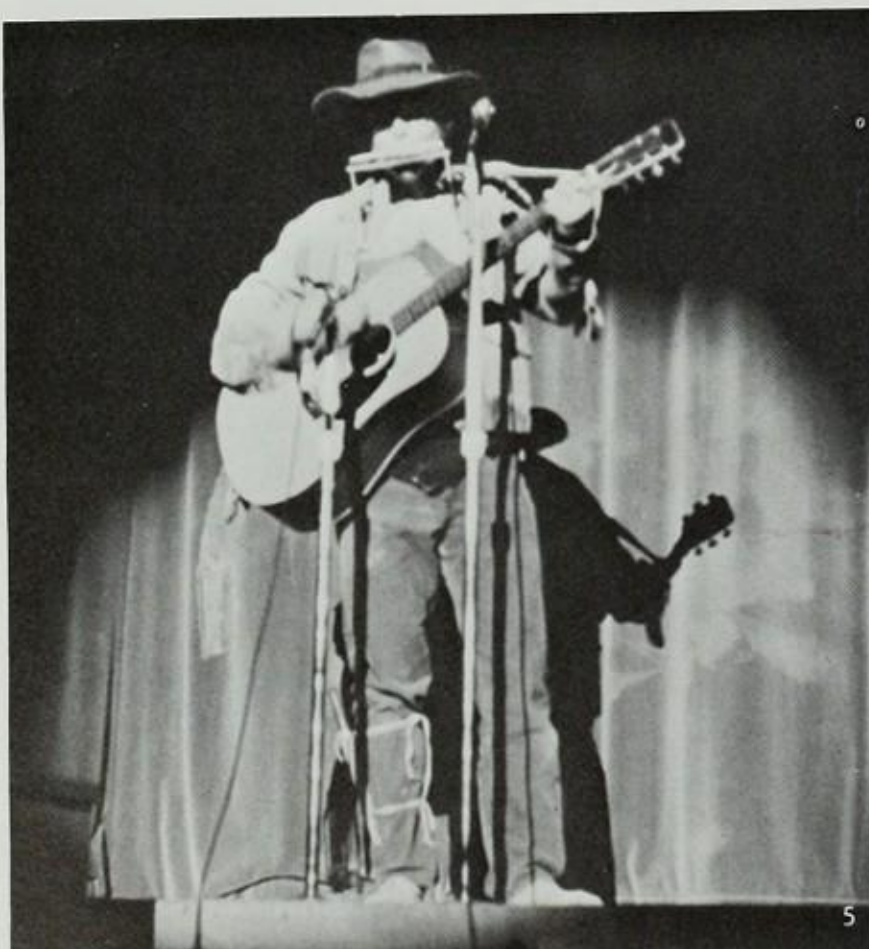

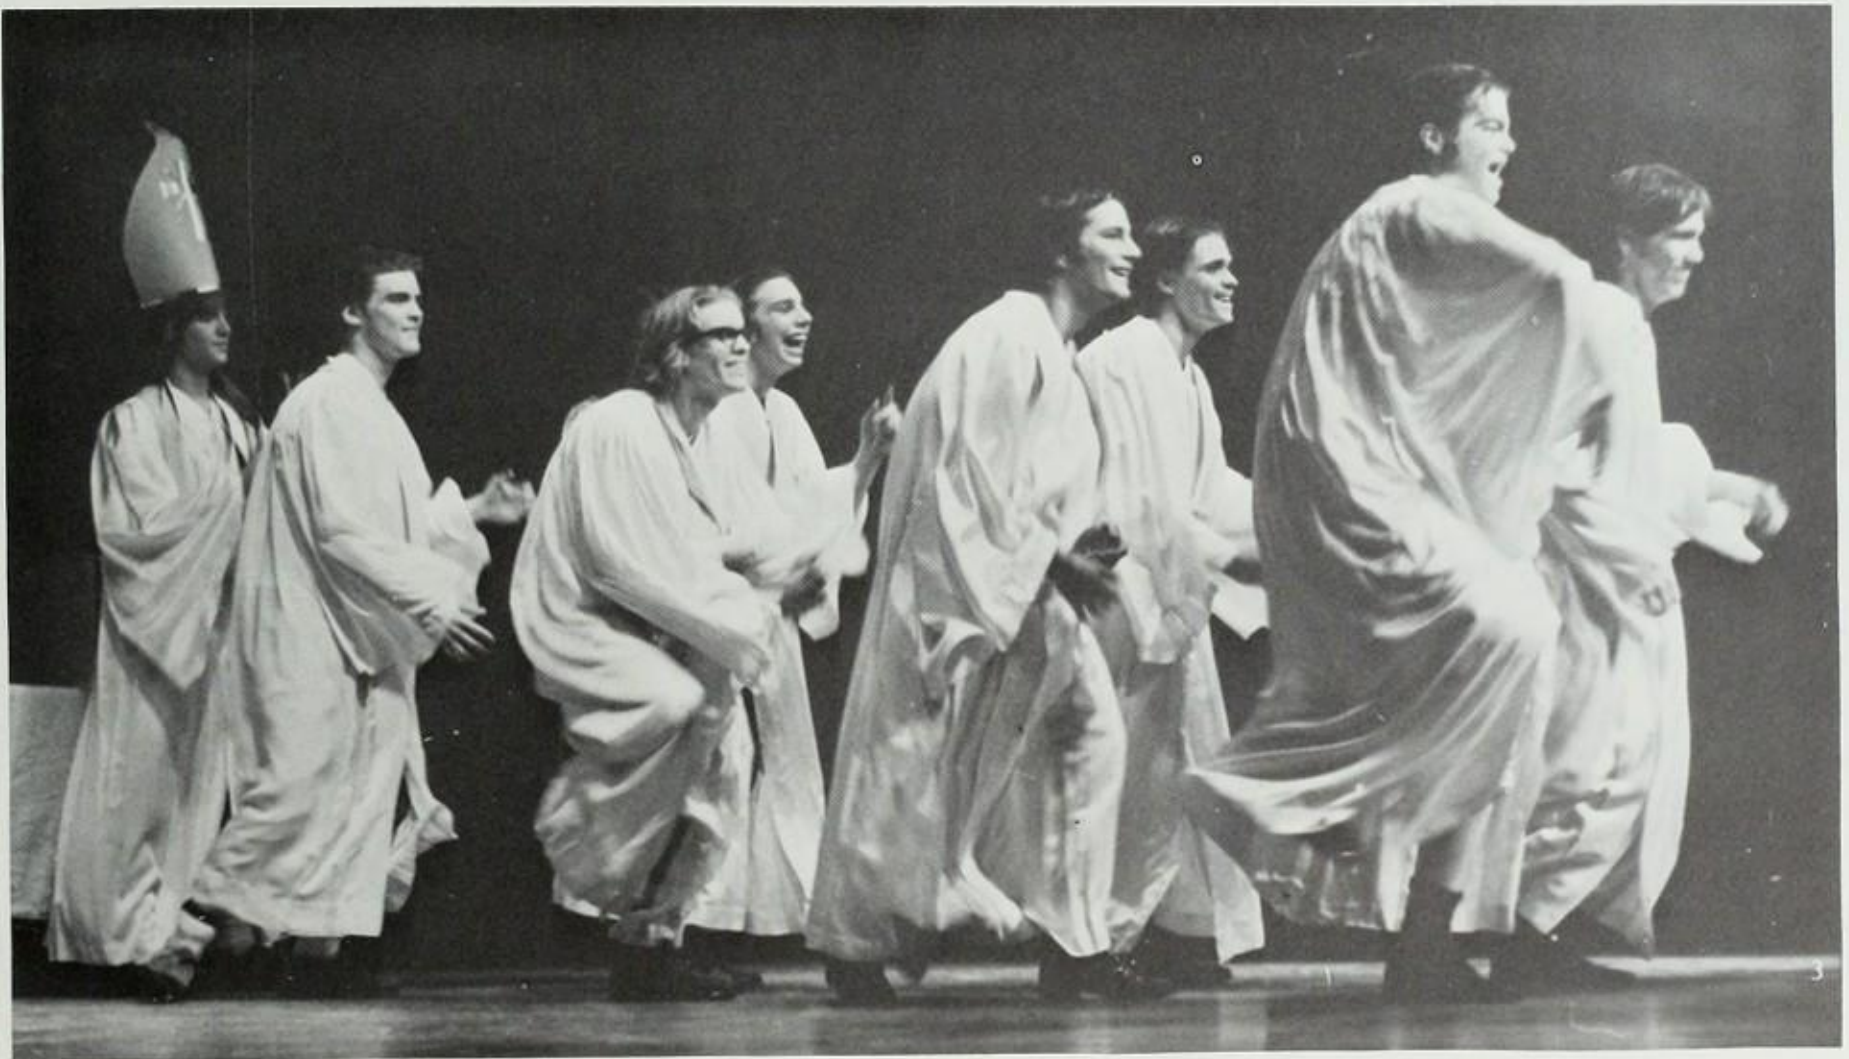

AFS Show Features Bicentennial Theme

"Spreading the Spirit of '76" was the theme of the A.F.S. show. The show is student-produced and performed and requires weeks of practice by both performers and stage crew. Several acts incorporated a Bicentennial idea. Including several dancers and musicians as well as comedians, the program brought about $3800 to A.F.S. club. Adviser of the club, Mrs. Kessler, said that it was "one of the best shows we've ever had". The show was directed by Mr. Laycock and the president of A.F.S. club and card girl E. Spira.

1. The four MacIvers perform to music by Manhattan Transfer. 2. J. Bowman-Bowie croons "Golden Years". 3. One of the comedy groups in "Musical Chairs". 4. S. Peck sings his version of the nation's song in "Rewriting the National Anthem". 5. "Who'll stop the Rain" plays S. Austin on harmonica and guitar. 6. Singing the A.F.S. song "Walk Together" are A. Anderson (Denmark), her American sister M. Lewis, I. Saad (Argentina), her American sister, L. Miller.

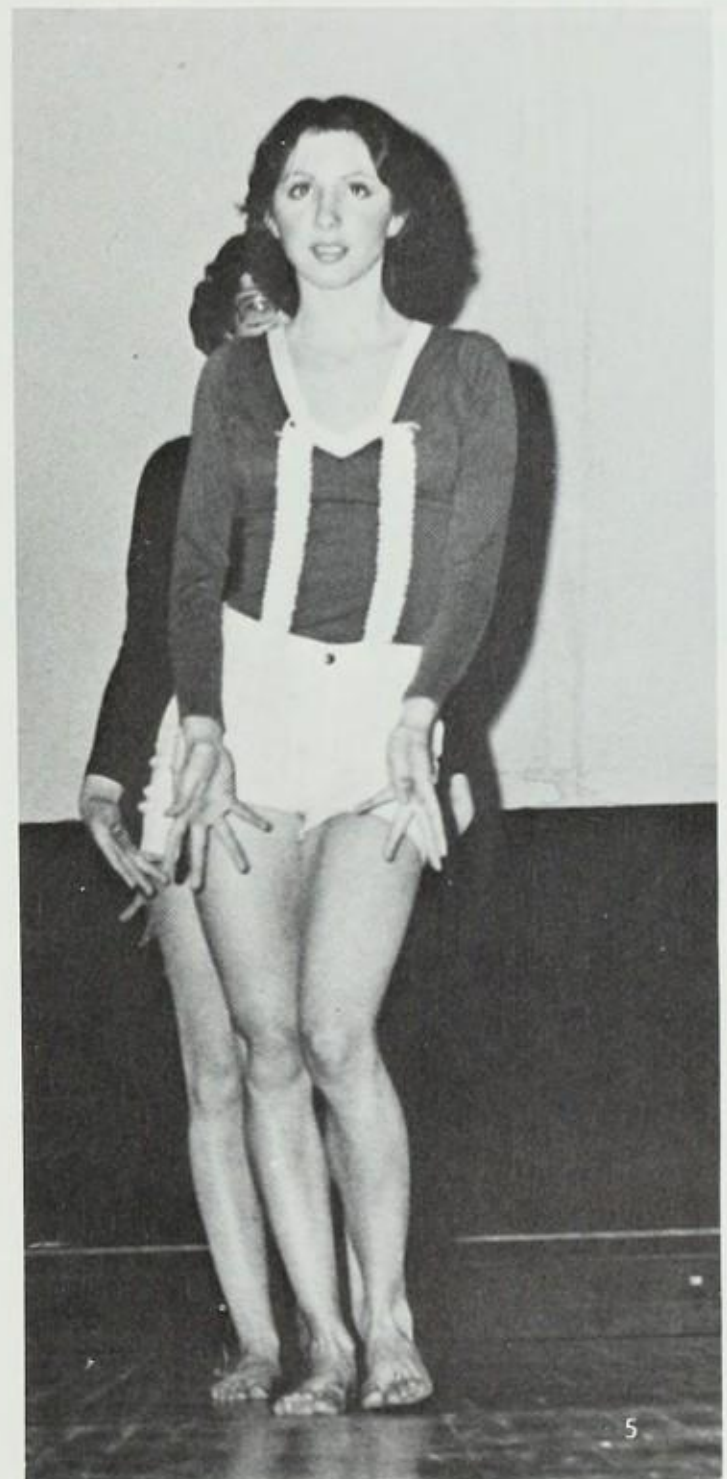

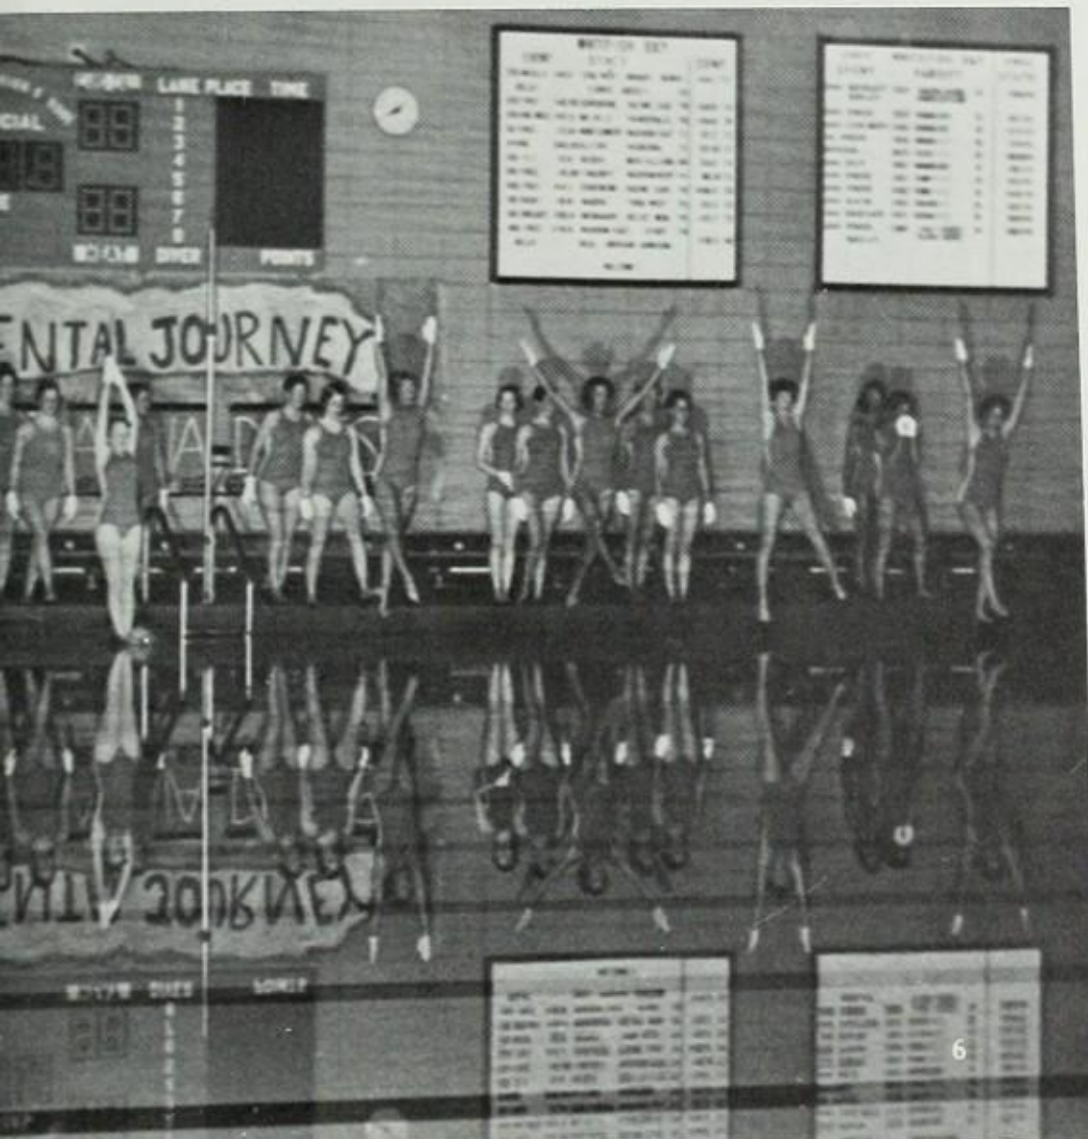

Water, Stage Provide Mediums For Dance

In the spring of the year Modern Dance and Water Ballet Clubs presented their shows. Directed by Mrs. Starks, Modern Dance used "Dancing Machine" as its theme. Under the guidance of Mrs. Hansen, Water Ballet presented "Sentimental Journey", a trip through American music. This year marks Mrs. Hansen's last as adviser to Water Ballet. Both clubs arranged numbers for the seniors.

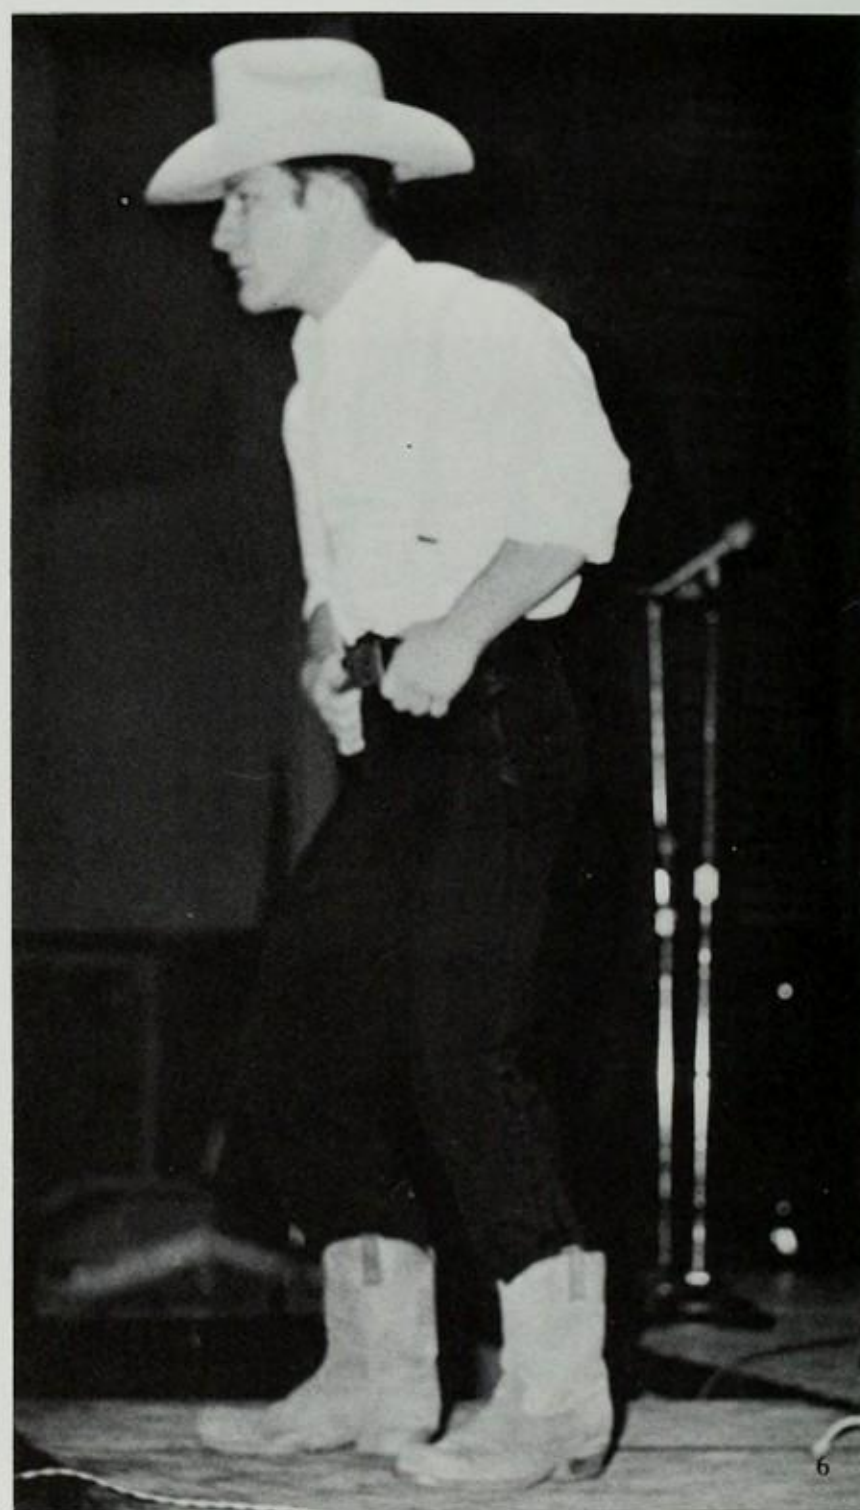

1. S. Kalupa demonstrates the water ballet leg in her solo. 2. Aquadukes wave to the audience. 3. "Even when the bird walks one feels that it has wings." (Lemierre) 4. Water Ballet salutes the Bicentennial. 5. President of the Modern Dance Club, S. Miller dances on "the wild side". 6. Aquadukes prepare to take off on their "Sentimental Journey." 7. The entire group assembles the "Dancing Machine".

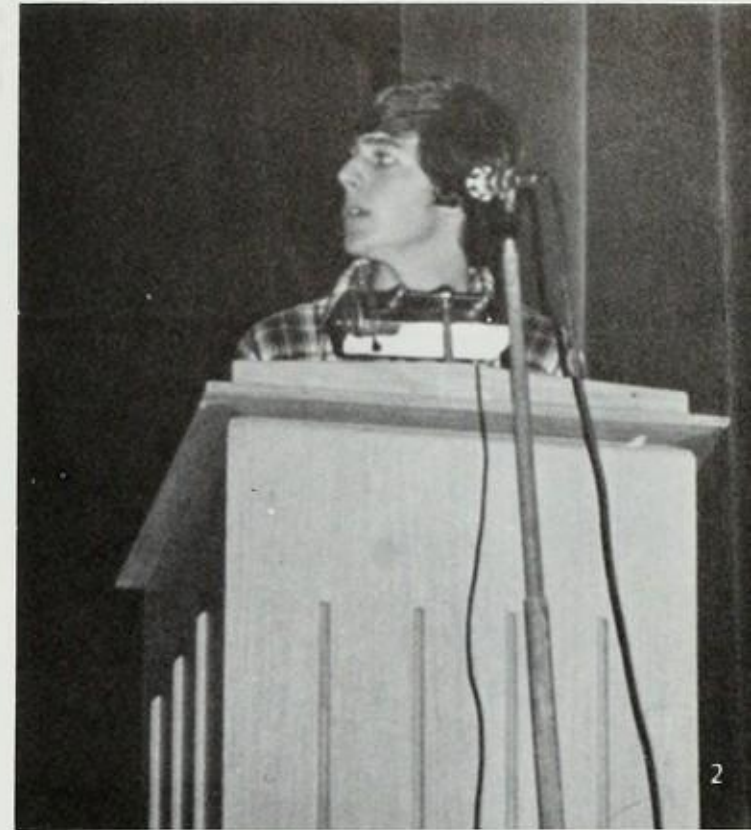

American Music, Poetry Accent Assemblies

This year's assemblies featured music and dramatics. Early in the year a film about rock music was shown by the local radio station WNUW. The history of American music presented by the Air Force Academy Cadet Choir provided a Bicentennial note. Roger Steffens returned this year to give dramatic readings of poetry that he had collected around the country. The U.S. Army Jazz band closed the year in May with a concert.

1. Jon Bass successfully presents his views at the student council assembly. 2. A.F.S.er B. Burden describes Germany. 3-5. Roger Steffens at work — "O, pardon me, thou bleeding piece of earth ..." (Julius Caesar) 6. A member of the Air Force Academy Cadet Choir presents the "Old West" segment of American history. 7. A.F.S.ers Indiana and Anetta wait to speak at an A.F.S. assembly. 8. Mr. Laycock sits in one of his rare moments as audience. 9. The Air Force Academy Cadet Choir.

Interest Clubs Enrich Students Involved.

Part of the school scene are clubs whose purposes are to provide students with opportunities to pursue specific interests. These clubs, A.F.S. Club, Electronics Club, Drama Club, Stage Crew, and Rifle Club involve many people in many different ways.

This year there were two major changes in the interest clubs. Beginning its first full year under new adviser Mr. Rambadt, the Rifle Club returned to Bay. The Electronics club was formed with Mr. Bromley as adviser. Although the other clubs did not change, there was a turnover in participants. These members, who came in ready to try and to learn, left filled with new ideas and views. Their experiences were important because the members may become involved in similar situations later in their lives. All in all, these clubs were invaluable to the people involved.

1. Ham operator, # 7979002. 2. Students enjoy the sloppy joe lunch that was sponsored by Drama Club. 3. "And I joined stage crew to do this?" 4. M. Whittle takes careful aim. 5. A. Anderson and Mrs. Kessler enjoy an

A.F.S. dessert hour. 6. Supporters of Drama Club dress up during 20's week. 7. An electronics club member adjusts the oscilloscope. 8. W. Watson applies K. McDonough's make-up.

Council Sponsors Worthwhile Activities

Of all the activities that a student may join, Student and Youth Councils are the only ones to which he must be elected by his peers.

The Youth Council sponsored many money making events; one of these was the Y.C. Carnival. The clubs participating along with Y.C. earned money. Another event was a concert featuring the popular jazz band, Sweetbottom.

The Student Council also held worthwhile events, including a series of forums spotlighting the School Board candidates. The charity that S.C. sponsored during Charity Week was changed this year; each day during the week of May 10 a class raised money for Special Olympics.

Student and Youth Councils' years ended on a traditional note with the election, during May, of representatives for the following year.

1. Sophomores take a break during their twenty hour volleyball marathon. 2. Marty and Warren, members of Sweetbottom, get into their concert. 3. Candidates for S.C. president address the student body. 4. School Board candidates also spoke at a student forum. 5. A. Hawkins goes under again. 6. M. Brennan aims carefully in hopes of winning a prize.

Juniors Create An Evening To Remember

The junior class held its prom at the P.A.C. in the beautiful Bradley Pavillion for the fourth consecutive year. Prom began with the presentation of the court, ollowed by the Grand March. Afterwards Tommy Sheridan and his band played until dinner and then after dinner until the end of the evening. It was truly a memorable night for all the couples involved.

1. W. Reichert has his own interpretation of formal. 2. Prom Court 1976: S. Rosen, D. Burgess; C. Ross, S. Ulik; A. Sheyer, S. Dunn; P. Piekenbrock, J. Harrigan; Queen T. Castillo, King D. Pelisek; M. Plaisted, D. Beightol; T. Hodgins, T. Stuibier; P. Hardacre, B. Courtney; S. Hodgson, S. Paschen; E. Ebert, M. Reckmeyer; S. Rather, D. Delforge. 3. Couples promenade past the fountain. 9. Promgoers dance far into the night.

Juniors Initiate, Participate, Graduate

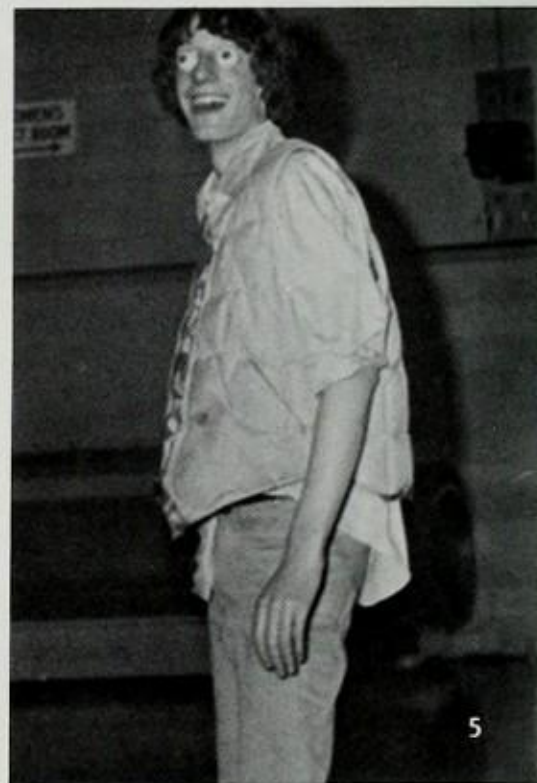

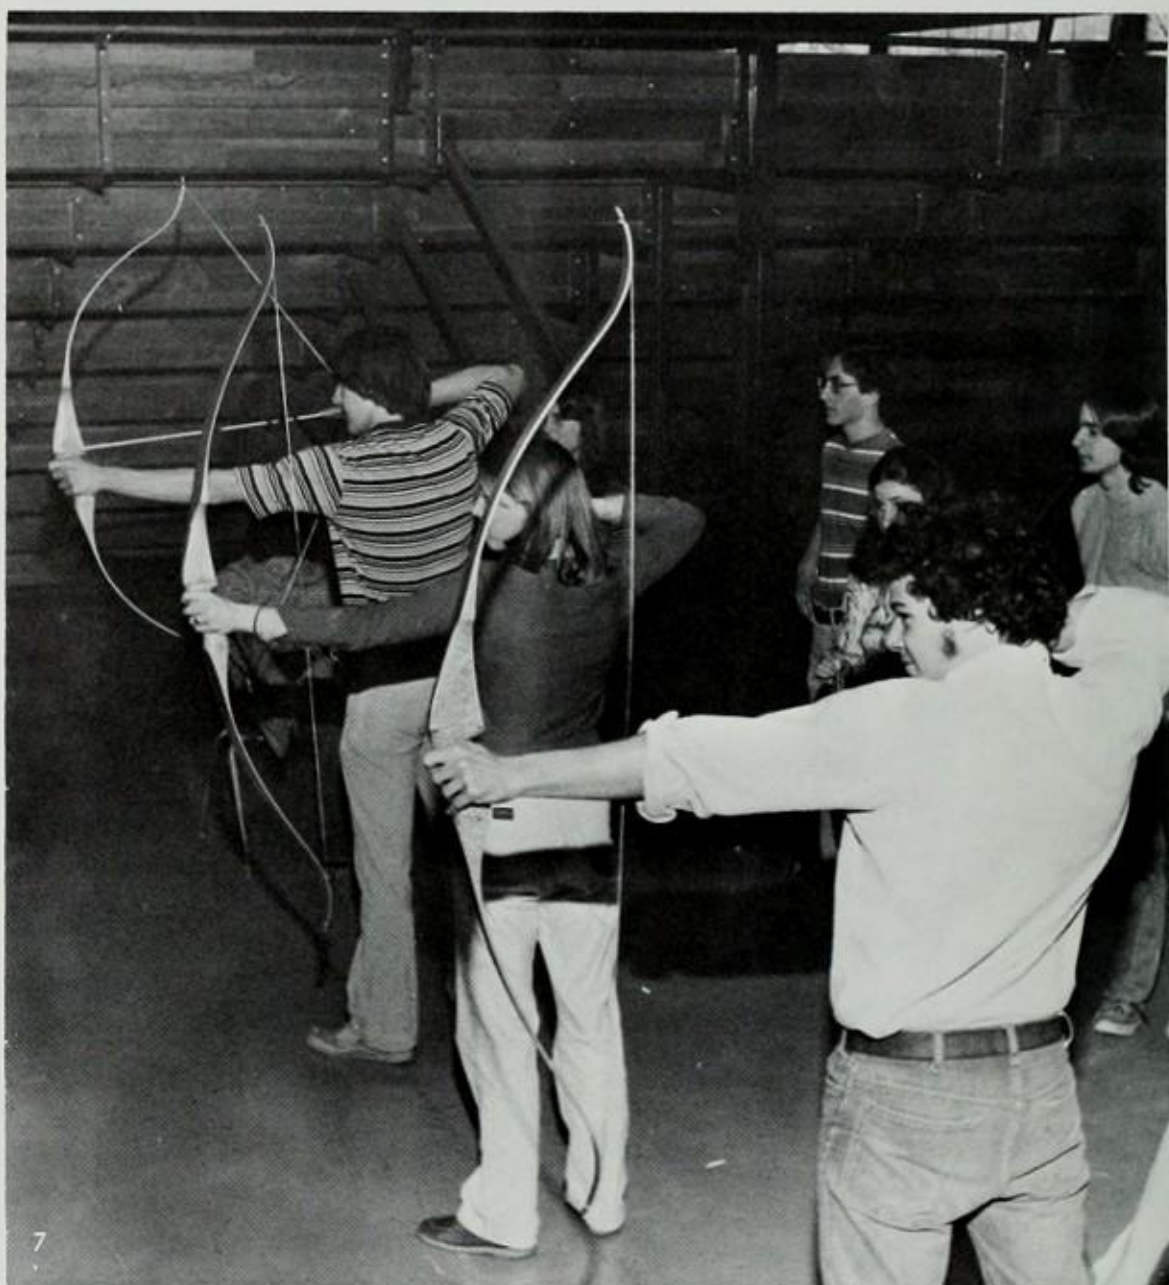

Throughout the year the Junior class worked together as a close-knit group. They initiated the first hot dog lunch, also holding numerous bake sales. In honor of Valentine's Day, elections were held for King and Queen of Hearts, with T. Head and L. Ebert winning. A bagel sale raised money for Special Olympics during Charity Week.

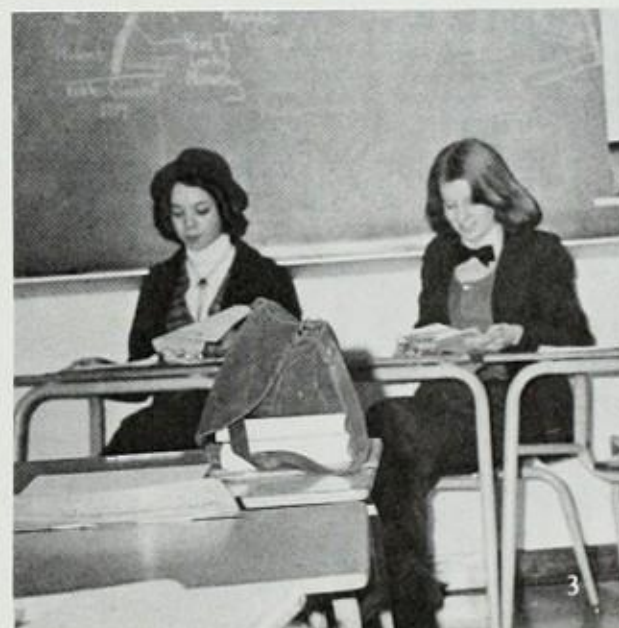

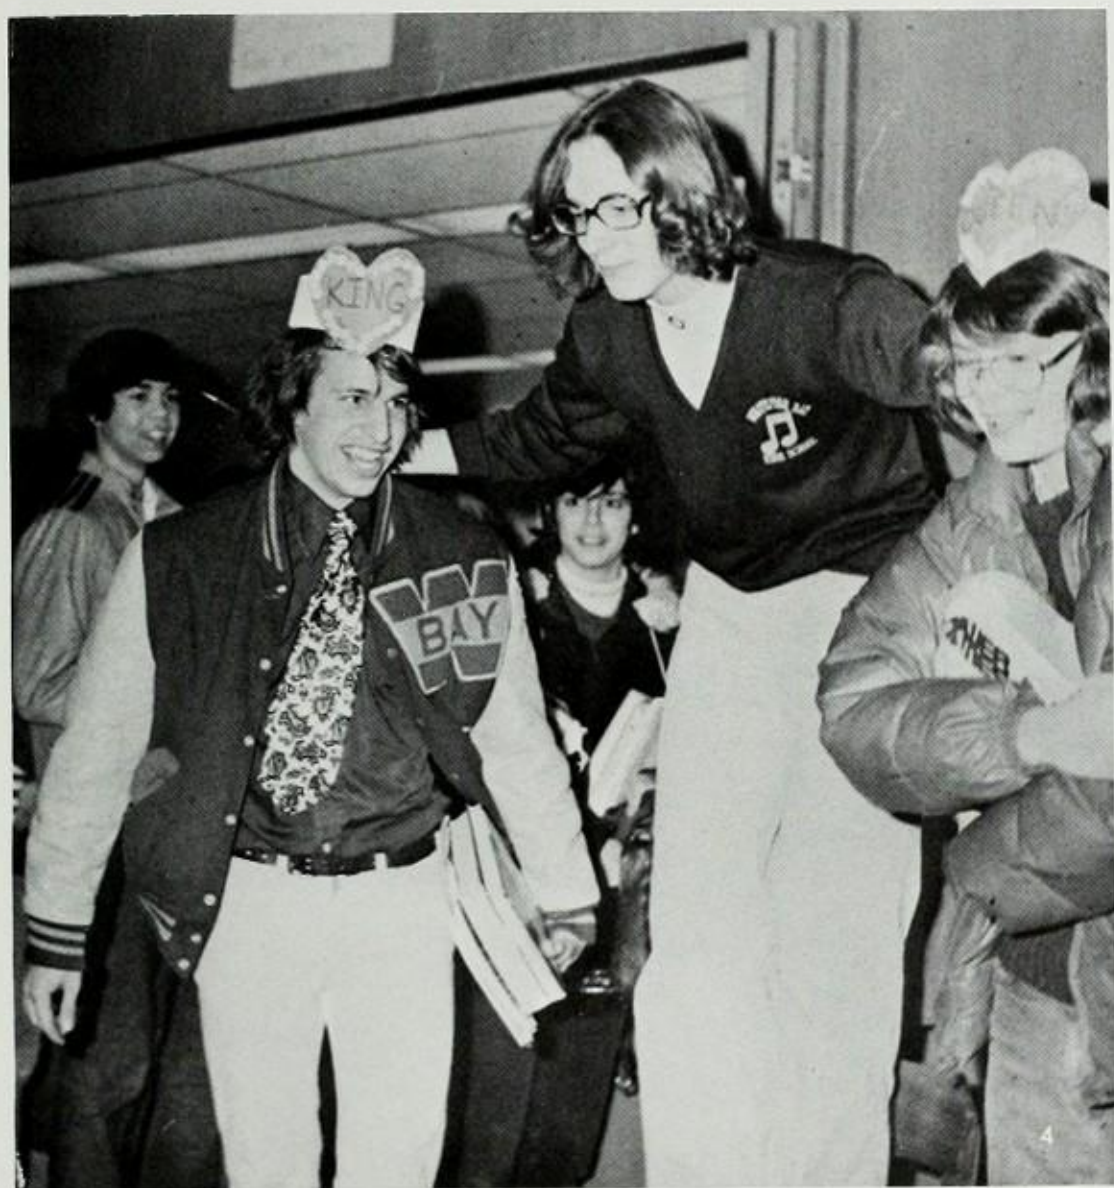

Prom was the major event of the year for the class of '77. Three hundred and eighty-eight people attended.

Caesar Flores decide to graduate early.

Mr. Erickson was the Junior class Advisor,; L. Ebert was President, D. Burgess Vice-President, and T. Hodgins secretary.

1. Four Junior girls work on their required year of English. 2. S. Rather listens attentively to a class meeting as another finds more important things to do. 3. M. Shecterle and K. Elsesser dress up for history class. 4. T. Head and A. Dunning are crowned King and Queen of Hearts by class president L. Ebert. 4. 5. M. Lehner has a eye opening experience. 6. Bake sales helped to boost the class treasury. 7. This year it became a requirement to carry one semester of gym either in the junior or senior year.

Six Teachers Conclude Careers At Bay

At the close of a school year, transition is reflected in the retirements, resignations, and reassignments of staff personnel. June, 1976 marked the close of Whitefish Bay High School careers for six faculty members: Mr. Rietz, Mrs. Schoenbaum, Mr. Fairweather, Miss Christoph, Mr. Nies, and Miss Berna.

A.E. (Bert) Rietz concluded a 37-year tenure here that ranged from coaching, and classroom to coordinating the IMC. Mr. Rietz created, built, and has successfully run the media center since its inception. He leaves to apply his considerable talents to other areas of work and play (golf, for example.) He notes that Bay teachers' freedom to express themselves is the one thing that has made the school outstanding.

Mrs. Helen Schoenbaum, after 14 years of teaching Spanish, ("loving every minute, and enjoying working with students"), feels that it is time to do things other than teaching, and so she will be engaged in home, garden, and service projects in her future.

Mr. Jack Fairweather, having taught art here for nine years, returns again to Cumberland School owing to dropping art enrollments at the high school. While here, he developed the art advance placement program and a beautification committee. He feels that his accomplishment has been encouraging students to go into art.

Miss Peggy Christopher of the home ec department, after two years here, is switching kitchens — one for two, in fact. Not only do her plans include teaching high school next year in Bonduel, Wisconsin, but they also involve getting married this summer. She'll then have two places to practice her expertise in foods, clothing, and furnishings. Best wishes in both new careers!

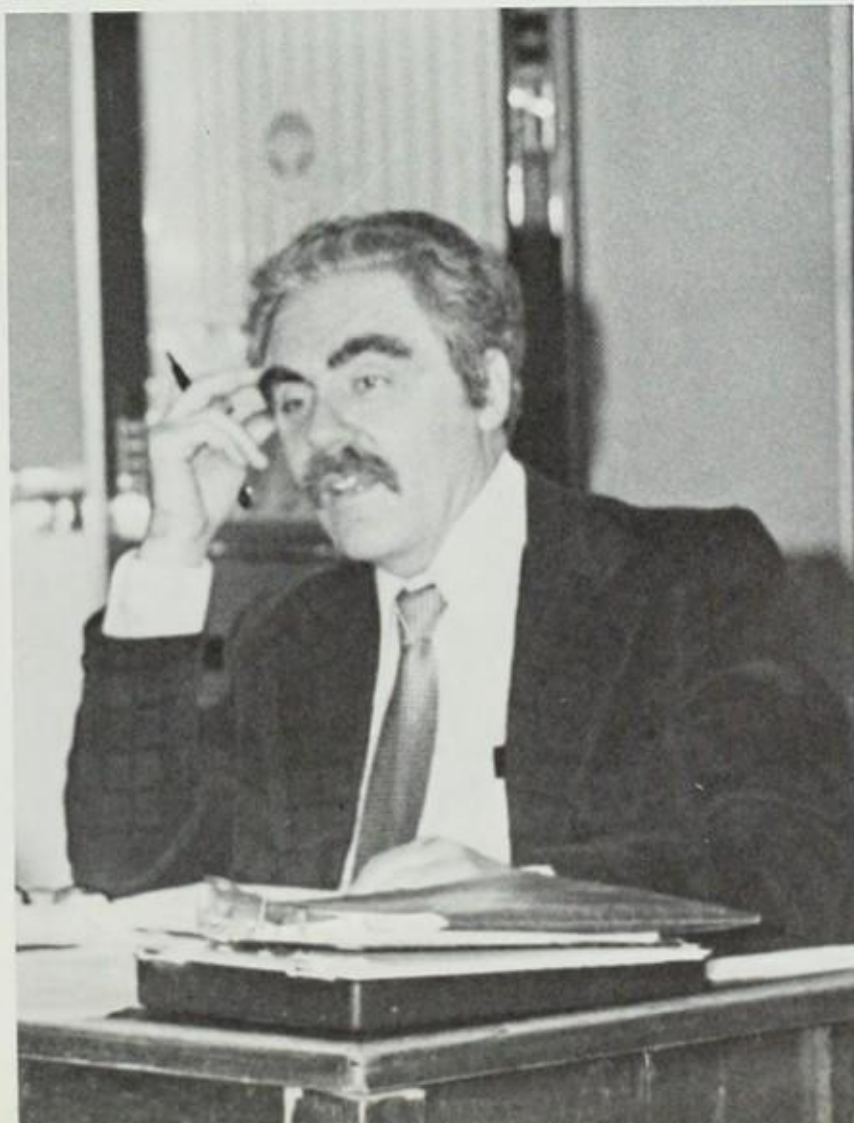

Mr. Robert Nies completes his two years of teaching Algebra and Earth Science believing he has gained experience through working with excellent teachers, and planning to return to Madison (his favorite city) this summer for a refresher course in German. This will be followed by a European tour next year, Germany and England mainly, in which he hopes to get to know the people. He will be looking for a teaching job over there. "Gut fahrt!"

Miss Jennifer Berna has spent the last two years teaching physical education and coaching girls athletic teams. These past two years "have been very demanding and challenging," she states. Miss Berna is not planning to leave Milwaukee, and will either teach here or pursue graduate education credits.

These six departing faculty members, while their years here and their areas of service are different, receive alike the school's best wishes for their futures.

Bay's Senior Class Of 1976 Makes Spirited Departure

The Class of '76 projected its spirit throughout the many activities they participated in. There was certainly much spirit evidenced in the library prank, as well as in the prank on Jeff Weiland as he was surprised on his 18th birthday. Ted Heine showed spirit in his after-school job of cleaning up. Spirit was seen in senior classes, such as in Mr. Bromley's physics classes during experiments. Brian Burden, the class president, was a spirited class leader. Much spirit was shown in extra-curricular activities, ... observe John Bowman practicing for band, and Mike Mishlove and Tim Dittrich displaying their medieval attire. The enthusiasm of the "Section G" rowdies was legendary. Finally Todd Allen, John Bowman, Hoyt Brown, Eric Rogers, and Ricky Strawn show that their youthful enthusiasm of their freshmen year has continued.

Commencement of '76 Highlighted by Slides

Graduation night '76 featured a dialogue by Mike Mishlove and Tim Dittrich, followed by Laurie Trimble's talk, "Love Is the Answer." After the presentation of the Class of '76, School Board President Phyllis Ernest conferred the diplomas. The highlight of the evening was a scored slide show entitled "Four Years in Retrospect," which featured at least one candid picture of each member of the senior class.

THIS YEAR TOM THOMPSON WILL DO SOMETHING REVOLUTIONARY.

He'll serve in the Army Reserve.

For 16 hours each month, and for two full weeks during the year, Tom Thompson will be doing something American citizens have been doing for over 200 years.

He'll be a soldier.

A part-time soldier, to be sure. But a soldier with the concerns of a full-time citizen about his country, his community, his family.

In exchange for this measure of Tom Thompson's sweat, spirit, mind and time, the Army Reserve will give him several things: among them, a skill and a second income.

But it will also give him something that has been the citizen soldier's real pay ever since the Revolution. It's called pride.

THE ARMY RESERVE. JOIN IN '76.

Stretch & Sew classes for teens.

If we had to define Stretch & Sew in one word it would be fun. It also means quick, simple, economical, flattering, and fashionable ways to sew with knits. That's what Stretch & Sew is all about.

New classes are starting all the time. And classes are small for more personal attention. Get sewing with knits with Stretch & Sew.

We helped start the knit sewing revolution.

1976 TOWER Concludes On Reflective Note:

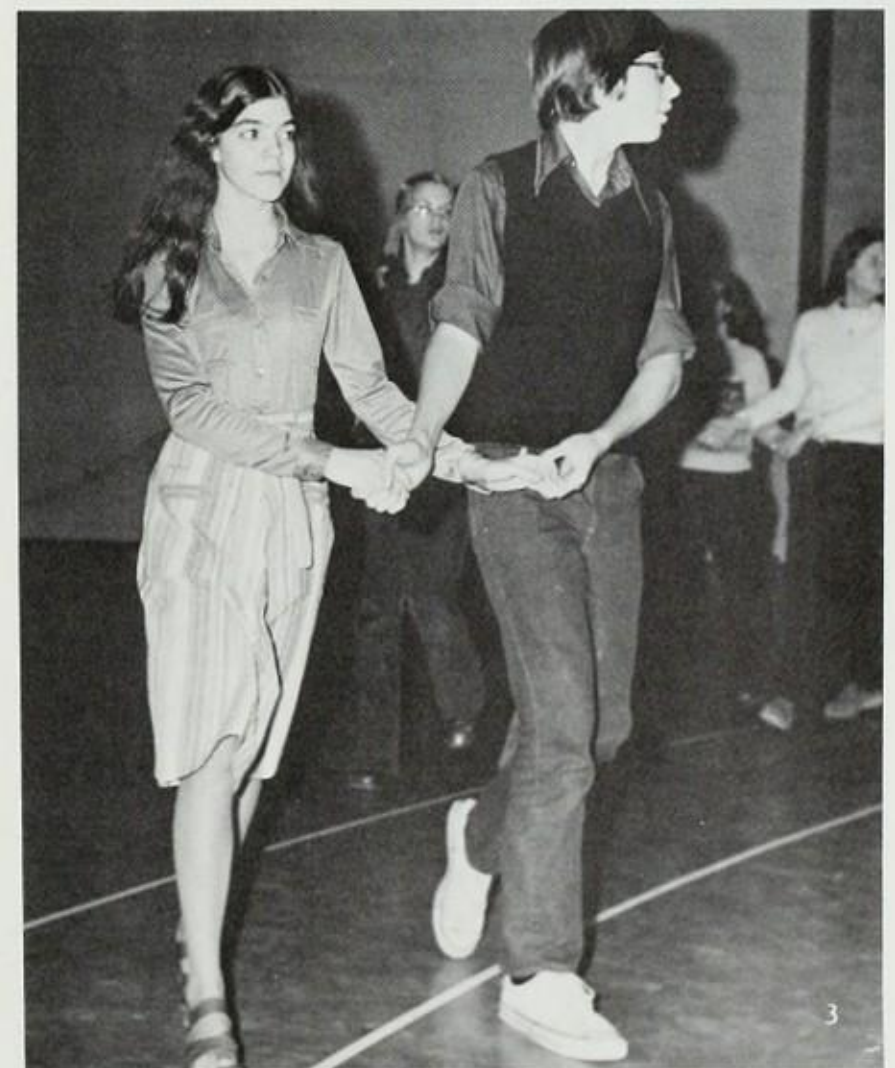

It is said that "those who forget the past are doomed to repeat it." The past is important, but so is the pathway from the past to the present — transition. Those who fail to recognize transition fail to benefit from it.

As the 1976 TOWER demonstrates, transition is apparent on many different levels within the school. Daily, weekly, quarterly, and even throughout the semester, certain transitions are clear: strangers become friends, loads change, grades improve (or . . .), patterns emerge. These are important, but step back from the trees and look at the forest. From the beginning of the year to the end; from freshman to senior — here the transition is greatest. One faculty member once commented, "as a rule, seniors reflect attitudes commensurate with their pre-collegiate status."

The picture content (as well as the arrangement) on this and the preceding spread are not accidents. To the very end, the '76 TOWER reflects transition. Fail not to recognize it, lest you fail to benefit from it.

TOWER Editor Extends Thanks

This is the conclusion to our conclusion. The editor extends heartfelt thanks to the following:

— to those members of the staff who gave of themselves in order to faithfully and excitingly record 1976;

— to Jim Krier, Gary Johnson, and Tom Corcoran for the donation of their photographic talents;

— to Mr. Don Rambadt, for his invaluable assistance in the preparation of the Introduction; — to the maintenance staff, who put up with our odd hours;

— to Photography by Cilento, whose photographic services we can't do without;

— to Mr. Ken Whittemore, American Yearbook Co. representative and always-available counselor;

— to Mr. Paul Fehlhaber, who provided an experience to remember.
